

#1

Clubhouse exterior
Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., WA

Photo by Cy Happy, June 1996

neg w/ Hunt Club

Camera pointing north

#2

Clubhouse interior
Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., WA

Photo by Cy Happy, June 1996
neg w/ Hunt Club

Camera pointing west

#3

"Front yard" - prairie of Ft. Lewis
Woodbrook Hunt Club
Pierce Co., WA
Photo by Cy Happy, June 1996
neg w/ Hunt Club
Camera pointing south

#4

Approach - Kennel at night
Woodbrook Hunt Club
Pierce Co., Washington
Photo by Cy Happy, June 1996
neg w/ Hunt Club
Camera pointing southwesterly

#5

Kennel

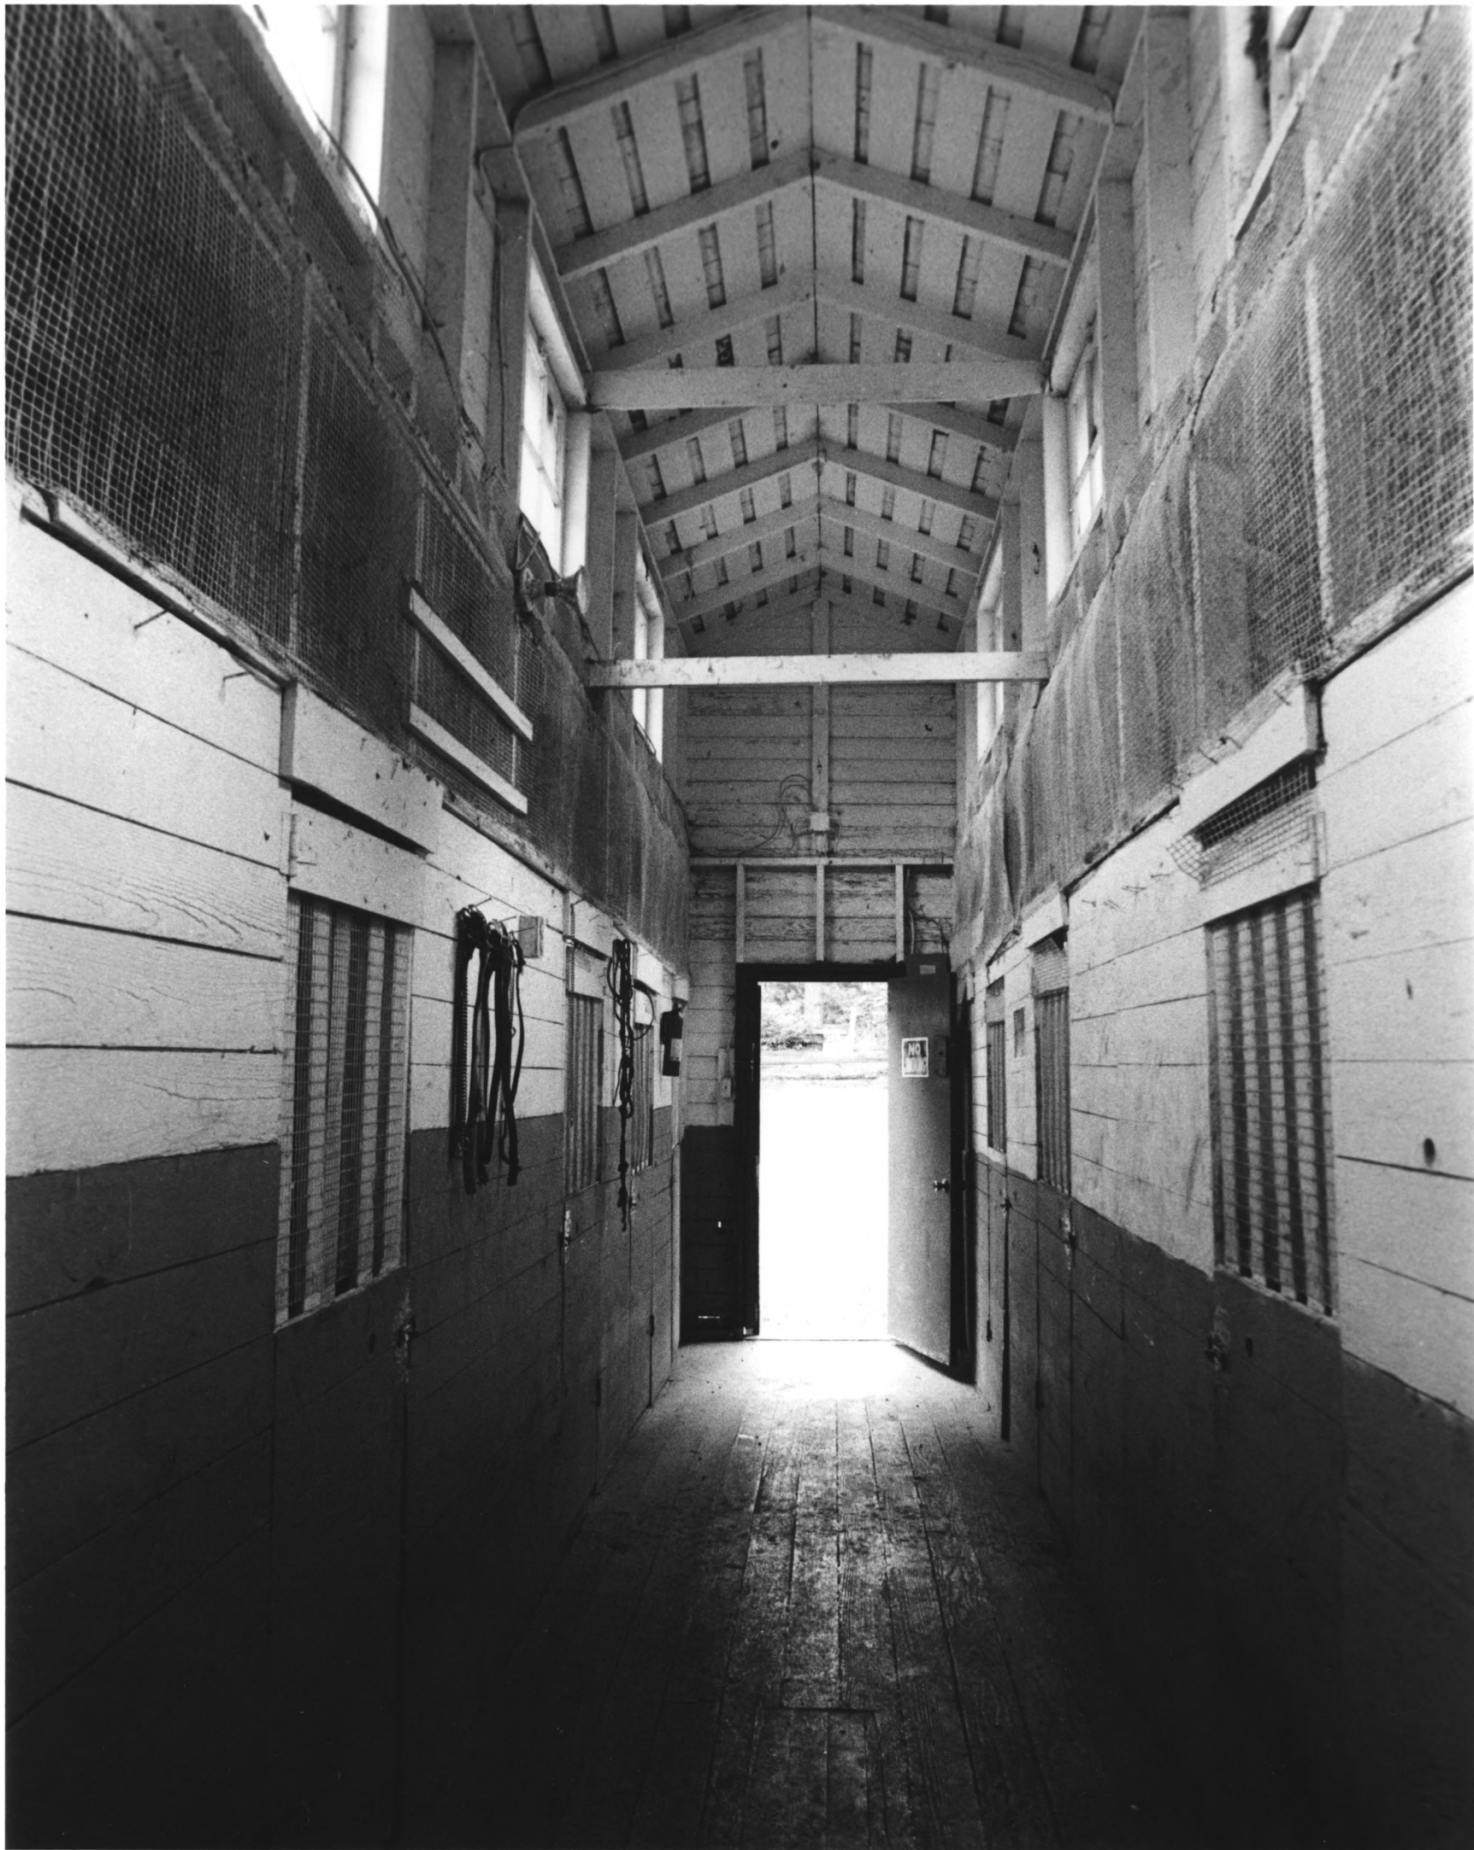

Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., Washington

Photo by Cy Happy, June 1996

Neg. with Woodbrook Hunt Club

Camera pointing north

#6

Kennel interior
Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., WA

Photo by Cy Happy, June 1996

neg w/ Hunt Club

camera pointing north

Woodbrook Hunt Club Dines in Tacoma Hotel

1928

#?

Original members in 1926 photo in paper
Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., WA

Photo (sports clipping) by Cy Happy, June 1996

neg w/ Hunt Club + clipping

1936

OVER THE HEDGE. Dr. H. Laffer (left) and Mrs. Thomsen, wife of Colonel Philip L. Thomsen, U. S. A., Seattle, takes a turn in riding a race.

THE BEST GO. Springs of Seattle and Tacoma riders, and for a few miles, to the west of the Tacoma Woodstock Hunt Club at 7:30 PM. The Woodstock Hunt Club, a field in the city center, is open about eight miles up. Mr. Bob Wallace of Seattle, a member of the Woodstock Hunt Club, is in the foreground, and Mrs. J. P. B. of Tacoma, who is in the background, is the wife of the Woodstock Hunt Club's president.

CREATING THE HORSE. Mrs. Leta Williams (left) and Mrs. Edna (right) from Tacoma riders, remember that the horse should get both the credit when performance is perfect, and in this picture, each couple a little more to all parts of the horse, but the horse has that for a good job.

SEATTLE RIDER. Mrs. Nancy Lee Plummer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Campbell Plummer of Seattle, who, with the noted Edna Virginia, has performed in other Northwest horse shows, winning many trophies. They are shown as they wait for the ride to start from the Woodstock clubhouse. These Seattle riders, attracted by Tacoma and Seattle riders, are taken over the 100,000 acres of Fort Lewis reserve property, by special permit. After the ride, members go back to the city for breakfast. Various kinds of shows as well as horse exhibitions which bring tremendous attention, are conducted by the club. The first fall of the season usually is in April or May. Dr. Ross of Seattle is president of the club, which was organized eight years ago by Major S. B. Matthews and Mrs. Hathorne of Victoria, B. C., whose home is now in Tacoma. Mrs. Plummer, shown above, and her husband are the sons of Northwest riders, for she is a champion rider, taking highest points with the greatest of ease, and Edna Virginia is one of the finest jockeys in this part of the country.

READY TO GO. One of the most attractive features of the Woodstock Hunt Club is the fact that it is open to all.

READY TO GO. Mrs. Edna Broad of Tacoma, who, from the onset of the season, has been the best rider. She served as one of Woodstock's most accomplished performers and one of the

#8

Full page society cover 1936

Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., WA

Photo of page by Cy Happy, June 1996

neg w/ Hunt Club

Riders to Hounds in Woodbrook Hunt Club

#9

Some women of club
"First official ride to hounds" 1926
Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce Co., WA

Photo of clipping by Ly Happy, June 1996
neg. w/ Hunt Club

EQUINE TESTS EQUIPOISE

*This Calls for a Steady Hand
On Your Coffee Cup*

#18

Major Mathews, left. Mrs. Mathews
r.

Iris Bryan jumping 1938
Woodbrook Hunt Club

Pierce, WA

Photo of clipping by Cy Happy, June 1996
neg w/ Hunt Club