

A black and white photograph of a log cabin birthplace. The cabin is a two-story structure made of horizontal log sections, with a gabled roof and a chimney on the left side. It has a white door and two windows. A chain-link fence runs along the front of the cabin. In the foreground, there is a stone wall and a dirt road. To the left, a sign on a wooden post reads "BIRTHPLACE CORDELL HULL". A large tree is visible in the background on the left.
