PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION

This single-story stuccoed adobe is located on the southwest corner of Sacaton and First. The square plan has a diagonal corner entry with a curvilinear parapet above. The flat-roofed Mission Revival design imitates the 112 N. Sacaton building. This building has similar curvilinear parapets and a similar shed corrugated metal-roofed arcade along the Sacaton Street (west) facade. Under the arcade, double hung wood windows are symmetrically placed. The north facade has equal window treatment with a single centered vaulted parapet. A central door is infilled and stuccoed.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE/HISTORY

As one of two adobe Mission Revival style shops on this block of Sacaton Street, this building makes a unique architectural statement in the commercial streetscene. This structure and the building at 112 N. Sacaton are the only Mission Revival style commercial storefronts in Casa Grande and as such are architecturally significant.
