Summary Paragraph

Laurelhurst is a 392-acre residential neighborhood in Portland, Oregon, located thirty-two city blocks east of the Willamette River. Most of the neighborhood is in northeast Portland, with only the southernmost quarter, below E Burnside Street, in southeast Portland. NE/SE César E Chávez Boulevard intersects with NE Glisan Street at Coe Circle at the center of the neighborhood, forming a large roundabout and dividing the neighborhood into four quadrants.<sup>1</sup> Main entrances to Laurelhurst, characterized by their historic sandstone gates, are located in four perimeter locations. Overall, there are 1751 properties/resources within the Laurelhurst Historic District. Contributing resources include 7 objects (four entry gates, two lamp-posts, and a statue), 3 sites (two alleys and Coe Circle), and 1298 buildings. There are 7 contributing resources previously listed in the National Register (1 site and 6 buildings.)<sup>2</sup> There are 436 non-contributing properties. The most prevalent architectural styles are Colonial Revival, Craftsman, and English Cottage. Most resources date from the 1910s and 1920s, with a full 86% of the surveyed resources constructed before 1930. 1315, or 75% of these 1751 resources are contributing to the district. Contributing resources exhibit their original forms, materials, features, and designs despite, in some cases, minor alterations. Most commonly, alterations include the replacement of at least some of the original windows, and often the replacement of siding and/or the addition of rear volumes or dormers. Freestanding garages have often have been enlarged. As a whole, Laurelhurst has excellent historic integrity. The district includes the following character-defining features associated with the development of Laurelhurst from 1910-1948: intact curvilinear street layout with distinct quadrants and central roundabout; Joan of Arc statue; a development pattern exhibiting residential buildings in a range of period styles with planted front setbacks; Laurelhurst Park, a 27-acre property listed on the National Register; decorative pairs of “entry” markers; regularly spaced mature street trees; and associated features such as sidewalks, stamped curbs, historic light poles, and mature trees in yards throughout the neighborhood.<sup>3</sup>

Narrative Description

Laurelhurst’s overall street and block pattern is immediately distinctive from the orthogonal Portland city grid that surrounds it. The spatial organization of the blocks into irregular curving shapes with abundant front landscape zones, small streets with mature trees arching overhead, and walkable pathways creates a pastoral, English garden-like experience. The plat illustrates the combination of a picturesque layout of gently curvilinear streets creating irregular and naturalistic block shapes with a more formal, Beaux-Arts influenced axial/ radial layout. Laurelhurst is unique in Portland for uniting these two City Beautiful-era planning expressions and knitting them into the rectilinear street pattern surrounding the neighborhood. Laurelhurst’s layout exemplifies the characteristics of a Streetcar Suburb (1888-1928) with City Beautiful-

Roadways and Sidewalks

According to the Laurelhurst Company's literature, the roads of Laurelhurst were designed to highlight and conform to the natural topography of the land, creating its distinct curvilinear road pattern. The roads that form the outer boundaries of the neighborhood are straight, as are NE Glisan Street and NE/ SE Cesar E Chavez Boulevard, which intersect at Coe Circle and visually divide Laurelhurst into four quadrants. All of the other roads in Laurelhurst are at least partially curvilinear, with the exception of the first blocks north of SE Stark. The curving roads allow for scenery to "unfold" as one is traveling, creating a visual difference between Laurelhurst's streetscapes and the orthogonal grid around the neighborhood. The roads themselves are paved with asphalt. The original streetcar lines and brick borders may still be under asphalt along both NE Sandy Boulevard (though Sandy Boulevard has been enlarged and is not included in the historic district boundary) and NE Glisan. The roads in Laurelhurst feature sidewalks on both sides. Walking to get to a destination was an everyday activity when the neighborhood was planned and the strongly pedestrian-friendly character remains a feature of Laurelhurst. Later automobile-era suburbs often included cul-de-sacs, which are not present in this neighborhood. Sidewalks in Laurelhurst are constructed with poured concrete panels, many of which still exhibit the construction stamps that name construction companies and dates of placement (see photo 14). Some curbs also still retain original metal loops that served as horse tie-ups, a standard amenity in 1910. Most sidewalks at intersections have been reconstructed to include ramps in two directions through the curb, and have received new yellow rubber ADA perceptible matrix mats. Many of the historic trees that line the roads in Laurelhurst have grown to such an extent that their root systems have begun to grow aboveground, causing cracks and bumps, warping the roads and sidewalks. Roadways in Laurelhurst are generally 60 feet in width (including planting strips, curbs, and sidewalks) with the exception of NE Glisan, E. Burnside, NE/ SE Cesar E. Chavez, and NE Hassalo, which are 80 feet. There are also two narrower alleyways, both running east-west in the SE quadrant of Laurelhurst.

The Laurelhurst Gates, pairs of sandstone arches that mark entry into the neighborhood at the major streets on the western and southern edges of the neighborhood, were built in 1910. Each arch consists of a primary square pillar capped by a ball, and connected over the sidewalk to another smaller pillar by a scrolled archway supported by carved brackets (see photo 8). One of these was removed south of Sandy Boulevard and Peerless Place, leaving a single archway in that location, but the other three locations (NE Glisan east of 32nd, SE Cesar E Chavez Boulevard north of Stark, and E Burnside east of 32nd) are still pairs at both sides of the street to demarcate and celebrate the neighborhood. The decorative gates strongly contribute to the sense of place and historic character of Laurelhurst.

Street lighting in the form of gas three-globe "cluster" lights were installed in Laurelhurst beginning in 1910 in the northwest quadrant (see Figure 25). By 1913, the lights began to be converted to electric operation. There are two of the original decorative metal poles still extant in the Laurelhurst neighborhood, both without their fittings or globes. These objects contribute to the sense of character of the Historic District.

Blocks and Lots

There were 117 blocks of various sizes and shapes platted in Laurelhurst, a handful of which no longer exist. Construction of the Banfield Freeway (I-84), completed in 1958, removed some blocks or partial blocks in the northwest corner of Laurelhurst. Most blocks are somewhat rectangular in shape with the shorter dimension at about 200' and formed by two back-to-back 100' deep residential lots. Blocks have radial corners, with corner lots having a radius dimension of 10'.

The roundabout in the center of the Historic District, Coe Circle, marks the meeting point for the four quadrants. It has a radius of just under 80' and is a generally flat circle of grass and trees within a curbed perimeter. Coe Circle, created as a streetcar stop along the pre-existing Glisan Avenue streetcar line, is a contributing feature of Laurelhurst's layout. The Joan of Arc statue is placed south of center in the circle. The gold-painted bronze equestrian statue is mounted on a concrete base and is itself a contributing resource to the Laurelhurst Historic District (see photos 9 and 10).

Trees and Other Landscaping

Many of the trees in Laurelhurst were planted during its initial construction phase during the early Twentieth century. Tree types that were observed during the survey include cedars, pines, oaks, and maples of various subspecies. These mature trees create a huge canopy reaching in some locations across the street or entirely over the houses (see photos 12 and 13). While most of the largest trees are street trees, planted between the curb and sidewalk in the public right-of-way, there are also very large specimen trees in front or back yard areas. Trees overall cannot be overstated in terms of their impact on the character and feel of the neighborhood. An aerial view of Laurelhurst today actually still illustrates the plat boundaries by the extent of green tree canopy. There are currently eight designated Heritage trees, as designated by the City of Portland, in Laurelhurst.<sup>5</sup> One of these is in Laurelhurst Park, three are street trees, and four are on private property. A 2014 Laurelhurst neighborhood street tree inventory found a total of 3694 trees in rights-of-way alone, the majority of which are various types of maples. Other trees with high representations are ash, cherry, elm, dogwood, plum, and birch.<sup>6</sup> The map produced by the 2014 tree inventory illustrates that on streets with a high percentage of mature trees remaining, these trees are typically the same species along a block frontage. For instance, moving north along NE 32nd Avenue from NE Everett Street, the predominant tree type on the east side of the street is Elm at least until NE Oregon Street (the street is NE 33rd Avenue at this point), where the predominant species switches to Silver Maples. On Wasco Street between NE 37th Avenue and NE Cesar E Chavez Boulevard, the predominant mature species on both sides of the street is Horse Chestnut. Broad, deciduous trees planted in groups or along block faces of the same species, using a regularized spacing (30' between trees was the typical distance when the Laurelhurst Company planted them) are a character-defining feature of Laurelhurst.

Lots within Laurelhurst were historically designed to remain open lawn areas with some planted beds or borders, but as ownership over time has changed, many front yards have changed. These changes included the addition of lower level garages with driveways and curb cuts, terracing, the construction of stairs and low retaining walls, and the replacement of lawn with additional flower and shrub plantings. Landscaping in some cases has grown up so much as to obscure the front of the house from the right of way. Despite these changes, most front yards retain an open garden feeling that strongly contributes to the character of the public realm.

Laurelhurst Park

Laurelhurst Park is located in the southwest quadrant of Laurelhurst. It was individually listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 2001, not counting the southern "playground" block between SE Oak and SE Stark. Laurelhurst Park was listed under the National Register Multiple Property Listing The City Beautiful Movement and Civic Planning in Portland, Oregon 1897-1921. The Park paths, features, and layout were designed by horticulturalist and designer Emanuel T. Mische who served as the parks director for the City of Portland from 1908 to 1914 after working for the Olmsted Brothers landscape firm. The nomination found the land within the boundaries of the original park (27 acres), including Concert Grove, Children's Lawn, Plateau Meadow, Broad Meadow, Picnic Grove, and Rhododendron Hill, to be contributing sites. Ankeny Street Comfort Station, the park's circulation system, and Firwood Lake were found to be contributing structures. Laurelhurst Park, including the southern playground block, is an anchor of the neighborhood layout, a major amenity, and a defining feature of the Historic District.

Typologies and Uses: Residences, Residential Forms and Groupings

Single-family residences are by far the most prevalent building use and typology in Laurelhurst. Many houses also have a free-standing or attached garage. Across the United States from the 1890s into the 1920s as the ideal suburban home was being refined and developed, houses were becoming more technologically innovative and less formal in layout. Two principal house typologies emerged during this period, the bungalow and the American Foursquare. Both of these were often mass-produced and offered for sale by catalog. The Foursquare is a uniquely American typology, first appearing in the 1890s. A typical Foursquare house is boxy and more vertical than horizontal in form, usually two to two-and-a-half stories in height. A single-height porch usually runs across most or all of the front of the house, and the layout is generally four major rooms on each level. Like bungalows, Foursquare houses can appear in a variety of styles.<sup>7</sup> Colonial Revival style Foursquares predominate in some areas, but in the Pacific Northwest the Craftsman Foursquare is the most common style. Laurelhurst has many Craftsman or Prairie School style Foursquares. One example of a Prairie School style Foursquare is the 1914 house at 3409 NE Oregon. The house is a boxy volume with three levels of hipped roofs from the full-width porch to the primary roof to a hipped dormer at the upper level. The typical bungalow is one or one-and-a-half stories, with a broad, shallowly-pitched roof and a wide open front porch across the full front or most of the front of the house. While bungalows can be in English Cottage or Mission Revival styles, they are most often associated with the Craftsman style and the California Arts and Crafts movement. In Laurelhurst, bungalows are almost universally Craftsman. One such example is the 1916 Charles and Hazel Drake House at 3945 SE Pine Street, with a side-gabled, 1.5-story volume and a full-width porch with broad eaves.

After WWI, the trend for single-family homes across the U. S. was generally smaller. A variety of period revival styles appeared in the 1920s as bungalows or period cottages. Most common were the English Cottage or Tudor Revival as well as Colonial Revival styles ranging from Dutch, English, French, and Spanish. A period cottage is generally no more than one-and-a-half story, and has a small street-fronting façade but may extend back on its lot to create a long, narrow footprint. An example of a period cottage in the Tudor Revival style is 3546 NE Davis Street, constructed in 1925. The 1.5-story house is small and compact across the front, with a small entry stoop rather than the broad porch of the Bungalow form.

With only a few exceptions, residences in Laurelhurst face the street with a primary entry and porch or stoop. Freestanding garages are primarily located in the rear corners of lots, with concrete driveways or wheel strips leading back to the garage door. Typical lot widths of 50' within the district create a development pattern with houses typically around 15 or 20' apart, side-to-side.

Development setbacks in Laurelhurst were set by block frontage and ranged from as little as 10' on side setbacks for corner lots to 30' at some block frontages. 20' is the typical front setback and 15' is the typical side street setback. There are two cases of even larger setbacks of 50' in Laurelhurst; one of these is at the Ankeny frontage of Block 90 in the southwest quadrant and the other is along the entire Oak Street frontage at blocks 93, 94, 95 (now the playground block of Laurelhurst Park), 96, and 97 (see Figure 27). It is unclear why these Oak Street frontages were given such a deep setback, but by 1919 no houses had yet been constructed on the blocks south of Oak Street in Laurelhurst.

Fernhaven Court: Bungalow Block

A single block, located in the southeastern quadrant of the neighborhood and fronting East Burnside, NE 44th Avenue, and SE Ash Street, was developed by Paul Murphy and the Laurelhurst Company as a showcase for bungalows.<sup>8</sup> This block was named Fernhaven Court, called "bungalow fairyland," and still has many of its original features today. Some of these 1915-1925 Fernhaven Court bungalows have a noticeable Japanese design influence. The block also has a twenty-foot alleyway through the middle, one of only two alleys in Laurelhurst.

"The Laurelhurst Group of Cottages:" Period Revival Grouping

The west end of the block bounded by NE Couch, NE Davis, NE Laurelhurst Place, and NE Cesar Chavez Blvd was designed as "The Laurelhurst Group of Cottages," nine homes laid out and designed by architects Lawrence and Holford and George H. Otten, landscape designer. By 1919, five of these designs had been built, with a shared central garden divided only by shrubs and specifying "service uses" be screened by lattice.<sup>9</sup> The homes, constructed by the Laurelhurst Company, are in English Cottage style (see Figures 18 and 22). George H. Otten also designed the formal garden for the Bader House at 3604 SE Oak Street, as well as the grounds of the Temple Beth Israel, and the Rose City and Lloyd Golf Courses.

Typologies and Uses: Club, Schools, and Churches

Generally, the appearance of the handful of allowed nonresidential buildings in the neighborhood was as close to a residential style and appearance as possible. Though some were certainly larger than a single-family house, these buildings were constructed in the same range of styles and exhibited similar setbacks and plantings along street frontages as residential properties.

The Laurelhurst Club

The Laurelhurst Tennis Club was designed by well-known Portland architects Whitehouse & Fouilhoux who also designed the Laurelhurst Park comfort station building. The club building was completed in 1915 on NE Ankeny Street, across the street from Laurelhurst Park. It was "one of the most progressive social clubs in Portland. Its almost daily entertainments are a never ending source of interest and value to the residents of the addition," according to a 1916 promotional brochure.<sup>10</sup> There were also indoor and outdoor spaces provided for sports such as tennis courts. Primarily, the clubhouse served as an amenity for Laurelhurst residents and as a home for the social club, which had been formed several years earlier.

Laurelhurst Elementary School

The Laurelhurst School, as it was originally called, was designed by Claussen & Claussen and built in 1923-1925. It is a red-brick, two-story building in a Colonial Revival style occupying a whole-block site at NE 41st Avenue and Royal Court in the northeast quadrant of Laurelhurst.

All Saints Church and School

All Saints Catholic Parish was founded in 1917 by Archbishop Alexander D. Christie, who had previously founded the University of Portland. Christie purchased several lots from the Laurelhurst Company on Block 1 northwest of Coe Circle. These lots became the location of the first church, part of the school building, and parish playground. Portland architect Joseph Jacobberger designed the initial All Saints church and rectory in the Tudor Gothic style in 1917, and the chapel was dedicated in January 1918. The initial church appears on 1924 Sanborn maps located close to Cesar E. Chavez Blvd (then NE 39th Avenue), north of the three homes originally constructed on this central block. The church was soon expanded both northwards and to the east.

The Parish architecture represented an excellent response to the building restrictions in the neighborhood in the early 20th century. Its Tudor Gothic style echoed the styles of many of the surrounding residences in the neighborhood so that the Church could fit into its environment.<sup>11</sup> It featured cedar shakes and a steeply-pitched roof. The original Jacobberger church was demolished prior to construction of the existing church in 1966.

The All Saints parochial school opened in 1936, according to their own parish history, with 100 students in attendance.<sup>12</sup> The school was taught by the Sisters of the Holy Names, who initially did not reside in Laurelhurst. A convent was founded by 1947, in a residence on the property at Cesar Chavez Boulevard and Glisan between the current church and school. The Oregonian reported that the C. K. Henry House at the corner of Laddington and Glisan, sold in 1913 to the Harvey Scott family, was in use by the All Saints parish as a school by 1945.<sup>13</sup> The house was demolished in 1966 to make way for the expansion of All Saints Parish church and school.<sup>14</sup> That was the remaining residential use on Block 1 near the center of Laurelhurst. The “new” All Saints Church was constructed in 1966. By 1998, only three sisters resided at the Laurelhurst convent house, and in 2014, the parish applied to replace the convent building with a new church/ school use building.

Eighth Church of Christ Scientist/ Word of Life Slavic Baptist Church

Designed by architect Charles W. Ertz, the basement unit of the church at NE Imperial Avenue and NE Multnomah Street was completed by 1926 and in use for two years before the upper building and auditorium were constructed.<sup>15</sup> The church is in Mediterranean Revival style, with terra cotta roof shingles and an arcaded entry rotunda with Corinthian columns.

Laurelhurst Christian Church/ Bethlehem Lutheran Church

Built on three lots at the corner of NE Senate and NE Cesar E Chavez Boulevard, the (originally named) Laurelhurst Christian Church was designed in a Mediterranean Revival style by Elmer E. Feig and constructed by Herman Blastock. It was completed in January, 1929. The simple gabled form and stucco walls highlight a series of arched stained glass windows.

Typologies and Uses: Commercial Development

No commercial development was allowed in Laurelhurst by deed restriction and later, zoning. However, from the very beginning of the subdivision, the Laurelhurst Company real estate sales office was included at the very heart of the neighborhood along with the streetcar stop at that location. Coe Circle was designed to put these two uses into immediate proximity so that the real estate sales might benefit from the foot traffic generated by the streetcar stop. The sales office operated in Coe Circle until 1921. When the office closed, there were plans for a commercial market to take its place, and a building designed by Ellis Lawrence was exhibited as fitting into the residential character of the neighborhood. The residents were not in favor of allowing this commercial use, and ultimately the market was not built.<sup>16</sup>

Use-related deed restrictions may not have ever applied in the northeastern corner of Laurelhurst, between the rail lines and NE Halsey. The 1924 Sanborn map shows a mix of residential houses as well as larger-scale buildings used for “lumber storage” in this triangle. A 1936 aerial view of the same area shows large industrial type warehouses. In the rest of the platted area of Laurelhurst, though, commercial uses were very limited. Commercial development did begin to extend along Sandy Boulevard in Laurelhurst by at least 1940. Sandy Boulevard and 33rd Avenue was the location of a Shell Oil service station which may have been the first commercial use built as such, but former homes along Sandy had already converted to commercial uses, likely starting in the mid-1930s.<sup>17</sup>

As might be expected just outside of the neighborhood boundaries, a number of commercial establishments and areas grew up to support the demand for products and services. A 1921 photograph shows a commercial building with painted “Laurelhurst Market” sign on Glisan at 32nd Avenue (Figure 23). A 1937 photograph on Burnside and 32nd illustrates a similar abrupt change in uses, with a Piggly Wiggly grocery and “Smith Drugs” just across the street from the houses on Burnside within Laurelhurst. There also are several notable theaters located just outside of the periphery of Laurelhurst, including the 1926 Hollywood Theater a block north of NE Halsey Street on Broadway and the 1923 Art-Deco Laurelhurst Theater at NE 28th Avenue and East Burnside, four blocks west of Laurelhurst.

Architectural Materials and Building Technologies

Residences during the pre-WWII period were mainly constructed out of wood, a cheap and available material especially in the Pacific Northwest. Most houses were constructed of wood studs using “balloon framing,” a method of construction where the exterior walls continued up to the roof rafters, and the ceiling or upper story floor joists were attached to these vertical studs. Foundations were typically concrete, with full or half basements common.

The most prevalent original exterior materials are painted wood horizontal siding or shingle, with brick or concrete stucco less common. Original wood horizontal siding appears in Laurelhurst in a variety of designs, including bevel, V-notch, beaded, and ribbon-coursed clapboard. Later wide-lap board, a common historic-period replacement siding, is also prominent. Painted shingles are also prevalent; cedar rake shingles were the most common shingle type found in Laurelhurst. Cedar rake shingles and asbestos shingles (counted in the survey as cementitious siding), are original to resources dating between the 1930s and 1950s, but are likely historic-period replacement siding for earlier resources. Other later replacements to wood horizontal siding include aluminum or vinyl horizontal siding, or another type of cementitious fiber siding meant to look like horizontal wood lap siding (“Hardie” and similar brands). These later cementitious lap siding types are not original to any resources prior to about 1965.

Brick in Laurelhurst is often used as a decorative feature and was applied as a veneer over the actual structure of the resource. Clinker brick and Rug face brick are the most prevalent types of brick observed in Laurelhurst, both of which were popular between 1910 and 1930. Roman or Norman brick generally was not popularized until the 1950’s and 60’s so it is almost never original to houses constructed prior to the end of the period of significance. It has sometimes been applied to portions of earlier resources on top of its original siding. Like brick, stucco is likely original to a resource’s construction, but may also be applied on top of a resource’s original siding or in place of it.

Original windows in houses that date between 1910 and 1935 are wood, typically feature distinct multi-pane true divided lights, and operate as single- or double-hung, casement, or fixed windows. Leaded muntins within wood sashes are also likely original, and are typically found in fixed windows. Many of the residential resources recorded in Laurelhurst have had the windows in the lower story on their front elevation replaced with large, fixed wood picture windows that came into prominence in the 1950s; the original windows would have had a transom of various designs, such as an arched muntin at the bottom of the transom, separating a large pane of fixed glass from multiple lights above. Original hung windows have also, in some cases, been replaced with one-over-one wood hung windows that do not exhibit what would have been multi-pane sashes, but are “in-kind” replacements due to their wood material, operational match, and likely match to original sash depth and profile. These were the most common window replacements observed in Laurelhurst.

Vinyl windows are a somewhat common replacement throughout Laurelhurst, and are not original to any resources that date to the historic period (pre-1949). Other window replacements included aluminum sliding sashes and anodized aluminum hung and sliding sashes; aluminum windows may be original to resources that date to the 1950s and later, but are not in-kind replacements in earlier resources. Roofing shingles are not character-defining for historic resources, excepting Mediterranean and Spanish Revival styles that exhibit their original terra cotta shingles.

Architectural Styles

A majority (88%) of resources surveyed in Laurelhurst date between 1910 and 1932, and the architectural styles of the neighborhood reflect the popular styles of those decades. The first property owners of Laurelhurst were restricted in their choices for designs, so as to create a cohesive and more desirable neighborhood appearance. The homes encompassed a controlled variety of architectural styles, so much so that a brochure was given to families upon purchasing a lot for the types of styles that were recommended for development. Recommended styles in the Laurelhurst Company’s promotional materials of the time included “Pure Italian, Japanese, Old English, Swiss Chalet, Colonial, New England, or Spanish Mission.”<sup>18</sup> This curated selection of home design included a great variety of architectural styles that contributed to Laurelhurst’s reputation as a “neighborhood of character”; this aesthetic holds true as the majority of styles and examples in Laurelhurst retain their material and stylistic integrity.

The most prevalent architectural styles identified in Laurelhurst are Craftsman (29%), Colonial Revival (35%), English Cottage (11%), and Tudor Revival (10%). Some houses do have a combination of styles so percentages will add up to more than 100% of resources. Other identified styles from that era include Prairie School, Mediterranean Revival, Arts & Crafts, Spanish Revival, and Neo-Classical; later 1930s and 1940s architectural styles observed within Laurelhurst include Minimal Traditional, World War II-Era Cottage, and Ranch.

During the period of significance, from 1910 to 1948, there were several waves of fashionable architectural design across the United States, which are apparent in Laurelhurst. By 1910, previous Victorian styles such as Queen Anne had entirely given way to the trendier Colonial Revival, Arts and Crafts, and Prairie School styles. The most prevalent of these, during the period 1905 to 1920, was the Craftsman Bungalow. “One of the more amazing infatuations in residential design has been America’s love affair with the Bungalow.”<sup>19</sup> The Bungalow fad was replaced by more interest in period style revivals, especially Tudor and English Cottage, and Spanish or Mediterranean Revivals. These became very popular during the late 1920s into the late 1930s. Finally, a third stylistic thread can be seen in Laurelhurst with the beginnings of Modernism and a more simplified, smaller aesthetic starting in the mid-1930s.

Neo-Classical style, 1895 – 1950: These properties are typically two stories in height, but a one-story variant typically has columns up to the main roof. The main façade exhibits a full-height colonnaded porch and either a broken or unbroken pediment at the entry.

Example: 3301 NE Irving (14 in the district)<sup>20</sup>

Arts & Crafts style, 1880 – 1920: This style maintains a steep-pitched roof and flush gable. These houses often have multiple gables, as well as possible telescoping or pairing. Some houses have conical roofs on a circular tower. Roofs often include dormers. Overall, they are typically rambling, complex, and asymmetrical. They are often composed of a stucco, brick, or stucco and brick combination with wood or board-and-batten siding. The windows are multi-light, casement with little or no trim and often exist in a series. These houses also typically have massive chimneys.

Example: 3727 NE Couch Street (20 in the district)

Tudor Revival style, 1910 – 1940: This style is asymmetrical and vertical in feel, and can have an overhanging upper floor. It exhibits a steeply pitched cross-gabled roof, sometimes with a jerkin head. It often has a wide decorated bargeboard. Its windows are typically tall and narrow double-hung or casement. Tudor style buildings often have some half-timbering, especially in upper gable ends, with stucco panels divided by what appear to be exposed heavy timbers.

Example: 3435 NE Clackamas Street (168 in the district)

English Cottage style, 1920 – 1940: This style has a steep or medium-pitch gabled roof, or sometimes hip-roofed, and can have rounded “thatch” edges and/or jerkin heads (or clipped gables) at its gables or dormers. Bell-curve or bell-cast roof shapes are not uncommon. These houses are typically asymmetrical and 1 to 2 stories in height. They have narrow, multi-light casement windows in bands, often a round-head arch door, and large chimneys on end-walls. They are usually composed of a stucco exterior or clinker brick.

Example: 3334 NE Oregon Street (197 in the district)

<sup>20</sup> This note applies to all styles: some resources have a combination of styles so numbers of all styles will add up to more than the number of resources.

Colonial Revival style, 1890 – 1945: This style typically exhibits a symmetrical façade. These houses often have Palladian feature windows, especially centered on gable ends, which are half-ellipses (semi-circular) or circular. Windows are often paired and 6/6 or 6/9 double-hung. Sometimes there are bay or oriel window features. Roofs are commonly hipped. These houses also have closed soffits, often eave returns at gables, and sometimes an enclosed side porch.

Example: 315 NE 41st Avenue (601 in the district)

Georgian Revival style is a sub-style of Colonial Revival: These houses are rectangular, symmetrical, and typically composed of brick with stone, stucco, or wood decoration. The main entrance exhibits a portico with classical motifs. Windows are almost always double-hung with multi-pane divisions.

Example: 4047 SE Oak Street

Dutch Colonial style houses are also a sub-style of Colonial Revival and are easily identified by their gambrel roofs and 1.5 or 2 story size. Boxed soffits, multi-pane windows, and relatively small, classically detailed entry stoops similarly to those described above in Colonial Revival style are also typically found in Dutch Colonial style buildings.

Example: 1213 NE 37th Street

Prairie School style, 1910 – 1925: This style of house typically exhibits flat, gable, or hip roofs that sometimes have brackets and generally have wide over-hangs and closed soffits. These houses often have massive rectangular piers. Bands of casement windows are most predominant in this style, but double-hung windows are also very common as well. These types of houses sometimes have a balcony at the second story. The main entrance is typically a glass door entry with sidelights.

Example: 3633 NE Davis Street (48 in the district)

Craftsman style: 1890 – 1945: This style often exhibits a side-gable roof, widely extended eaves, knee braces or brackets, and an open soffit with rafter tails. Windows are double-hung or casement and often found in a series. Cantilevered bays are common at the upper level. These homes often exhibit a Four-square (2-stories) or Bungalow (1 to 1.5 story) typology. Some have Chalet or Tudor influences. “Chalet” Craftsman homes are typically 2 stories and may have a balcony cut-out pattern and a “decorated” bargeboard.

Example: 3316 NE Holladay Street (505 in the district)

A combination Craftsman/Colonial style exhibits gable or gambrel roofs but no wide overhang, and normally has a porch within the roof volume. Doric columns or piers are common, with double-hung windows.

Example: 735 NE Laurelhurst Place (counted as both Craftsman and Colonial)

Mediterranean Revival style, 1910 – 1930: This style exhibits a hipped roof that is most typically tile. Its exterior walls are predominantly stucco or concrete. Windows are casement, double-hung, and often have arched fanlights. A portico at the main entry and terraces are very common. (Italian Renaissance Revival and French Renaissance Revival styles are sub-styles of Mediterranean).

Example: 4132 NE Hassalo Street (20 in the district)

Spanish Revival style, 1910 – 1930: This style has a low-pitched hip or gabled tile roof, exterior stucco walls, and is typically 2 stories in height. A bell tower and balconies with wrought iron are often common in these types of houses. (Mission and Spanish Colonial Revival are sub-styles of Spanish Revival)

Minimal Traditional style, 1930 – 1950: This style is characterized by small, often symmetrical houses with medium-pitched gabled roofs with little to no overhang. Cladding is generally wood clapboards or shingles, and windows are typically wood double-hung, sometimes with multi-pane divisions on the front. Garages are sometimes detached and set back, or in many cases attached but completely set back from the front plane of the house. It is not yet horizontal in form.

Example: 3815 NE Davis (53 in the district)

World War II Era Cottage style, 1935 – 1950: This style is primarily identified by a one-story compact size, with low-pitched hipped roof. Cladding is limited to one or two materials, often wood clapboard or cedar rake shingles, and brick veneer. A short, projecting wing is common at the front, with the entrance on the side or next to it, within a recessed porch. Windows are typically wood multi-pane fixed and double-hung, often with corner windows. Garages were mostly detached and fully set back from the house.

Example: 4128 NE Davis Street (10 in the district)

Ranch style, 1940 – 1970: This style is more a form than a style, having a very simple rectangular footprint and shallowly pitched hipped or gable roof. Garages are always attached and face the street. Entrances feature a large multi-pane fixed wood window close to the main entrance. Many houses include up to four different types of cladding that varies from wood products to brick and stone veneer that usually extends to chimneys and integrated planters.

Example: 633 NE 32nd Avenue (51 in the district)

Contributing and Noncontributing Status

The National Register of Historic Places defines integrity as the authenticity of a property's historic identity, evidenced by the survival of physical characteristics that existing during the property's historic period. There are seven aspects of integrity defined by the National Park Service: location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association. In general, a property must retain sufficient original character-defining features and materials in order to be considered as eligible for listing in the National Register as an individual or contributing resource. Sufficiency operates on a sliding scale based upon each individual resource's original design; a modification (such as vinyl windows) may be significant to a small, unadorned house, but would be less significant to a large, highly-stylized house.

Laurelhurst Historic District

Multnomah Co, Oregon

County and State

For the Laurelhurst survey, the consultant team evaluated each individual resource based upon its estimated historic design and footprint compared to its appearance during the survey. As the resources were being evaluated for their ability to contribute to a potential historic district, resources were allowed more room for modifications than they would be in order to qualify as individually eligible resources. If it was determined that a resource was still capable of conveying its original design intent and retained a fair level of historic integrity despite modifications to its plan, cladding, and/or windows, it was recommended to contribute to the potential Laurelhurst historic district. If a house was moved to its current location from its original location, it is generally considered to have lost integrity, even if constructed during the period of significance. However, if moved from elsewhere within the historic district and if occupying a similar lot and position from its initial construction, a moved resource could have retained integrity.

Form Alterations vs Changes to Materials, Fenestration, or Other Features

In considerations of integrity for single resources, changes to form generally have more of an impact to a resource's integrity, but this does vary by style. If a resource had lost a primary character-defining feature of its overall form, it was generally considered to not contribute. For example, a Craftsman bungalow that no longer had a large porch across the front would not be contributing because a porch extending across most of the front of the house is one of the defining characteristics of the bungalow form. A WWII-Era Cottage with an added upper story would likewise be not contributing because a one-story form is a defining feature of the style. A resource with more than one change to either its material (such as replaced wood for aluminum siding) or fenestration (such as replaced multi-pane windows for picture windows) or other features (such as replaced round columns on a Colonial Revival porch for wrought iron posts) would also generally be found to not contribute to the historic district.

Residential garages were found to not contribute if the primary resource on the property had insufficient integrity to contribute to the district. This is because the majority of Laurelhurst's garages are behind the primary house on each lot, limiting the visibility and the opportunity of a garage to contribute on its own without the house in front of it also contributing.

Integrity of the Historic District

Integrity for a historic district is based on National Register standards for evaluating integrity in a historic property's Location, Design, Setting, Materials, Workmanship, Feeling, and Association. The location of Laurelhurst has not changed, and its overall design is very intact, showing the plat, block, street, and building setbacks as they were designed in 1909/1910. Some very minor changes to Laurelhurst's design include the widening of Sandy Boulevard, the very occasional newer house to be constructed closer to the street than its historic neighbors, and the loss of tree canopy or replacement with inappropriately small species. The setting of Laurelhurst has high integrity, despite the losses and encroachment at the I-84 freeway edge of the historic district. Materials used within Laurelhurst have mostly been retained from their original construction, though many houses do exhibit some alterations and material changes such as the replacement of wood windows with vinyl. Workmanship remains extremely intact, with Laurelhurst's contributing objects, sites, and buildings illustrating the details and aesthetic principles of the architectural styles popular during the period of significance. Laurelhurst is able to convey an authentic feeling based on retention of its significant physical characteristics including its gracious, tree-covered, curving streets and sidewalks, its residences in a range of scales but in a relatively small selection of architectural styles, and its landscaped front yards. The associations for which Laurelhurst is significant include its demonstrated part in the development of Portland as a Streetcar suburb, its role as perhaps the most adroitly marketed suburb in Portland, and its illustration of City Beautiful principles and aspirations. The Laurelhurst neighborhood overall retains good integrity of all seven aspects of integrity.

Summary

Laurelhurst is a significant historic place under National Register Criteria A and C. It illustrates the patterns of residential growth which occurred eastward of downtown Portland in the first decades of the 20th Century, spurred by the development of streetcars. It exemplifies the City Beautiful-era planning principles of gently curvilinear streets combined with a radial plan, weaving these patterns into the established city grid surrounding it. Laurelhurst also demonstrates the social ideals of the City Beautiful movement, with residences all contributing an aesthetically pleasing planted front zone to create a park-like feel to the walkable streets and sidewalks. This setting was specifically developed to foster healthful family life, set apart from commercial uses. Laurelhurst also has its own large, landscaped park complete with a lake and walking paths, four locations where the entries to the neighborhood are celebrated by pairs of decorative stone gates on either side of a street, an equestrian statue of Joan of Arc, many of its mature, deciduous street trees that were planted at regular intervals on every block face, and at least two remaining historic light poles, once fitted with the three-globe lights that were installed throughout Laurelhurst. The neighborhood also was planned, controlled, and marketed to a previously unprecedented degree in the Portland area, providing a cohesive and early local example of the national trend towards “community builders” in suburban development. For these reasons, Laurelhurst satisfies the requirements of Criterion A under Community Planning and Development.

Laurelhurst also provides an excellent and relatively intact example of a concentration of similar resources that together, still evoke “The Addition with Character.” Laurelhurst is significant under Criterion C for its Architecture as well as for its Community Planning and Development. Its overall plan and layout merits design significance in Community Planning and Development. Together, the forms and architectural design of its residences, garages, churches, schools, club, and other built elements embody the distinctive characteristics of the trends during the time period 1910-1948.

Statement of Significance Summary Paragraph (Provide a summary paragraph that includes level of significance, applicable criteria, justification for the period of significance, and any applicable criteria considerations).

The Laurelhurst Historic District, located on the east side of Portland, Oregon, is locally significant under National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) Criteria A and C. Because of its remarkable visual consistency and its historical associations, the Laurelhurst Historic District is nominated under the "Historic Residential Suburbs in the United States, 1830-1960" Multiple Property Listing as an example of a Streetcar Suburb (Subtype II). The district meets the guidelines for evaluation and registration of an American suburb and as a Streetcar Suburb as defined in the "Historic Residential Suburbs" MPD. The period of significance in Laurelhurst began after the four quadrants were platted, in spring 1910, continued through the mid- 1930s by which point almost all lots were developed, and ends in 1948, when the last streetcar line was removed along NE Glisan Street. The primarily residential neighborhood, with 1314 contributing resources including the individually-listed 27-acre Laurelhurst Park, is significant under Criteria A in the areas of Community Planning & Development and under Criteria C for Architecture. Demonstrating significance under Criterion A, Laurelhurst is Portland's only residential subdivision illustrating both fashionable City Beautiful-era planning principles; a picturesque curvilinear pattern as well as a Beaux-Arts radial pattern. Laurelhurst also represents an example of an extraordinarily cohesive development by a "community builder" of prominence who designed, installed infrastructure and amenities, and determined the overarching stylistic character of a single place. Laurelhurst's association with Paul C. Murphy, developer, also reflects its importance as an aspirational marketing idea beyond the sales of lots or houses. Though not nominated under Criterion B for its association with Paul C. Murphy, it is possible that further research may support the addition of Laurelhurst's significance in this category, if Murphy is determined to be an individual who made sufficient important contributions to the history and development of the Portland (or larger) region.

Under Criterion C in the area of Architecture, Laurelhurst exemplifies popular trends across the United States in domestic architecture, extending from the enthusiasm for bungalows in the period 1905 to about 1920, to the trend towards period revivals in the late 1910s until the end of the 1920s, and finally including FHA-promoted Minimal Traditional cottages, WWII-era cottage style architecture, and early Ranch designs of the 1930s and 1940s. While some of these homes were designed by architects specifically for their sites and clients, the majority of homes appear to have been constructed by builders or architect-builders, often repeating house designs with variations in several locations within the neighborhood. As a suburb of the City Beautiful era, Laurelhurst is also significant under Criterion C for its principles of design important in the history of American community planning. Overall, the Laurelhurst Historic District retains exceptional historic integrity in the qualities of location, setting, design, materials, feeling, workmanship, and association of a Streetcar Suburb.

Narrative Statement of Significance (Provide at least one paragraph for each area of significance.)

Significance under Criterion A: Community Planning and Development

Laurelhurst is historically significant for two major reasons in the growth and development of Portland. The first has to do with Laurelhurst's cohesive and distinctive layout. The Olmsted-inspired plan has curvilinear streets forming naturalistic and sculptural block shapes, but also a strong quadrant division with central straight streets meeting in a roundabout which serves as the starting point for radial streets extending into two of the four quadrants (see Figures 3-6 for plat maps). One of these central thoroughfares was the location of the streetcar line, which had its station within the roundabout. The sandstone entry markers at four locations at the perimeter of the district "mark the separation of public thoroughfares and private residential park."<sup>21</sup> Laurelhurst is also significant as an excellent example of a planned subdivision of the Streetcar era (1888-1928), with all infrastructure including roads, utilities, sidewalks, trees, and features such as entry markers designed and installed by a single entity. Paul C. Murphy exemplified the community builder role as delineated in the Multiple Property Listing document “Historic Residential Suburbs in the United States, 1830-1960.”<sup>22</sup> He designed, built, and marketed Laurelhurst at a level not seen before in the Portland metropolitan region and also had a National role as the architect of the Federal “Own Your Own Home” campaign. He was a powerful regional developer and an early adopter of the “Operative Builder” role, meaning that he built and sold homes in his own platted and improved development by as early as 1914.<sup>23</sup> In addition to Portland’s Laurelhurst development, Murphy took a major role in Seattle’s Laurelhurst, in the development of Lake Oswego, Oregon, and in Lake Grove, adjacent to Lake Oswego. Laurelhurst meets the requirements for significance as a Streetcar suburb both for its plan and layout, as well as for its association with a single development entity “who [was] as much concerned with the amenities and quality of suburban life as the design of individual homes and yards.”<sup>24</sup>

Significance under Criterion C: Architecture

The Laurelhurst Historic District contains an extremely cohesive collection of primarily residences, ranging in size from modest cottages to large showcase homes. Laurelhurst is not predominantly a district of architect-designed homes for specific clients, though many examples of such homes exist in the neighborhood. Rather, Laurelhurst demonstrates the ideals of architectural styles of the 1910s through the end of WWII, made more affordable by the efficiency of builders and architect/builders using some design repetition (typically with alterations), and set within a collective park-like setting with generous front setbacks and landscaping. Occurring within the district’s period of significance is first the “bungalow craze,” then the enthusiasm for period revival styles after men returned from Europe after WWI, and finally the smaller and simpler designs resulting from economies that impacted home size and design during the Depression years of the 1930s and the war years of the 1940s. Of the 1751 resources within the district boundary, 86% were constructed before 1930, with the majority constructed during the early 1920s. 241 resources were constructed in 1923 alone within the district. The most prevalent styles in the neighborhood are Colonial Revival, with Craftsman a close second and English Cottage the third most common. Other well-represented styles include Tudor Revival, Prairie School, Minimal Traditional, and Ranch.

Application of the “Historic Residential Suburbs” MPD Registration Requirements

Laurelhurst Historic District meets the requirements set out by the Historic Residential Suburbs MPD. It meets the definition of a suburb as a “geographic area... connected to the city by one or more modes of transportation... developed primarily for residential use according to a plan; and possessing a significant concentration, linkage, and continuity of dwellings on small parcels of land, roads and streets, utilities, and community facilities.”<sup>25</sup> Laurelhurst also has the physical, temporal, and associative characteristics of a Streetcar Suburb; most notably its layout around a linear streetcar line extending east from Portland’s downtown and central roundabout feature designed as a streetcar stop. Laurelhurst’s period of significance begins in 1910, placing it within the 1888-1928 range defined for this subtype.<sup>26</sup> It was developed with deed restrictions controlling “the cost and type of construction, setback of houses from the street, and profile of residents” and illustrates the role of “subdividers [who] more and more took on the role of building houses and even offering installment plans to attract potential buyers.”<sup>27</sup> Houses also reflected the defined Streetcar Suburb styles and typologies, including “smaller, simpler, and more efficient bungalows and foursquares, many...[in the] Arts and Crafts movement, and Colonial Revival. At the same time the number of catalogs offering mailorder plans greatly multiplied...”<sup>28</sup> Further, the plan of Laurelhurst perfectly illustrates “Beaux Arts-

Laurelhurst demonstrates significance under Criterion A of the National Register Criteria for Evaluation for its association with important patterns in Portland’s history and development in the category “Community Planning and Development.” Laurelhurst “reflects an important historic trend in the development and growth” of Portland, as a Streetcar Suburb as described above.<sup>30</sup> Also, Laurelhurst demonstrates significance under Criterion C in the categories of “Community Planning and Development” as well as “Architecture” in the following ways. Laurelhurst has a “[c]ollection of residential architecture [which] is an important example of distinctive period of construction... or the work of one or more notable architects.”<sup>31</sup> Laurelhurst “reflects principles of design important in the history of community planning” and finally, Laurelhurst also “embodies high artistic values through its overall plan or the design of entranceways, streets, homes, and community spaces.”<sup>32</sup>

Property Sub-type: Streetcar Suburb

Laurelhurst fits into the Streetcar Suburb property subtype outlined in Historic Residential Suburbs in the United States National Register Multiple Property Documentation Form (E:4 to E:5). Laurelhurst was developed during the time that streetcars enabled explosive growth into East Portland, and growth had already occurred further to the east by the time Laurelhurst’s infrastructure was constructed in 1910. The Laurelhurst Company capitalized on the centralized location of the pre-existing Glisan-Montavilla line within the Hazelfern Farm property, designing the layout of Laurelhurst using straight-line quadrant divisions so this central east-west line was incorporated into the overall design, creating a roundabout to highlight the approximate geographic center of the neighborhood and as a stop on the streetcar line, and constructing their sales office right next to it on the roundabout. A map published in the Laurelhurst Company’s 1916 promotional brochure identified the homes that had been constructed in Laurelhurst up to that date, and there was significantly more development closer to the central streetcar stop at what is now called Coe Circle than there was north or south of that point.<sup>33</sup> Sandy Boulevard, though it also had a streetcar line, does not seem to have acted as a similar locational draw for early residential development, probably due to Sullivan’s Gulch, which acted as a geographical barrier until the 37th Avenue viaduct was constructed in 1916.<sup>34</sup>

Historic Context and Narrative

Pre-Subdivision Context in Laurelhurst: 1850 to 1910

Banker and investor William Sargent Ladd was an important early residential developer in the Portland region. In 1851, Ladd bought the land west of Cesar E. Chavez Boulevard (about half of the current neighborhood) from Terrance Quinn, a pioneer settler of the land. In 1857, Ladd purchased additional land east of Cesar E. Chavez from Thomas Frazar, who had planted an orchard there and called it Hazelwood Farm. By 1869, Ladd had acquired a total of 486 acres of land, and renamed the property Hazelfern Farm. Ladd used the land to cultivate a dairy farm and bred a variety of livestock on his property. By 1880, Ladd’s farm was well-known throughout Oregon for breeding draft and light-harness horses.<sup>35</sup>

The boundaries of what became Hazelfern Farm were created from a combination of natural features, historic transportation corridors, and the Federal survey process stemming from an act of Congress in 1850 leading to the settlement-era Donation Land Claim system. Base Line Road, now SE Stark Street, had been developed extending from the Willamette River eastward to the Sandy River starting in 1854. Sandy Boulevard itself followed the path of the old "Sandy Road" which was used by many pioneer settlers to reach destinations from landing sites along the Columbia River.<sup>36</sup> The northern edge of Hazelfern Farm was Barr Road (now Halsey Street), which had been in usage from at least the early 1890s.

By 1888, the City of East Portland had limited horsecar service connecting it to Portland. This initial service was provided by the Willamette Bridge Railway Company just after the completion of the Morrison Bridge in 1887, the first to connect the east and west sides of Portland. Meanwhile, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, already operating a rail line from the east through Sullivan's Gulch (where I-84 is today) terminating in East Portland, was planning to construct a rail crossing over the Willamette River.<sup>37</sup> Ladd had granted the company an easement through his property in 1881. The Steel Bridge was completed in January 1889 and steam- and electric-powered trolley lines soon proliferated through East Portland. Much of the farmland on the east side of the river, including Hazelfern Farm, now held a higher potential for residential development that would accommodate the growing city. Both East Portland and Albina, the area north of Sullivan's Gulch, were annexed to Portland in 1891.

After his father William S. Ladd passed away in 1893, William Mead Ladd and his brothers formed the Ladd Investment Company to manage his father's estates. Ownership of at least some of Hazelfern Farm was challenged by Terrance Quinn's daughter, and the case was finally settled by the U. S. Supreme Court in Ladd's favor in 1906. He sold Hazelfern Farm in 1909 to the Laurelhurst Company, in what became known as one of the largest sales of vacant land in Portland's history. The farm property was renamed Laurelhurst after a similar neighborhood in Seattle that the principal of the Laurelhurst Company, Paul Murphy, had designed and marketed.<sup>38</sup> The Laurelhurst Company bought Ladd's property for $2 million with the intention of redeveloping the landscape to create a "premier residence park".<sup>39</sup> The company, in addition to Paul Murphy and Frank F. Mead of Seattle, was headed by Charles K. Henry and H. R. Burke, both of Portland. The Laurelhurst Company mortgaged the land back to William M. Ladd for $1.1 million to pay for the infrastructure and improvements. The company, led primarily by Murphy, also began an extremely sophisticated and multi-pronged marketing campaign to sell a certain lifestyle exemplified by Laurelhurst.<sup>40</sup>

In addition to the property's central, well-connected location, there was another big selling point: Laurelhurst Park. The Olmsted Brothers' 1903 Parks plan for the City of Portland envisioned Laurelhurst as one of several large, well-designed east-side parks, and the plan finally came to fruition (though slightly scaled back) when the Parks Bureau purchased a part of the Hazelfern Farm property from the Laurelhurst Company in 1909. Originally called Ladd Park, the Park property included not only the "swampy" area recommended by the Olmsted Brothers' plan, but soon also a wooded area at the southeast end of the park extending all the way to Stark Street, at the south end of Laurelhurst. Emanuel Tillman Mische, Portland's new Parks Superintendent, completed the layout for Laurelhurst Park. Mische was a horticultural specialist and landscape architect who had worked for the Olmsted Brothers for nine years prior. He based his designs for Laurelhurst Park on the work that the Olmsted Brothers had completed.<sup>41</sup> Mische was also responsible for the design of Peninsula Park and Terwilliger Boulevard in Portland.<sup>42</sup>

Development in Laurelhurst Starting in 1910

In the first decade of the 20th century, the expansion of streetcar lines from West Portland and the downtown area, across the river, and onto the East Side marked a pivotal point in Portland's history of suburbanization. The property value of vacant land on the east side of the river increased tremendously as a result. By the spring of 1910, Laurelhurst was fully platted.<sup>43</sup> Coe Circle at the geographic center of Laurelhurst housed the real estate office, as well as a stop for the Glisan Avenue Montavilla line streetcar, one of two lines running directly through Laurelhurst before it was subdivided.<sup>44</sup> This line, much more so than the Sandy Boulevard streetcar line, did appear to create an attraction for early lot sales in Laurelhurst.

The first houses to be developed in Laurelhurst were the Walter and Carrie Everett House at 535 NE Hazelfern Place and the P. S. Easterday House at 600 NE Royal Court.<sup>45</sup> Walter N. Everett, an experienced home builder and architect, completed his house first in the spring of 1910 (see Figure 13). Several other houses, including two on NE Mirimar Place, another on NE Royal, another on Hazelfern, one on NE Floral Place, and one on NE Hassalo, were complete by the end of that year. All of these locations are within a block or two north or south of Glisan Avenue and the Montavilla streetcar line, and west of Cesar E. Chavez Boulevard. One of the Laurelhurst Company owners, Charles K. Henry, was reported to be waiting for the completion of his house on block 1 near the center of Laurelhurst.<sup>46</sup> Both the Henry family and the Keeney family were temporarily residing in "the old Ladd mansion" on the same block. The mansion was planned to be moved off Laurelhurst to a location north of Sullivan's Gulch, which "will remove the last relic identifying Laurelhurst with its past as the Old Hazel Fern Farm, of the famous Ladd estate."<sup>47</sup> Landscape designer Thomas Hawkes designed the layout of Block 1 in Laurelhurst for four showcase homes (three were built; see Figure 16). The layout was published in the Oregonian in July, 1910. Hawkes' other work included the grounds of the Isaac Hodgson Jr. House in Portland. He also worked in Chicago, where he designed the grounds for the South Shore Country Club, completed in 1916.

Houses quickly began rising across the new neighborhood, and by 1914, the community included 500 homes as well as a new Laurelhurst Club despite the recession following World War I that year. Another 200 homes had been built by 1920. The settlement of enough young families to the area warranted the construction of the Laurelhurst School in 1923 and a playground in the park in 1925. In 1935, only 10% of the neighborhood remained undeveloped.<sup>48</sup> Laurelhurst's population continued to increase until the onset of the Great Depression in 1929, when homebuying and development reached a low once again until just after 1940.

Residents of Laurelhurst

The published marketing materials produced by the Laurelhurst Company often referred to houses by the names of well-known or highly regarded residents who had purchased or built them. In this way the social cachet of Laurelhurst was advanced. An incomplete list of some of the important Portland citizens who resided in Laurelhurst during the period of significance (1910-1948) follows:

- H. Russell Albee was the Mayor of Portland from 1913 to 1917. The house at 3360 SE Ankeny, constructed in 1912 and listed individually on the National Register, was designed for him by architect A. E. Doyle.
- Jantzen and Zehntbauer Families: Portland Knitting Company, later Jantzen Knitting Mills, was founded in 1910 by Carl Jantzen, John Zehntbauer, and C. R. Zehntbauer. Lawrence & Holford designed the Carl C. Jantzen house at 132 NE Laurelhurst, constructed in 1917. The John A Zehntbauer house at 3627 NE Couch, also designed by Lawrence & Holford, was built the same year. The John R. Dodson House at 3641 NE Couch, 1927, was owned by Jantzen Company manager John Dodson and designed by Roald & DeYoung.

- Dr. Henry Waldo Coe was a doctor specializing in mental health issues who founded Morningside Hospital, and known also as a philanthropist who donated four major statues including Laurelhurst's Joan of Arc to the City of Portland. Coe resided at 412 NE Royal Court starting in 1919 towards the end of his life.
- Dr. William Holden resided at 4105 SE Oak Street, designed for him and his wife Faye by architect F. Manson White and built in 1922. Dr. Holden was the director of the Seventh Day Adventist Sanitorium on Mt Tabor from 1903 until 1955.
- Engelbert and Joe Franz, brothers originally from Austria, founded Franz bakery in 1906. They both resided in Laurelhurst, at 3512 and 3652 SE Oak Street, respectively.
- Gertrude Glutsch Jensen was a leader in the protection of the Columbia River Gorge, a member of the Portland Women's Forum and later appointed to chair the Columbia River Gorge Commission in 1953. Gertrude resided at the house at 4035 SE Ash in her teen years with her mother, a divorcee, as well as after her marriage to husband Frederick Jensen.
- Dr. James P. Tamiesie resided at 21 SE Floral Place starting in 1915. Tamiesie was a respected and prominent physician in Portland. The house was designed by architect Newton C. Gauntt.

Transportation

More than any other aspect of the development of Laurelhurst, transportation and growth patterns defined Laurelhurst as a classic "Streetcar suburb." The Montavilla streetcar line began operation in 1892 on a route that took it eastward from downtown, across the Morrison bridge to Ankeny via Grand Avenue, East 28th, and along Glisan to 80th Street. This route extended through Hazelfern Farm prior to any land divisions occurring there.<sup>49</sup> A trolley line operated along Sandy Boulevard by 1907, serving the newly platted Rose City Park development.<sup>50</sup> A second line was launched along Glisan in 1910, running straight through the center of the neighborhood. This was the first line to serve the Laurelhurst neighborhood directly. In addition, the Sunnyside and Mt. Tabor lines that had been running along Belmont Street since before 1892 (initially as horsecar lines) were at a walkable proximity to the south end of the future Laurelhurst neighborhood (see Figure 9). By 1919, there were five streetcar lines serving Laurelhurst, three on Glisan and two on Sandy in addition to the lines running on Belmont (see Figures 9 and 11).<sup>51</sup> Across East Portland, streetcar lines not only allowed for residential growth, but spurred new commercial nodes at transportation hubs. By 1920, Portland boasted 198 miles of streetcar tracks.<sup>52</sup> Nationwide, the apex of streetcar ridership peaked in 1923, when streetcars served 14.8 billion Americans.<sup>53</sup>

Big changes were occurring in transportation modes across the U.S. during the exact period that Laurelhurst was being developed and built up. The Model T, the first affordable automobile in the U.S. produced through the assembly line process, became available in 1908, and automobiles steadily grew in popularity throughout the 1920s and 30s. Increasing numbers of upper-middle to high-income households adopted the use of automobiles. Car ownership soared as they became more reliable, affordable, and as roads and highways were improved.

Cars made their initial impact on Laurelhurst by the addition of garages to house them. As early as 1910 when the first homes were being designed in Laurelhurst, the layout for the development of block 1 near Coe Circle included a garage in the center of the block to be shared by four homeowners. "Instead of having unsightly garages on the sidewalks, as seen in Irvington and other fine residence districts, the owners have decided upon a community garage in the center of the block.”<sup>54</sup> As early as 1914 the promotional materials developed by Paul C. Murphy to market the neighborhood began to feature automobiles in the images. Murphy took out a full-page ad towards the end of 1914 promoting a naming contest for a single block in the SE quadrant being developed with bungalows and a mid-block alleyway (see Figure 17). The ad offered that for the first six homes sold in the block, the Laurelhurst Company would give each buyer a new Ford Roadster.<sup>55</sup> By 1924, 83% of the developed lots in the southeast quadrant of Laurelhurst included a garage, all of which were freestanding.<sup>56</sup> Soon, new clusters of suburban shopping districts catering to car owners sprang up close to Laurelhurst, such as the Hollywood commercial district at 42nd and Sandy Boulevard.

The “streetcar suburbs” that had fostered a massive expansion of suburban growth in many U.S. communities from the late 1890s into the 1920s were in turn dwarfed by the influx of the automobile. The Laurelhurst neighborhood was greatly affected by road construction challenges, and also significantly impacted transportation improvement projects itself. Progress in the construction of transportation systems clashed with the neighborhood’s location as the population of surrounding eastside neighborhoods grew and demanded better access to the downtown area. Streetcar use was in decline and the Portland Traction Company began a conversion of aging streetcar lines to gasoline bus lines or electric trolley buses during the 1930s. The Sandy Boulevard streetcar line was removed in the 1930s and replaced with electric trolley coaches by late 1936 (see Figures 10 and 24).<sup>57</sup> Though the war years created a brief respite for streetcars while fuel was rationed, there was a continuous push to remove the aging streetcars throughout the early 1940s. In 1945, the Portland Traction Co declared that it would eliminate all remaining streetcar lines.<sup>58</sup> It took another few years, however, for this goal to be achieved. By 1948 all east-side streetcars in Portland had ceased operation.<sup>59</sup> In Laurelhurst, the Glisan-Montavilla line was one of the last streetcar lines to remain in operation; this was probably in part because the line served more middle-class communities further east who did not have the means to purchase an automobile as early as residents of Laurelhurst did.<sup>60</sup> Ultimately, the automobile served as a more effective way of commuting to the City Center, and continued to increase the residential and commercial value of suburban areas on the outskirts of Portland.

Construction of the Banfield Freeway (I-84) was completed in 1958, effectively separating the northwest corner of Laurelhurst from the rest of the neighborhood. As a result, homes were removed on NE Chico and NE Senate Streets to make way for the new freeway. Evidence of this can be seen on a map today where I-84 creates a major division between Laurelhurst’s former northeastern corner and the relatively intact neighborhood to the south.

The neighborhood demonstrates the results of Portland’s early transit system that triggered the city’s expansion and enabled family life to be removed from the center of the city yet efficiently connected to the downtown hub of business and commerce. In this sense it was a true suburb, representing an idealized plan for residential living. The curvilinear streets were laid out with an eye for beauty as well as harmony between the structures and the environment. Laurelhurst remains one of Portland’s oldest intact East Side neighborhoods, and illustrates an era of tremendous suburban growth in Portland’s history, made possible by streetcar networks.

Social and Economic Trends

The layout and development of the Laurelhurst neighborhood was strongly influenced by the national City Beautiful movement. This social movement was initially a crusade for reforms in many facets of public and private life, pushing for food and water systems, schools, and cities to be more healthful and science-based in the period after the Industrial Revolution. The City Beautiful movement incorporated these progressive, egalitarian reforms with a drive for cities to be shaped to reflect beauty, harmony, system, and order.<sup>61</sup> The movement started by about 1890 and achieved nationwide popularity by the turn of the century based on three major influences. The first and most cited was the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893 in Chicago, which exhibited a forward-looking belief in science and technology, but also had an idealized "white" aesthetic taken from European and classical culture. The McMillan Plan of 1901-1902, revising Pierre L'Enfant's earlier plan for Washington, D.C. with radial boulevards was also inspirational. Finally, the work of prominent landscape architect and planner Frederick Law Olmsted, Sr. also strongly influenced the rise of the City Beautiful ideals of civic beauty and rational planning across the U.S. during this period.

City leaders in Portland sought the assistance of the Olmsted firm for the design of the 1905 Lewis and Clark Exposition, but also in the design of parks throughout the City. The recommendations by the Olmsted Brothers firm in 1903 provided advice for the City on acquiring more park lands and in what locations, and how to pay for and administer parks. John Olmsted (Frederick Law Olmsted's stepson, in practice with his stepbrother Frederick Law Olmsted Jr.) also encouraged the City to hire a more knowledgeable park superintendent. In 1908, Emanuel Mische, who had worked for the Olmsted Brothers firm, was hired as Parks Supervisor.<sup>62</sup> Mische would ultimately be able to put his Olmsted training to good use in the design and layout of Laurelhurst Park.

Economic Trends in Portland 1900 to late 1940s

The Lewis & Clark Exposition, in 1905, marked the beginning of a period of prosperity and growth for Portland. Portland's population almost doubled in the single five-year period from 1905-1910, from 110,929 to 207,214 residents.<sup>63</sup> All of the new development escalated land values so much that when the city finally allocated money to achieving Olmsted's park system vision in 1909-1910, the plan had to be cut back. Even so, the City was able to purchase critical east side park lands including Laurelhurst for $93,000, Sellwood for $47,000, and Mt. Tabor for $245,000.<sup>64</sup>

With the outbreak of World War I in Europe, the American economy was impacted. Portland's construction industry experienced a downturn in 1913-17, perhaps in part due to shortages of building materials. Construction of new houses in Portland dropped from 2760 in 1912, to a low of 226 in 1917.<sup>65</sup> This began to reverse by 1917, when the U. S. entered the war, but another period of economic depression "left Portland with stagnant, even declining growth throughout the 1930s and early 1940s."<sup>66</sup> Portland's experience mirrored the trend across the United States during the Depression years, with a 95% drop in new home construction from 1925 to 1933.

The 1940s marked a period of major economic development, mainly due to advancements in the automobile industry. As a result of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1921, the rising popularity of cars in the 1930's, and the post-WWII recovery from the Great Depression, residents of Portland could live much further away from their jobs than they could even with the development of streetcars only thirty years prior. Suburban development and lifestyles became even more appealing.

Paul C. Murphy and the Laurelhurst Company

Paul Cole Murphy was born in 1876 in Mount Vernon, Ohio, but grew up in the Puget Sound region. Murphy was involved in banking and real estate during his 20s in Everett, Washington, and got married in Seattle in 1901.<sup>67</sup> By 1906, Paul C. Murphy was a development partner in a residential venture headed by Joseph McLaughlin on Lake Washington in Seattle called Laurelhurst. After the success of that subdivision, Murphy formed another real estate development corporation in Portland, which he headed up. Murphy initially commuted to Portland from Seattle for some years, until about 1914 when the family moved to Portland permanently. The 1910 census shows Paul C. (age 32) and wife May F. Murphy, son Paul, May's mother, and a servant residing together on 17th Avenue in Seattle. However, the family also owned a substantial property in (Seattle's) Laurelhurst, at 3011 E. Laurelhurst Drive, built in 1908 according to King County tax assessor records. The large and impressive house, along with its 3.5 acres of property on Lake Washington, was sold in 1919 for $35,000.<sup>68</sup>

The Laurelhurst Company in Portland included Murphy and Frank F. Mead, who had also been a partner in the Laurelhurst development in Seattle, as Vice Presidents. Charles K. Henry, President of the company and a Portland native, was a commercial real estate broker. Henry himself had acquired quite a portfolio of real estate in Portland, including many unbuilt lots in Laurelhurst, but by 1914, with prices for real estate stagnating, Henry may have found himself in an untenable position.<sup>69</sup> He sold his many properties and moved to Pasadena, California by about 1917.<sup>70</sup>

Paul C. Murphy meets the definition of a "community builder" as defined in the Historic Residential Suburbs in the United States, 1830-1960 Multiple Property Listing document. As such, Murphy was a planning innovator and a leader in the regional real estate industry. Murphy was more than just a savvy marketer and regional real estate entrepreneur. He was instrumental in developing a Federal policy known as the Own-Your-Own-Home (OYOH) campaign. Murphy, by 1918 the president of the Portland Realty Board, and working with Franklin T. Miller, vice-president of the National Federation of Construction Industries, and K. V. Haymaker, with the United States League of Building and Loan Associations, created the campaign in order to promote home ownership.<sup>71</sup> The idea was not only to encourage banks and insurance companies to make loans easier to get, but also to promote a type of lifestyle idealized by the suburban developments created by Murphy himself.<sup>72</sup> He served as chairman and director of the OYOH committee of the powerful National Association of Real Estate Boards (NAREB) starting in 1917. By 1919, the OYOH department was established within the Federal Department of Labor.<sup>73</sup> Murphy spent a great deal of time in Washington DC during the period 1917-1919 in order to head up one of the divisions of the Department of Labor, authoring much of the promotional literature for the federal OYOH campaign.<sup>74</sup>

By 1923, Murphy's involvement in Laurelhurst was lessened, as most of the available property in Laurelhurst had sold by then. Murphy joined the Ladd Estate Company in 1923, focusing on a new development in Lake Oswego, Oregon. He and a partner, Frederick H. Strong, purchased the Ladd Estate Co by 1926. In addition to spearheading the Lake Oswego, Forest Hills, and Lake Grove developments, Murphy had helped to promote Eastmoreland, Westmoreland, Westover Terrace, and Irvington developments in Portland. He died in California at the age of 81.<sup>75</sup>

Neighborhood Site Planning

Laurelhurst was named after a successful 1906 Seattle neighborhood designed by Paul C. Murphy and the Laurelhurst Company. Seattle's Laurelhurst is similar in size to Portland's Laurelhurst, but is located on a peninsula on Lake Washington. Perhaps partly due to its topographic conditions, the layout of Seattle's Laurelhurst is less cohesive as an overall plan, showing a mix of long rectangular blocks with curving perimeter streets following the irregular edge of the land.<sup>76</sup> In contrast, Portland's Laurelhurst layout is more intentional. In Portland, the Olmsted Brothers landscape firm had made some preliminary plans for the layout of the Laurelhurst development, featuring curvilinear streets. However, the Laurelhurst Company asked the Olmsted Brothers not to design the full neighborhood plan for Laurelhurst but to work with their engineer to lay out "a few main lines of curved roads only."<sup>77</sup> Using the Olmsteds' design for inspiration, Paul C. Murphy, principal developer and executive of the Laurelhurst Company, working with engineer George Cottrell, laid out the design.<sup>78</sup> The Olmsted Brothers had envisioned Laurelhurst as a neighborhood of winding streets with an abundance of trees and lush gardens. A curvilinear street pattern with lush "rolling" landscaping would unveil the neighborhood's picturesque scenery as residents moved through it, and differentiate the neighborhood from the rigidity of the downtown close-knit city grid. The curvilinear streets would emphasize the "country in the city" atmosphere.<sup>79</sup> The layout would also respect the original topography of the land, allowing for buildable land to occupy existing hills or high spots while streets would be laid between them. Interestingly, the plat design evolved quite a bit between the plan published in the Oregonian newspaper on May 2, 1909 (see Figure 14) and the design of the first (NW) quadrant plat, finalized on September 4, 1909 (see Figure 4).<sup>80</sup> The earlier plan does show the streetcar lines along Sandy Road and East Glisan Street as straight streets in contrast to other east-west curvilinear streets, but the layout reverts to an orthogonal grid east of Cesar E. Chavez Boulevard. The axes and radial streets inspired by Beaux-Arts classicism were a late addition to the plan and make Laurelhurst the only neighborhood in Portland to illustrate a combination of these two City Beautiful-era principles.

The Laurelhurst Company provided buyers with a list of amenities that many other neighborhoods did not have in the early 20th century to promote a "better way of living". Streets were cut to follow the natural topography of the land to preserve the "rolling" hills and to allow homes to be built higher than streets to provide a buffer away from the street. The design also specified that houses were to be set 22' from the sidewalk to give each home a front yard.<sup>81</sup> This layout provided a greater amount of space and a level of privacy that residents in the downtown area did not have. Even the water and sewer lines were constructed with wider piping than typically used to allow for Laurelhurst residents to have full water pressure at all times.<sup>82</sup> Trees were planted along the street frontages with the initial layout to allow them to grow and enhance the full neighborhood rather than planting as each lot developed. The Laurelhurst Company had also sold a portion of their property to the City to construct a community park, and had set aside parcels for a neighborhood elementary school as well as for

Infrastructure, "Furniture," and Lighting

Laurelhurst was laid out, designed, and developed by a private developer in the "Community Builder" role without the contribution of the City. This meant that the streets, sidewalks, gas mains, water, and sewer lines were all put in and included in the price of individual parcels. As a prime example of the City Beautiful Movement in Portland, Laurelhurst also contains some "street furniture" features such as gates and lighting, constructed in the neighborhood to improve the attractiveness of its streets and lots.

The Laurelhurst Gates, four pairs of arches (eight total) that mark entry into the neighborhood at the major streets on the western and southern edges of the neighborhood, were built in 1910. The gates were first mentioned in ads for Laurelhurst in September, 1909, as being located in the northwestern "entry" on Sandy Boulevard. By December of that year, permits were taken out for two gates (pairs of arches), each pair for $2000, at Glisan and 33rd and south of Sandy Boulevard at the juncture of Peerless Place and Multnomah, to be built by Philip Neu. The gates were constructed of Blue Tenino sandstone, quarried in Tenino, Washington.<sup>84</sup> By early February, 1910, ads prominently featured drawings of one of the decorative archways and noted that there were to be four (pair) total (see Figure 15).<sup>85</sup> One of these eight archways was removed south of Sandy Boulevard, likely in the mid 1930s when Sandy was widened and the streetcar tracks were removed.

Also in early 1910, Oregonian ads featured drawings of a decorative three-globe gas street light, to be installed throughout Laurelhurst.<sup>86</sup> By October, 1910, ads in the Oregonian reported that the "cluster lighting system" decorative poles had been installed throughout the northwest quarter. There were eventually 240 cluster lights installed across the whole of Laurelhurst. The Laurelhurst Company had agreed to pay for lighting the neighborhood for eighteen months, but by August 1913, after three years of gas streetlight operation, the company ceased funding their operation. Residents offered the lights to City ownership, providing that the city pay for their alteration from gas to electric.<sup>87</sup>

The grading, paving, and utility work was completed in quadrants under the supervision of City Engineer R. S. Greenleaf, starting with the northwest and then moving to the southwest. Imperial Avenue was the first street to be developed, starting in October 1909. The Oregonian reported that over the summer of 1910, "There have been working over 600 men, steadily, 200 teams, two automatic grading machines and two huge steam shovels." "... hard-surface streets, 26 miles in all, are being laid."<sup>88</sup> While all the streets were to be asphalt, it was also noted that "nearly all the work of laying the brick between the tracks" along the Montavilla streetcar line on Glisan had been completed. This line was running on "temporary tracks" in the fall of 1910, and an image of the streetscape from 1921 along Glisan shows brick between the tracks as well as along the outside of the tracks.<sup>89</sup>

A statue of Joan of Arc was donated by Dr. Waldo Coe and erected in the center of the neighborhood at the circular piece of land at East Glisan and Cesar E. Chavez in 1925, and the circle was promptly named Coe

Circle.<sup>90</sup> Coe Circle was originally the location of the land-sales office, which occupied the site until the 1920s. The bronze equestrian statue (now gold painted) is a copy of a statue in Paris created by the sculptor Emmanuel Fremlet.<sup>91</sup> By 1930, Coe Circle officially became a Park.

Laurelhurst Park

Laurelhurst Park is 27 acres, not counting the southern “playground” block between SE Oak and SE Stark, and is located on the southern edge of the neighborhood. The Park paths, features, and layout were designed by Emanuel T. Mische who worked as the parks director for the City of Portland from 1908 to 1914 and as the former horticulturalist for the Olmsted Brothers. Mische was instrumental in adding a southern parcel to the area of the Park, creating a larger area than originally called for in the Olmsted Brothers’ 1903 Portland Parks Plan.

Mische believed Laurelhurst Park to be “one of the most elegant of the park system properties.” He was responsible for its design, including a variety of plantings, the installation of a lighting system, construction of a restroom facility, and a wide network of picturesque pathways. By 1916, Firwood Lake had been created out of what had been a spring fed pond. In 1919, the Pacific Coast Park Association voted Laurelhurst Park the most beautiful park on the West Coast.<sup>92</sup>

In 1921, as the City Beautiful Movement of the 1890’s was waning but still influential, a bond measure in Portland showed the growing primacy of the Playground Movement; park planning was still an important civic goal but became more focused on smaller, active park acquisition and design.<sup>93</sup> Beautifying the urban environment through planning and grand design continued to remain a priority for Portland, and it was a point of pride for urban leaders that Portland retained so much green space even with the fast pace of development throughout the city.

Laurelhurst Park was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 2001. The nomination found the land within the boundaries of the park, including Concert Grove, Children’s Lawn, Plateau Meadow, Broad Meadow, Picnic Grove, and Rhododendron Hill, to be contributing sites. Ankeny Street Comfort Station, the park’s circulation system, and Firwood Lake were found to be contributing structures. While the block at the south end of the park between SE Stark and SE Oak Streets was not included within the nominated historic park site, the block was acquired by the City of Portland between 1921 and 1922 for playground use, and is part of Laurelhurst Park.

Setbacks and Trees

During the period of planning and layout for the neighborhood, setbacks and shade trees were envisioned as a part of an overall scheme of “ornamental landscape gardening.” Blocks and streets were created by carving around the hills in the neighborhood, and houses were located a distance from the street to provide privacy for each house through setback as well as height. Setbacks for each block frontage varied, but were typically 20 feet from the property line to the front of the house. Rights-of-way followed a pattern of at least 1’ between the actual front property line and the sidewalk, then 6’ wide concrete sidewalks, and a wide “parking strip” to ensure that large shade trees could have ample space to thrive. This last dimension was published in various dimensions from 8’ to 10’. Asphalt streets were typically planned at 26’ wide.<sup>94</sup> Over 2,200 shade trees were planted at intervals of 30’ along the parking strips between 1910 and 1916. Varieties chosen were described in a 1910 newspaper article as “maple, linden, cut-leaf, purple-leaf birch, elm, and hawthorne.”<sup>95</sup>

Mische was able to apply his considerable influence as Parks Superintendent not only to the development of parks, but also to influence street tree planting styles and species. “In Mische’s 1910 report, he ...commented on the unsatisfactory state of street trees in the city, noting conflicts with the city electrician and engineer. With full responsibility for street trees, only when the city had planted them, Mische had to share the power to regulate tree trimming with the engineer and electrician at all other times."<sup>96</sup> Mische was supportive of the development of neighborhoods such as Laurelhurst with wide planting strips as locations where trees could thrive and create the "City Beautiful" environment he sought. Mische worked to put in place "a city-wide tree planting program to flow trees out of parks onto streets."<sup>97</sup>

Legislative and Regulatory Impacts

Zoning Codes

Portland's first zoning ordinance was enacted in 1920, and did not therefore have an initial impact on Laurelhurst's already existing layout, platted for residential uses in 1909-10. However, the integrity of Laurelhurst as a residential neighborhood was strongly supported by its zoning code status as one of the designated "single family" neighborhoods, given to those well-organized and generally affluent neighborhoods such as Mt Tabor. The more working-class neighborhoods of the east side, such as Sunnyside and Buckman, were designated "multifamily" which allowed a much greater variety of residences including apartments.<sup>98</sup> The adopted zoning designations of 1920 worked in tandem with the deed restrictions already imposed by the Laurelhurst Company, "permitting the erection of only single detached dwelling houses and schools."<sup>99</sup> These building regulations were put in place to prevent "deterioration" or "blight" that was then perceived to have had afflicted the mixed use areas of the city. The neighborhood was seen as being a true suburb, removed from Portland, and marketed as a "high class residence park."<sup>100</sup>

Deed Restrictions and Discrimination

The 1906 Laurelhurst neighborhood in Seattle, developed by Seattle native Paul C. Murphy in collaboration with Joseph McLaughlin and Frank Mead, contained the following racially discriminatory restriction. "No person or persons of Asiatic, African or Negro blood, lineage, or extraction shall be permitted to occupy a portion of said property, or any building thereon except a domestic servant or servants who may actually and in good faith be employed by white occupants of such premises."<sup>101</sup> Deeds in Portland's Laurelhurst development came with similar racial restrictions reading "...nor shall the same or any part thereof be in any manner used or occupied by Chinese, Japanese, or negroes, except that persons of said races may be employed as servants by residents..."<sup>102</sup> These types of racially exclusionary restrictions were unfortunately all too common in the white suburbs of the Pacific Northwest. In 1948, the U. S. Supreme Court struck down such discriminatory covenants on real estate.

To put this blatantly discriminatory language in context, it is important to understand that states in the Pacific Northwest, Oregon perhaps most of all, were at least as hostile to people of color as any state in the Union. When Oregon became a state in 1859, the state constitution outlawed black people from living in or owning property in the state.<sup>103</sup> During the early 1920s, the Ku Klux Klan, an organization which was born out of the Civil War to return power to Confederate whites, became the largest single social organization in Oregon. It was common to see full-robed parades, cross burnings, and torch-lit rallies in public places during this time, and in 1923 Oregon elected an open member of the Ku Klux Klan as governor.<sup>104</sup> Racially discriminatory deed restrictions were written into the covenants for many suburban developments in Portland, including at least parts of the following: Mock's Crest, Ladd's Addition, Palatine Hill, Ferncrest, Cedar Hills, Irvington, Piedmont, Lake Oswego, Grant Park, Hillsdale, Raleigh Hills, Alameda Park, Eastmoreland, Westmoreland, and Rose City Park.<sup>105</sup>

But deed restrictions were hardly the only mechanism preventing people of color from living anywhere they wanted in Portland. "The other method of White control of the location of African American residence was the practice of the local real estate industry to prevent the sale of homes in areas that were formerly all White by licensed real estate agents. In 1919, the industry formally included an article in its Code of Ethics that called for punitive measures against any agent who sold a home to an individual who would have a "detrimental" effect on "property values." These were well understood code words prohibiting the sale of homes to African Americans outside of the Albina area."<sup>106</sup> Albina, a close-in area of some of the oldest east-side development in Portland, increasingly became the home of the poor and disadvantaged.

Deed restrictions in Laurelhurst also prohibited the production and sale of alcohol to maintain a level of propriety among its residents and to protect its goal for a "better way of living." Restrictions in Laurelhurst made it very clear that the neighborhood was targeted toward young families of at least a middle-income bracket. Standard 50 x 100 lots were available for $2,500, and each house had to cost at least $3,000. Many of the houses being constructed throughout the early years of Laurelhurst's development were reported as costing $3500 to $5500. Lower prices were observed, however, in newspaper real estate listings both for vacant lots and for new house construction.<sup>107</sup> Towards the end of 1914, the Oregon Journal ran a somewhat sour assessment of lot values in Laurelhurst, listing a very long comparative assessment value vs list price of various lots in each quadrant of Laurelhurst, warning the buyer not to "get bunked" (presumably, overpay).<sup>108</sup>

Marketing

Paul C. Murphy's experience in promoting home ownership in the federal OYOH campaign came partly from his own local advertising for the Laurelhurst development. Ads placed for Laurelhurst in newspapers and in promotional materials at the time illustrate the primary tenets of Paul Murphy's OYOH campaign and of the "social engineering" that was being sold. The sheer volume and size of advertisements in the Oregonian appear unprecedented by another development in Portland. There was plenty of competition in the market to sell lots or houses. East-side lots or completed houses were, by 1910, already selling well in Alameda, Rose City Park, Rossmere, Irvington, and other areas, and by 1917 Eastmoreland became a big player as well. Yet none of these approached the sheer media blitz apparently organized by Murphy. Laurelhurst seems to have rated some special treatment in the Oregonian, with consistently enthusiastic reporting or extensive quotes by Murphy in a blurring between reporting and advertising (see example: Figure 22).<sup>109</sup>

In late 1914, Murphy ran a competition in the Oregonian, soliciting nominations for naming the block and alley being developed as the "bungalow block," in southeast Laurelhurst (Figure 17). He offered $10 to the winning name, noting that "if you will visit this block No. 102 and look it over in connection with the surroundings it will greatly assist you in selecting a name."<sup>110</sup> After several months and over three hundred submittals, Murphy, with great fanfare, selected Mrs. Alice Clay's suggestion of "Fernhaven Court."<sup>111</sup> This name was used hereafter in reference to the bungalow block.<sup>112</sup> As previously noted in this nomination, the competition also offered free Ford Roadsters to the first buyers on the block.

There were a number of social or emotional prongs to Murphy's advertising. The overarching one was to promote the narrative that Americans were a nation of home-owners, and that the desire to own one's own, freestanding, single-family home, was shared by all (white) Americans. Murphy provided a values and identity story, in which he and other Community Builders such as J. C. Nichols in Kansas City made a distinction between an owned "home" and a merely rented "house." In this narrative, owning a home is linked to healthy family life, the appropriate performance of traditional gender roles, virtuous citizenship, and the realization of the "American Dream."<sup>113</sup> Murphy directly tied home ownership to patriotism in a number of speeches he gave, including at the National Association of Real Estate Boards convention of 1919.<sup>114</sup> In the Laurelhurst advertisements, home ownership was the sign- indeed, the requirement- of a nuclear family father figure who successfully provides for the family. An advertisement for life insurance in the expensively-printed 1916 Laurelhurst sales brochure provides an example of this emotional appeal. "The real problem which confronts the real father is what kind of life insurance is best suited for child protection. ... There are a great many Daddy-Men in this country... They are all citizen soldiers of a great Army of Preparedness. WE belong to this Army."<sup>115</sup>

Financing

During the prosperous 1920s, American home owners commonly could access short-term loans requiring annual or semi-annual interest payments and full repayment of the principal after only 3 to 5 years. Home owners, as a result, often were seeking to refinance or take additional mortgages, sometimes renegotiating loans every year. During this era when borrowing seemed low risk, Laurelhurst went through an extraordinary building boom. However, the stagnant economy of the 1930s was preceded by a series of disasters that occurred at financial institutions across the U.S., including a number of bank failures in Portland. Loans became much harder to come by, and the valuation of existing homes plummeted. In response, the government created the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) in order to provide mortgage insurance. The FHA also stipulated that only certain home designs were eligible, typically designs that were more traditional in style such as Colonial Revival or Minimal Traditional. With the publication of these housing standards, the impact on home building practices would be felt for several decades.<sup>116</sup> Houses became smaller, less elaborate, and yet often more "conservative" in style, employing a few simple design moves to recall traditional historic design vocabulary or technique.

Starting with the 1932 Federal Home Loan Bank Act, a series of federal laws were passed to make financing available for the purchase of owner-occupied homes. Federal home mortgage insurance was codified by the National Housing act of 1934, and the Federal Savings Loan Insurance Corporation was established as well.<sup>117</sup> The Home Owners Loan Corporation, started in 1933 under Franklin Roosevelt, devised a rating system for valuing (or undervaluing) housing by neighborhood. Although the systemic practice of racism in home ownership existed long before this, the system of formally grading neighborhoods by the ethnicity of their residential occupancy (and by the age of the structures) became known as "red lining."<sup>118</sup>

With the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944—commonly known as the GI Bill— providing home loan guarantees for veterans, the post-World War II housing construction boom was initiated. Veterans were able to directly use their benefits as the down payment for a house.<sup>119</sup> Again, however, the Veterans Administration followed FHA procedures and attitudes towards housing policy, resulting in a more conservative bent towards traditional house styles.<sup>120</sup>

Residential Designers and Architects

The Laurelhurst neighborhood includes houses designed by a number of architects over the past decades, many of whom were famous for their accomplishments in the design of other important Portland buildings and the development of Portland as a whole. A 1916 retail brochure for the Laurelhurst neighborhood expressed that the architects that contributed to the variety of styles in the district were “past-masters at the art of working out ideal interior arrangements, conveniences and appointments to insure one’s comfort, happiness and physical well-being”.<sup>121</sup> Therefore, it was widely understood that the architecture of Laurelhurst residences was designed in a manner that would support this new romantic way of living.

Ellis Lawrence, or the partnership of Lawrence & Holford, Architects, designed a number of homes in Laurelhurst in the late 1910s. The Paul Murphy residence at 3574 E. Burnside Street, designed by Lawrence & Holford, received accolades for its “picturesque” design in the July 1919 issue of “The House Beautiful.” By November of that year the house was named one of the ten best examples of architecture in Portland by that same publication.<sup>122</sup> The 1916 house is individually listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Other houses by Lawrence & Holford include the John A. Zehntbauer House, 3627 NE Couch; “Laurelhurst House #9” at 3632 NE Davis; William G. Holford House, 3706 NE Davis; John W. Kelly House at 108 NE Laurelhurst; and the Carl C. and Emma Jantzen House at 132 NE Laurelhurst Place.

Many other well-known Portland architects designed at least one residence in Laurelhurst, including A. E. Doyle (“Mayor’s Mansion” at 3360 SE Ankeny), Herman Brookman (Harry A. Green House at 3316 SE Ankeny), Walter E. Kelly (Alfred & Nettie Ruby House at 211 NE Cesar E. Chavez Blvd), and John Bennes (Carl Little House at 3711 NE Davis as well as 3701 and 3633 NE Davis).

“Pattern book” houses, many of which were designed on paper by well-known architects, have a good representation in Laurelhurst. Several publications refer to “fifty homes” developed in the neighborhood by Paul Murphy in approximately 1919.<sup>123</sup> The “testimonials” in the back of Yoho & Merritt’s Craftsman Bungalows 1920 pattern book claim that these were Yoho & Merritt bungalow designs. “...I received a letter from Mr. Paul C. Murphy, of Portland, Oregon, in which he says, ‘...of them all we found the Craftsman Designs were by far the most attractive as well as more practical from the standpoint of floor plans, and so far we have used them almost exclusively in the erection of some fifty bungalows.’” Yoho & Merritt designs identified from this book alone in the neighborhood include design #322, built at 4130 E Burnside (see Figure 20); design #468A, built at 420 NE Laddington; and a slightly simplified version of #634, built at 4111 SE Ash (see Figure 21). Other pattern book designs have also been identified in the neighborhood, including those from Aladdin (“Villa” at 3541 NE Couch), Henry Wilson Bungalows (#397, at 4206 NE Glisan- see Figure 19), Universal Plan Service (#553, at 4244 E Burnside), and other suspected matches. Reportedly, architect Joseph Jacobberger designed some house plans that were used in the neighborhood, specifically at 3947 SE Oak Street.

Finally, a number of “model homes” were constructed in Laurelhurst, in order to illustrate the capabilities of a builder and to show certain products or finishes that might be obtained or replicated. One such example is the

E. M. Heacock House at 635 NE Hazelfern, constructed in 1930 using a number of finish materials sold by Mr. Heacock and constructed by A. H. Irwin.<sup>124</sup> The "All-Oregon Home" at 939 NE Hazelfern was constructed by the A. R. Johnson Co to showcase local products, and landscaped by Theodore Knapp in 1931.<sup>125</sup> The "Brick House Beautiful" at 4005 NE Davis Street was designed by architect Otis J. Fitch (with working drawings by architect O. M. Akers) for A. H. Wethey Jr, President of the Standard Brick & Tile Company. The house, completed in 1923, is listed individually on the National Register of Historic Places.

Significant Individuals

The following architects or builders made a significant contribution to the development and evolution of the Laurelhurst Historic District during the years 1910-1948.

Portland-area architects involved in Laurelhurst:

- Ellis Lawrence or Lawrence & Holford designed the Murphy House at 3574 E Burnside as well as a number of others in Laurelhurst between 1909 and 1929. The nine homes in the "Laurelhurst Group of Cottages" were designed by Lawrence and Holford and laid out by the firm in collaboration with George Otten, landscape designer. Lawrence was an architect who practiced in Portland for 40 years. He was in practice with William Holford, an MIT classmate, from 1913 until 1928, when Fred Allyn and Ormond Bean joined the firm. In the Laurelhurst neighborhood, Lawrence & Holford designed in the Classical Revival, Arts & Crafts, Mediterranean, and English Cottage styles.<sup>126</sup>
- Ora M. Akers designed at least 2 homes in Laurelhurst during the 1920s, including the J. A. Menzies house at 607 NE 32nd Avenue, 1213 NE 37th, and did working drawings for one individually listed on the National Register ("Brick House Beautiful" at 4005 NE Davis). He also produced a 1924 "pattern book" of home designs, called The Telegram Plan Book, published by the Portland newspaper of the same name.<sup>127</sup>
- John Bennes & Eric Hendricks designed a number of residences in Laurelhurst for the Chapin-Herlow Mortgage and Trust Company. Six of these were to be "modern two-story buildings" (as reported on January 1913); another four were reported to cost $5500 each (May 1912). One of these designs is the Carl M. Little House at 3711 NE Davis St.
- Ewald T. Pape designed the Dr. Raymond Staub house and the J. P. Griffin House, both on East Burnside. He was not technically an architect but was known primarily for the fine design of his apartment buildings.<sup>128</sup>
- Doyle & Patterson designed the "Mayor's Mansion" (Albee residence) at 3360 SE Ankeny. The architectural firm was responsible for many iconic Portland structures such as the Wells Fargo Building. At one point, this firm had surpassed Whidden & Lewis as the most influential firm in Portland.<sup>129</sup>
- Joseph Jacobberger was a prominent Portland architect for 40 years. He joined with his partner Alfred H. Smith in 1912, and designed the All Saints Church (now demolished) in the Tudor Gothic style in 1918. Jacobberger also reportedly designed some house plans or "patterns" that were built in the Laurelhurst neighborhood such as 3947 SE Oak Street.
- Roberts & Roberts was another architecture firm led by brothers, William A. and Bruce W. Roberts. The firm designed at least 8 residences in Laurelhurst in 1912 alone, most for the Provident Trust Company. A third architect and brother, Earl A. Roberts, was for a time in practice with William and Bruce. Earl Roberts was responsible for at least two Laurelhurst designs himself for the Lawyers Abstract and Trust Co, though he appears to have been primarily based out of Seattle.<sup>130</sup> Like O. Akers and other architects, E. A. Roberts produced his own catalog of house plans for sale (Roberts Home Builder, 1909).

- Kenneth Birkemeier was an architect-builder whose career spanned the 1930's to 1950's. He designed two houses in Laurelhurst as well as many more in the Alameda area of NE Portland.
- Charles Ertz or Ertz & Dole: Ertz was a prolific architect who worked on commercial and residential projects in Portland for 40 years. His partnership with Dole lasted only about a year, in 1912.<sup>131</sup> Ertz designed the Eighth Church of Christ Scientist as well as at least a couple of homes at 4135 and 4200 NE Flanders Street in Laurelhurst.
- Edward L. Merritt, though not a Portland architect, developed a series of pattern books with partner Jud Yoho. Their designs were used in Laurelhurst in at least a handful of instances. Merritt practiced in Seattle and may have had a connection with Paul C. Murphy. Yoho & Merritt published various books of Craftsman bungalows, several (perhaps many more than that) of which are constructed in Laurelhurst.

Prominent Builders associated with Laurelhurst

- Albin M. Pajunen, builder of the Holahan residence at 128 NE Cesar Chavez Blvd, the Kelly house at 108 NE Laurelhurst Place, houses at 3632 NE Davis Street and 3905 E Burnside Street, and other fine houses in Laurelhurst. Pajunen also constructed McArthur Court on the University of Oregon campus. Pajunen immigrated from Finland in 1905.
- Spencer McCain, early builder of the now-demolished showplaces Homer Keeney residence and Charles K. Henry residence, as well as 444 NE Floral Place and others in greater Portland such as the R. W. Shepherd house.
- Frank A. Read constructed at least 13 homes in Laurelhurst, including his own 1924 residence at 3469 NE Oregon Street, where he lived until his death in 1950. He also constructed at least 18 homes during the late 1930s in the Alameda area of NE Portland, where he leaned stylistically toward Colonial Revival and Tudor styles.<sup>132</sup>
- Walter N. Everett was an architect and contractor working in Laurelhurst during the 1910s. He built his own house on Hazelfern Place which is the first house constructed in Laurelhurst, as well as multiple others that he sold, including at 109 SE 41st Avenue, and at 520, 530, 535, and 745 Laurelhurst Place.
- Augustus P. Smith constructed at least 18 homes in Laurelhurst, including six on NE Couch in the 1922-1923 time period (3234, 3244, 3256, 3306, 3727, and 4015). He himself lived in Laurelhurst with wife Letia at 454 NE Floral Place from at least 1920 until his death. Smith moved to Oregon from West Virginia and was born c. 1869.
- Nels O. Eklund, builder of residences in the late 1910s and early 1920s at 1215 E Ash Street, 3944 SE Ankeny Street, and 3967 and 4011 E Burnside Street, among others. Eklund, wife Signe, and family resided at Sandy Blvd. and 60th Avenue. Nels and Signe had immigrated from Sweden. By 1930 Nels Jr. (18 as of the 1930 census) was also working as a contractor.
- Thomas B. Winship, very prolific builder of homes at 3935, 4217, and 4229 NE Laurelhurst Place, 3935 SE Pine Street, 6 and 43 Meikle Place, and multiple others in Laurelhurst throughout the 1920s. Winship immigrated from England in 1915 and resided in Rose City Park. For some time he was in partnership as Turner & Winship.
- Willis M. Chandler constructed at least 10 homes in Laurelhurst, including two "matching" houses at 4330 and 4336 SE Pine Street in 1923. Chandler was age 38 at the time of the 1920 census.
- George E. Weller built 846 NE 43rd Avenue, 3224 E Burnside Street, 4227 NE Flanders, 4358 NE Glisan, 66 and 75 NE Meikle, 3423 NE Multnomah, and likely others in Laurelhurst. His houses trend towards Colonial Craftsmans. He also built the A.L. Carson House in the Irvington Historic District, designed by Lawrence and Holford. Weller emigrated to Oregon from Nebraska; he and his wife, Maude, lived on 50th Street with their sons in 1920.

- John Cleland was another architect/builder active in the neighborhood from as early as 1915 to as late as 1938. He was originally from Pennsylvania, and lived on Division Street with his wife Marion and two children in 1920. Cleland built at least 14 homes in Laurelhurst, sometimes with Judson A. Hubbell, with whom he owned the firm Cleland and Hubbell. Cleland designed and built the Dr. Norman D. Hampton house at 3406 E Burnside Street.
- George W. Priest constructed at least 11 houses in Laurelhurst, including almost an entire block frontage in the years 1911 to 1913 on NE Pacific Street, including addresses 3306, 3316, 3326, 3336, 3346, 3356, 3402, 3412, and 3422. Priest had worked in such a scale before in other east-side neighborhoods, including Rossmere, with 29 homes constructed there, and in Rose City Park.<sup>133</sup>
- Robert S. McFarland lived at 325 East 39th Street in 1923. McFarland built at least six residences in Laurelhurst, including those at 3338, 3346, and 3717 E Burnside. He also worked on buildings in other areas of Portland such as an apartment complex at 1806 NE 13th Avenue in the Irvington Historic District.
- William W. Yager moved to Oregon from Kansas, and lived in an apartment building on 5th Street in 1920. He is known to have constructed at least five modest Colonial Craftsmans in Laurelhurst and sometimes partnered with William Bixell.

Verbal Boundary Description (Describe the boundaries of the property.)

The intersection of NE 44th Avenue and NE Senate Street is the northeast corner of the district. Moving south along the middle of the street, the next point (coordinate #1 above) occurs at the southeast corner, at the intersection of SE 44th Avenue and SE Stark Street, then the boundary continues west to a point in the center of SE Stark where it aligns with the mid-block original plat line between SE 32nd and SE 33rd Avenues (coordinate #2 above). Moving north again, the boundary extends along the mid-block line until the center of SE Ankeny Street. It then makes a slight jog westward along the center of SE Ankeny Street, until the intersection of SE Ankeny and SE 32nd Avenue. Then the boundary line continues up SE 32nd, following the curve in the street, then NE 32nd Avenue to reach the intersection of NE 32nd and NE Multnomah Street to the northwestern corner of the district. From here, the boundary extends eastward on NE Multnomah for a short distance, then north to include the first residential property in the block, and continues along the mid-block dividing line between properties fronting Sandy Boulevard and properties fronting NE Multnomah. The entirety of what is currently a parking lot fronting NE 37th Avenue is included in the boundary. The line continues straight across NE Imperial Avenue at the mid-block line until the intersection of this mid-block line with the back edge of the properties fronting Senate Street between 37th Avenue and NE Cesar E. Chavez Boulevard. This point is the most northerly point in the district. From here, the boundary follows the centerline of NE Senate Street back to the intersection of NE 44th Avenue.

Boundary Justification (Explain why the boundaries were selected.)

The original 1909/10 plats of the Laurelhurst neighborhood, occurring successively in four quadrants, were generally bounded by NE/SE 32nd and 44th Avenues, and NE Halsey and SE Stark Streets. The plat boundaries are still strong demarcation lines on all sides for a neighborhood that has remained cohesive except at the north, where changes to use along Sandy Boulevard starting in the late 1930s and the 1958 construction of the Banfield Freeway result in a district boundary that follows the mid-block line south of Sandy Boulevard and then continues eastward on NE Senate Street. The district includes Laurelhurst Park, a 27-acre property listed on the National Register, and is inclusive of the historic resources associated with the development of Laurelhurst from 1910-1948, and the role that Laurelhurst played in the suburbanization of East Portland as a "streetcar suburb" and as a model of the City Beautiful Movement.

The district boundary has primarily been established by the 1909/1910 plat boundary, especially at south, east and west edges where the boundary follows Stark Street at the south, 44th Avenue on the east, and follows 32nd Avenue as well as an internal block division line from SE Stark to SE Ankeny on the west.

Laurelhurst Historic District

County and State

The north boundary does not follow the original plat, which was laid out extending north to Halsey Street. The northeast corner of the district has been severely impacted by highway construction and cut off from the rest of the neighborhood, so the area north of highway I-84 was not surveyed and is not included in the historic district. The northwest corner of the district has been impacted by changes to Sandy Boulevard, including changes to property size due to widening of the street, changes to use from residential to commercial for properties fronting Sandy, and loss of integrity for remaining structures that were constructed during the period of significance. For this reason, the historic district boundary line follows the mid-block property line south of Sandy Boulevard to exclude properties along Sandy. Continuing east, the boundary then follows the south side of the freeway or the centerline of Senate Street to reach 44th Avenue.

Lastly, the two-block area extending to the west between NE Oregon and NE Hoyt Streets has not been included in the nomination. The reasons for this are primarily that the district boundary is more legible and contiguous without the inclusion of the two blocks, and with the Laurelhurst arches marking the edge of the district a block south on Glisan and 32nd Street, these two blocks feel “outside” or westward of that marker. There are some visible differences in the plat pattern there, primarily at the west ends of these blocks, which lack the radial corners of all of Laurelhurst’s blocks. Further, the blocks are not part of the City-recognized Laurelhurst neighborhood, and have not been since at least 1974. Development there skews a bit later than the rest of the neighborhood, with only two houses developed by 1920. While the houses are predominantly contributing in these two blocks, the south half of the block fronting NE Hoyt and the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church has low integrity.

Offer Extraordinary

Six New Ford Roadsters Absolutely Free f. o. b. Detroit With the First Six Homes Bought

of us in a block especially designed for bungalows in Laurelhurst, which is wonderfully located, both as to contour of ground and in respect to its proximity to beautiful Laurelhurst Park, which we are sub-dividing into charming locations for real, typical California Bungalows only. During the past three months we have spent a great deal of time and money in securing designs and plans of some of the most artistic and attractive bungalows in Pasadena and Southern California, and have secured the services of one of the best landscape gardeners in the city to sub-divide this block, laying out beautiful lawns, shrubbery, dainty little garages, and a 20-foot drive with little parks and circles running through the center of the entire block, making the rear of the lots as sightly as the front.

SEE LANDSCAPE GARDENER'S DESIGN BELOW

WANT TO MAKE $10.00?

We believe that this block of beautiful little homes deserves a name of its own, and we will give $10 to the party suggesting the name we think most appropriate for this purpose. Better take a look at the ground first. Names to be submitted by letter. Winner will be announced in Sunday's Oregonian of November 29.

How Can We Give Away Six Automobiles?

We are making this exceptional offer to the first six persons purchasing homes in this block in order to absolutely insure the immediate success of the proposition. We have spent over $100,000.00 in advertising Laurelhurst, and we believe that $2500.00 spent in this manner will bring us quicker results than if we spent a much larger amount in advertising in the newspapers.

Now's the Time to Build

There never was a time in the history of Portland when you could build a home as cheaply as you can right now, and as this particular block has twenty-eight building sites we are able to make a great saving in buying materials and are able to offer you these lovely little well-built houses at astonishingly low figures and on very easy terms.

Our Guarantee

The construction of these dwellings will be guaranteed by us to be strictly in accordance with plans and specifications and the premises to be free from mechanics' liens, relieving the purchaser of a very grave responsibility.

Laurelhurst

is the very choicest and most highly developed close-in residence tract in the city, surrounding beautiful Laurelhurst Park, with its 31 acres of verdant lawns and immense fir trees. Laurelhurst is located in the very heart of the East Side residence district, served by three carlines.

What more could one desire than to own one of these beautiful California bungalows and a Ford automobile? It will give you all the enjoyment and pleasure that one could possibly experience living in the finest mansion in Portland and owning an expensive machine. It will not only enable you to enjoy the pleasures of Laurelhurst, but also to tour over the magnificent roads around Portland at a very slight expense.

Don't Wait

as our offer is necessarily limited and you won't have another chance like this in a hundred years. This is the hour you should rush to the front and buy that little home of your dreams at a saving of hundreds of dollars with a Ford automobile thrown in absolutely free. Come in at 270½ Stark street, Main 1503, A 1515, and see the plans of the dwellings we purpose building. The property will be shown you at your convenience in our automobiles, with no obligation on your part to purchase. We have a tract office at E. 36th and Glisan streets, Tabor 3433, B 1621. Open daily, Sundays included.

HOMEMARKETACTIVE

Best Districts Profit by "Buy-a-Home" Programme.

FINE HOUSES GOING UP

Laurelhurst Developing in Spite of War and Generally Optimistic View Is Held—Cash Is Paid in Many Deals.

"The 'Buy-a-Home' campaign has improved the real estate market in this city," declared Paul C. Murphy, chairman of Portland's "Buy-a-Home-First" committee, yesterday.

"It has given the people the thought of owning their own homes. No doubt a number of sales have already been made as a direct result of this campaign. The merits of the campaign cannot be overestimated. Most persons have a natural desire to own their own homes, and what they need now is a little encouragement and education to induce them to establish themselves in permanent homes.

"The campaign next year will be much larger in its scope and the results will be unquestionably greater. In this great country where land is plentiful and cheap, at least 75 per cent of the people should own their own homes. I believe that they would if they fully appreciated the great advantages which would accrue to them and their families in having a permanent home of their own, and we hope that this campaign will accomplish that purpose.

"The activity that is now going on in Laurelhurst in the way of home construction is greater than it has been for some time. We anticipate doing a very large business this year. It has been noticeable for some time past that more people are buying homes and paying all cash for them than at any other period in the past five years.

Fine Homes Under Way.

"As announced a few weeks ago, we have under construction in Laurelhurst five beautiful homes in one block, being the first units of a nine-house plan, under which the grounds and gardens will be worked out in one harmonious scheme. These will be unusually fine homes and will sell at prices ranging from $11,000 to $13,000, including extra large sites.

"Before starting this venture we studied and considered most thoroughly the future of Portland, as well as the possible increase in the growth of the city. The outlook fully justified our starting the work.

"When the war began, about three years ago, our first inclination was to stop building. We felt somewhat discouraged over the outlook, but after investigating every phase and collecting all the data we could from the Atlantic Coast, we came to the definite conclusion that none of the reports justified stopping our development.

"We went right on with our development the same as before, and we have had no difficulty in selling the houses built. If we had stopped operations we would have lost 2½ years of good substantial business.

"The outlook is now much brighter for the development of Oregon during the next few years than it was at the time the world war began, and the present building activity in Laurelhurst evidences the fact that Laurelhurst homes are selling freely and that many have confidence in the future.

Expensive Homes Being Built.

"In one particular section of Laurelhurst, on East Forty-first street, between East Couch and East Planders streets (within a radius of two blocks), seven houses costing $6000 to $8500 are now under construction."

The following are some of the sales made in Laurelhurst in the past 15 days which have not been reported previously:

Evert Liisanantti sold to Fred Jacobs a 10-room house on northwest corner of East Forty-first and Davis streets for $8500.

B. B. Brumwell sold to Ralph H. Torrey a six-room bungalow on East Forty-third street, near East Couch street, for an all-cash consideration of $3500.

Mr. Brumwell sold to Grey Kyle a seven-room bungalow on the northeast corner of East Forty-third and East Burnside streets for a cash consideration of $4000.

Peter F. Sievers sold to Ralph H. Torrey a lot on Floral avenue, near East Glisan street, for a cash consideration of $1400.

Louise Slatter sold to J. A. Hubbell a lot on East Glisan street, near East Forty-first street, for a cash consideration of $1400. Mr. Hubbell has already commenced the erection of a two-story house costing approximately $6000.

The Laurelhurst Company sold to Eli S. Warner a 75 by 100-foot site on East Burnside street, near Laurelhurst avenue, for a cash consideration of $3575. Mr. Warner is a St. Paul millionaire who, on passing through Portland, became enamored with its climate and future and so enthusiastic over the building sites in Laurelhurst overlooking Laurelhurst Park that he immediately purchased a site and expects to erect a $20,000 home there in the near future.

Laurelhurst Company sold to J. R. Ellison a piece of ground 25 by 150 feet adjoining the southwest corner of East Forty-first and East Oak streets for $1400. This gives Mr. Ellison a 75 by 100-foot site upon which he is about to build a $10,000 home.

L. Allison purchased a lot from the Laurelhurst Company on East Pine street just east of East Forty-first street for $1500.

T. B. Winship purchased a lot on East Couch street near East Forty-third from the Laurelhurst Company for $1300, on which he is erecting a six-room bungalow costing $4000.

Other recent purchasers of Laurelhurst homes include Lloyd Bates, Mrs. L. Talbot, Dr. C. U. Moore and Mary Helen Grant.

267 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/21/2018
									Comments: EC garage. New porch railings. Good integrity, windows appear original. Tuscan porch columns support main side gable roof with projecting eaves with soffit. Eyebrow dormers with fanlight windows.
309 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1924	Shingle	Arts & Crafts	Single Dwelling	3/21/2018
									Comments: Attached garage. Windows have been replaced, but still have multiple-pane (likely grid) bands of three. Steep gable rooflines with no eaves. The entryway is accented by narrow square columns under a projecting gable hood.
319 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	NC	1926	Aluminum Siding	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	3/21/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Siding and all windows replaced, porch columns replaced, railings new. Cross gable roof with steep pitch and rounded cornice.
331 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1928	Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	3/21/2018
									Comments: NC garage/ADU. Windows appear to be in-kind replacements (wood, 6 over 1). Primary roof is a gambrel shape with jerkinhead and no eaves. The front door is accentuated by an arched entryway at the recessed corner porch on the northeast.
409 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1942	Cedar Shake Shingle Stucco	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	3/21/2018
									Comments: EC garage. At least one pair of windows have been replaced, but others appear original. Cross gable roof is clad with wood shingles and features no eaves. Recessed entry has new porch railings, dormer added to rear, not visible from right-of-way.
419 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/21/2018
430 SE 33rd Ave	1	NP	1955	Roman Brick Horizontal Board	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling Ranch w/Garage	3/28/2018
									Comments: attached garage. Windows replaced, no plan modifications unless porch column is new. Low pitch hip roof with wide boxed eaves.
431 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1925	Vinyl Siding	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	3/21/2018
439 SE 33rd Ave	1.5	EC	1923	Aluminum	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/21/2018
									Comments: EC garage. Siding replaced, porch railings added. All windows appear original wood multi-light sashes. Side gable roof features projecting eaves with eave returns, front porch roof matches.

133 NE 41st Ave	2	EC	c.1918	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
									Comments: Contributing freestanding garage on side Alterations: One-story volume on other side was likely originally an open porch. Entry surround appears to be missing.
206 NE 41st Ave Talbot, Lawrence and Hazel, House	1.5	EC	1917	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	11/20/2017
									Comments: House features a prominent front chimney with asymmetrical "haunch", rolled roof edges, and multipane casements or 6 over 1 windows. A few diamond-pane windows visible as well. Alterations: probable half-story pop up addition, but this appears to have some historic integrity (i.e. its windows). Attached garage volume was added after 1950 Sanborn map. Porch facing NE Davis appears to match the Sanborn map, though one cannot access from this side.
225 NE 41st Ave	1.5	EC	1917	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
[House]									Comments: Triangular shaped lot at Davis and 41st. Stucco porch plinths and base, no visible garage. Exterior aluminum storm windows but windows appear to be original multipane, very small vertically-proportioned divisions. Alterations: Porch extended to wrap around to the south after 1950. Garage appears on 1924 and 1950 Sanborn maps but has been removed.
305 SE 41st Ave	1.5	NC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
									Comments: Original sun porch on north elevation. Replacement lap board siding. Shed gable addition on east roof slope, bay window addition on lower story east elevation, and pair of windows on east elevation replaced in-kind. North elevation dormer addition. Clipped gable roof. NC garage, one-car, matching lap board siding, replacement garage door.
315 NE 41st Ave	2	EC	1917	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
									Comments: Alterations: Possible back addition to the south, visible from Flanders, windows replaced with vinyl 4/1 simulated divided lights, garage door replaced with vinyl rollup to look like carriage-style doors, front door replaced, historic side doors. Garage contributing, has roof, siding, and window similar to house. Permit 2003 for addition, side porch entry and basement remodel.
407 NE 41st Ave	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/29/2017
									Comments: Unusual side-entry condition facing 41st, but still has deep porch facing NE Flanders. Two shed dormers, one on either side, may be original. Small contributing garage also facing 41st. Windows all original, have storms.
431 NE 41st Ave Fobert, Alec, house	2	EC	1915	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	11/29/2017
									Comments: Detached garage faces front but sloping ground so below main house. Contributing garage. Alterations: very few, storm windows over original windows. Side porch structure appears original along NE Glisan. Red maple street tree on Glisan over 48" in diameter.
444 SE 41st Ave	1	NP	1951	Cedar Shake Shingle Brick:Other/Undefined	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling	12/11/2017
									Comments: Original front windows, glass block side lights, brick has 3 layers w/ textured center, unique circular bay feature, attached garage w/ new door

									Comments: Has original window openings including some glass block and some horizontal-pane windows. Shallowly pitched hip roof. Garage is on alleyway, EC.
510 NE 41st Ave	1	NP	1952	Horizontal Board Roman Brick	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling Ranch w/Garage	2/1/2018
									Comments: Attached garage is original. Hip roof features projecting boxed eaves, original 2/2 horizontal-pane wood hung windows retained.
532 NE 41st Ave Maxwell, L.H., House [House]; Hyatt, E.B., House	2.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
638 NE 41st Ave	1	EC	1921	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
									Comments: Garage appears on 1924 sanborn, EC but doors have been replaced. House appears very intact, original windows with storms. Probable small side addition. Has covered side porch facing Laddington. Main steps have an interesting exposed-aggregate concrete.
809 NE 41st Ave	1	EC	1938	Cement Fiber Siding	Minimal Traditional English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
									Comments: Alterations: siding replaced, but original diamond, lead-paned windows retained in front. EC garage has modern garage door. One-story extension added on side of the house. Gable roof features medium pitch and no eaves. Clinker brick chimney.
829 NE 41st Ave	1.5	ES	1932	Cedar Shake Shingle Clinker Brick	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
									Comments: EC garage. Wide rolled eaves, no alterations observed. According to owner, this was architect Ken Birkemeier's first house.

				Comments: Garage under house. Vinyl windows, mixture of brick, horizontal board, and board and batten sidings, cross gable roof with little to no eaves.
1112 NE 42nd Ave	1.5	NC	1925	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
				Comments: Alterations: Most windows replaced, second story addition to east ell, patio/porch added to south.
1122 NE 42nd Ave	2	NC	1925	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
				Comments: NC garage. Extensive remodel that transformed an original 1.5-story building to its current 2-story construction; this resulted in new siding and windows throughout. Square porch columns, gable roof with narrow eaves featuring projecting knee brackets and corbels along band course.
1125 NE 42nd Ave	1.5	EC	1934	Shingle Standard Brick	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Front picture window replaced with vinyl, other original windows retained. Cross gable roof features little to no eaves, rounded-edge vertical boards in front gable.
1132 NE 42nd Ave	1.5	ES	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman Neo-Classical	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/29/2018
1137 NE 42nd Ave	1.5	EC	1937	Horizontal Board Cedar Rake Shingle	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Porch railings replaced. Cross gable roof features minimal eaves, upper story gable end has slight jetty, original 6/1 wood hung windows retained.
1140 NE 42nd Ave	1.5	NC	1938	Vinyl Siding Roman Brick	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
1206 NE 42nd Ave	1	EC	1924	Shingle	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
				Comments: Alterations: stairway added to south, porch roof supported on brackets but may originally have had columns. Clipped-gable roof features projecting eaves with knee brackets and bargeboards. Porch roof also has a clipped gable. Distinct original 3/1 wood hung windows retained with vertical-paned upper sashes.

1225 NE 42nd Ave	1.5	EC	1927	Stucco Vertical Board	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
Comments: Alterations: all visible windows replaced with gridded vinyl sashes, one-story volume on west elevation re-clad. Skylights along the front of the shed-roof dormer. Garage faces side street and tucked under house. Lower part of brick chimney has been covered in stucco.
11 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	NC	1918	Cement Fiber Siding Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
21 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
Comments: Sunburst detail in entry porch gable. Gabled roof with gabled front porch roof with returns. NC garage. Front windows have been replaced with vinyl picture windows.
22 NE 43rd Ave	1	NC	1942	Shingle Stone:Other/Undefined	English Cottage Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
Comments: Projected porch with classical details, eave returns. Large addition on the south side occurred after 1950. Most windows have been replaced.
33 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	EC	1923	Vinyl Siding	English Cottage Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/10/2018
Comments: NC garage. Classic Clipped-gable cottage, simple with no dormers. Has multipane windows. Vinyl siding is the only apparent modification.
41 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
Comments: EC garage. Craftsman bungalow has Colonial revival-style round columns across the front porch and a small shed dormer in front. No apparent modifications.
50 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/15/2018
Comments: Dutch colonial roof type with projecting porch with wood sunburst detail. Original windows with aluminum storm windows over. Sun room at side, with a new added pergola. Garage added to side of house at front of lot, deck on top. Upper windows are individually cut into the slope of the roof rather than a dormer. Siding was originally a white stucco, according to 1922 Oregonian article.
51 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	NC	1942	Vinyl Siding	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
Comments: NC garage. Windows and cladding have been with replaced with vinyl, but retains painted brick entryway.

									Comments: Large cedars at corner in planting strip. Small hipped-roof cottage, attached side garage is within an original volume of the house as shown on Sanborn map. Front windows with multilight transoms are original, one next to garage has been replaced. Colonial revival-style pair of round columns at small front porch, roof has boxed-in eaves. Brackets at either side of garage door are an anomaly for the style, could be added.
128 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	EC	1925	Stucco	Mediterranean Revival	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
									Comments: Unique curved wall line where rake board would be at roof edges and fanlight over opening at gable end. Also low curving/undulating walls. Red tile gable roof. 2-car freestanding garage, EC. Alterations: Some window changes on side but integrity generally good
211 NE 43rd Ave	1	EC	1947	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
									Comments: Few alterations, postwar construction. Hipped roof. Original horizontally-proportioned multipane windows w/ exterior aluminum storms. No visible garage.
411 NE 43rd Ave	2	EC	1913	Horizontal Board Stucco	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	11/27/2017
									Comments: Original multipane (mostly 8 over 1) windows, siding, details. Contributing garage. Distinctive half-round portico entry. Gable roof and gabled wall dormers have returns. Upper windows have bracketed windowboxes. Very large evergreen tree next to house.
514 NE 43rd Ave	1.5	EC	1925	Cedar Rake Shingle	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Second story pop-up on rear (east), siding replaced, most windows replaced. One eyebrow dormer, clipped gable roof features eave returns, square porch columns

3950 SE Ankeny St	2.5	NP	1953	Shingle	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling	1/12/2018
			2000	Horizontal Board					Comments: Upper level added over what was a 1-story house. House has a shallowly-pitched gable roof and porch, with unpainted wood timber details. Lower-level attached garage slopes down from sidewalk. Based solely on date of initial 1-story house, this may have once been a Ranch style.
3955 SE Ankeny St Blake, George S. and Bessie, House	1.5	EC	1919	Horizontal Board	English Cottage Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/15/2018
									Comments: Attached original garage, not counted as separate resource (may have been originally, though). Clipped-gable cottage has multi-pane glass enclosures within the arched front porch openings between muscular engaged classical columns. Primary roof, porch, and dormer feature clipped gables.
3963 SE Ankeny St	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
3964 SE Ankeny St	1	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/12/2018
									Comments: Constructed by the Laurelhurst Co. concurrently with 4004 SE Ankeny (builder/ architect unknown). Door and sidelights original but large windows on sides have been replaced. Possible that pergola was added at sides of porch. Garage may have been enlarged.
4001 SE Ankeny St	1	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
4004 SE Ankeny St	1	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/12/2018
									Comments: Constructed by the Laurelhurst Co. concurrently with 3964 SE Ankeny (builder/ architect unknown). Distinctive curving porch extends out centrally. Windows in front extend down full height and appear original, with added storms over. Garage in rear corner, owner believes door original; EC.
4011 SE Ankeny St	1.5	EC	1921	Stucco	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018

4014 SE Ankeny St	1.5	EC	1916	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/12/2018
								Comments: Windows have been replaced, appear vinyl. Otherwise relatively intact, has decorative rafter tails, knee braces, and battered porch piers. Garage in rear appears small and original, EC.
4021 SE Ankeny St	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Craftsman English Cottage	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
								Comments: EC garage. Full width front porch not noted on Sanborn but is original. Eyebrow dormers flank eyebrow arch porch roof. Roof has clipped gables. Original multipane sidelights at front door.
4024 SE Ankeny St	1.5	NC	1920	Cement Fiber Siding	English Cottage Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/12/2018
								Comments: Constructed by the Laurelhurst Co. concurrently with 3964 and 4004 SE Ankeny (builder/ architect unknown). Windows appear original with multipane transoms, have storms over. Clipped gables on the sides of the primary roof and an "eyebrow" curve at the porch. Small bay pop-out added at side. Siding has been altered, probably asbestos shingle. Garage in back appears original, also has clipped gable but NC due to house alterations. Front columns are wrought iron, altered.
4029 SE Ankeny St	1.5	EC	1921	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
								Comments: EC garage. Dutch Colonial featuring two connected upper gable dormers that each contain distinctive keystone arch window frames. Porch appears to have been modified and main entry is located on the side of the house. An addition appears to have been constructed behind the house.
4032 SE Ankeny St	1	EC	1916	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/12/2018
								Comments: Craftsman bungalow detailing including knee braces, decorative massive porch columns. A band of four windows are present on the front elevation but they have been replaced, possibly vinyl. Small side bay pop-out. Garage is small and appears very original including the door, EC.
4041 SE Ankeny St	1.5	EC	1920	Cement Fiber Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
								Comments: EC garage. Siding has been replaced, but this is the only visible modification. Retains distinctive wood tripartite front windows with arched lower frame and multipane uppers in the casement/ fixed windows. Roof has side gable and front porch gable, both with returns. Front shed dormer.
4042 SE Ankeny St	1.5	NC	1916	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/12/2018
								Comments: Front garage in line with house is new and there is a large rear addition to the house. Owner notes that porch was rebuilt in 2011 with lattice supports replaced with columns, also garage rebuilt in 1991 in the same (original) location. Surveyor thought windows replaced but owner notes they are original and restored. Enclosed porch and patio added on SW corner in 2001. Dormer roof raised in 1997 and new windows facing street (wood with grid dividers). South (rear) roof has solar.

				Comments: Upper story features an tri-part arched wood window with a recessed railing sill. Front porch partially enclosed in the 1950s, according to property owner. Two original porch piers were removed, and 20-light wood fixed window was added. Kronenberg house.
3964 SE Ash St	1	EC	1941	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	12/21/2017
				Comments: Original horizontal pane windows, front small octagon window, scalloped asphaltic roof tiles, garage below house door replaced (not a separate resource).
4003 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1916	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
				Comments: Scrolled lintel across full-width front porch with tapered columns on brick piers. Upper story windows may have been replaced. NC shed/garage.
4004 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1925	Stucco Shingle	Colonial Revival English Cottage	Single Dwelling	12/21/2017
				Comments: Central hipped portico w/ classical columns &amp; pilasters, 3 hipped dormers w/ original multipane windows, clipped gable ends, 2 chimneys, garage below house. Some windows replaced with vinyl above garage.
4014 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1919	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	12/21/2017
4015 SE Ash St Hall, Robert G, House	1	EC	1916	Stucco Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
				Comments: No garage observed. Original windows retained, clipped gable roof features wide eaves with soffit, stepped brackets. Large full-height battered piers support porch roof.
4023 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman English Cottage	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
				Comments: Porch exhibits battered columns and a clipped gable roof with knee brackets. Clipped gable dormer has window replacements. Large tri-part window on front façade. Rafter tails are subtle on the main roof and dormer. EC garage.
4024 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	12/21/2017
				Comments: Original windows w/storms, front clipped gable w/ decorative leaded glass window, classical columns, closed eaves tapered along gable edge. Contributing garage appears original form, door replaced.

4104 SE Ash St	1.5	NC	1916	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
				Comments: Vinyl siding is not original. Original rafter brackets. Vinyl soffits have been added at some of the eaves. Most original windows have been replaced. Almost a bungalow in form but porch is quite compact. Garage is below house.
4111 SE Ash St Gramm, Charles, House	1.5	EC	1916	Cement Fiber Siding Wood:Other/Undefined	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/8/2018
				Comments: This house exhibits many distinctive Asian-inspired Bungalow characteristics, particularly in its exposed rafters and peaked gables, despite the replacement siding. It also retains the original wood eyebrow window panes and lattice work in the upper gables. The attached basement level garage is clad with vertical board replacement siding. The exterior chimney on the east elevation has been cut off at the roof eave.
4114 SE Ash St	2	NP	1995	Shingle	Contemporary	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
				Comments: The house is irregularly shaped with a two-car garage opening fronting the street and an entry slot on the side. Windows appear to be fixed, square or horizontally shaped, in various sizes. Shingles are a natural wood finish.
4123 SE Ash St Palmer, L. W., House	1	EC	1916	Horizontal Board Stucco	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/8/2018
[House]				Comments: Relatively intact example of an Asian-inspired Bungalow exhibiting rounded rafter tails and open-gable decorative woodwork recalling pagoda shapes. This is also an exemplary for its approach to horizontality in a Bungalow through an extremely low-pitched "airplane" gable roof. A series of oversized stucco battered columns extend across the front and side, all with pairs of decorative beams above. Banks of narrow windows on side appear original. Front picture window may have been replaced. One minor change appears to be the addition of brick along the tops of the wrapping porch walls. Freestanding EC garage.
4124 SE Ash St	1.5	NP	1951	Aluminum Siding Standard Brick	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
				Comments: Siding has been replaced, windows have been replaced with vinyl. Unique roof, material made to look like tile roof. Garage is below house and is NC with a vinyl door. Added soffits. Diamond glassblock window may be original.
4130 SE Ash St	1	EC	1922	Stucco Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	12/20/2017
				Comments: Large overhanging eaves. Original unique windows with aluminum storms. Front porch has a concrete base and the house has a horizontal clapboard base. EC garage.
4137 SE Ash St	2	NC	1914	Shingle Wood:Other/Undefined	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/8/2018
[House]				Comments: Originally constructed as a one-story dwelling according to the 1925 Sanborn map. A second story addition was added, according to owner, in 2011-12. Craftsman style with Asian influences built as part of Fernhaven Court ("Bungalow fairyland"). NC garage only because of alterations to primary house. Owner notes that the kitchen was enlarged in 1946 and a bay window added, basement also expanded. House still has many distinctive features such as "airplane-wing" roof, huge battered piers, and double fascia.

									Comments: Top story windows have been replaced and the bottom story windows are original with storms. Gambrel roof is iconic of Dutch Colonial style. Full length front porch. Front garage close to the front setback, subterranean, and has a replaced garage door.
4211 SE Ash St	1	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
									Comments: Carved bargeboard gable over the central entry porch features a sunbeam motif. Original wood Craftsman windows, and a stained glass window on the west elevation. NC shed.
4216 SE Ash St Charles, R. E., House	2	NC	1924	Shingle	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
									Comments: Top story addition alters original style. Siding and all windows have been replaced. Front porch has a new bannister and new flooring. Small shed in place of original garage.
4221 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
									Comments: Intact merging of English Cottage and Craftsman styles featuring rolled eaves and eyebrow wood windows. EC garage.
4226 SE Ash St	1.5	NC	1926	Cement Fiber Siding	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
4233 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1916	Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/8/2018
									Comments: Bungalow featuring geometric details and a large front porch. House and porch (including its battered piers) are clad in cedar rake shingles. Two battered trellis columns that mark the front entry are also clad in cedar rake shingles and are separate from the house. A triangular dormer flanks the porch roof. Attached garage accessible from back alley.
4238 SE Ash St	2	NP	1965	Horizontal Board Vertical Board	Modern Period: Other	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
									Comments: Original first-level siding. Upper level addition. All windows have been replaced. Wide overhanging eaves on both levels. Garage is below house, garage door may be original.
4241 SE Ash St	2	NC	1923	Cement Fiber Siding	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
4246 SE Ash St	1	EC	1925	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
									Comments: Unique original windows and half-length porch with Doric columns. Large protruding eaves. No apparent additions. Garage below house retains original door. Brick chimney has a very modern feel with stepped haunch design.

4305 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	c.1941	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
									Comments: Siding may be replacement, but otherwise no modifications observed. Rectangular portico columns support an arched pediment. Two gable dormers flank this portico. A deck was attached above the EC garage that is accessible from back alley.
4308 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1925	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
									Comments: Highly distinctive wood multi-pane original windows and door, original garage doors, and siding. Portico has a clipped gable and Doric columns. Protruding eaves are not boxed except at porch. No apparent additions. Owner notes that decades ago, all siding was replaced (in-kind) on west side, and 4 windows were removed. One new window was put into the bathroom. Garage is at basement level and has plexiglass windows where glass used to be, but door has an irreparable crack.
4316 SE Ash St	1	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
									Comments: Siding and windows appear to be original. Windows have storms. Garage located below the house. Some plan modifications at front porch. Protruding side bay with an alternate entry door.
4319 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/8/2018
									Comments: Craftsman bungalow has original front windows with distinctive multipane transoms, similar original windows also at side. Cast iron porch railing replacements. EC garage.
4327 SE Ash St	1	NC	1924 2002	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
									Comments: Clipped gable roof and an off-set half-width front porch with clipped gable and eave returns. A polygonal bay on the west elevation appears original as of the 1924 Sanborn map. NC garage faces the alley. Owner notes that all windows were replaced with vinyl, previous owners added a large dormer and skylights in 2002, and the rear of the house was expanded with alterations to the roof. Owner also notes that they are in process of enclosing the front porch to create a foyer. [Update note, 1 Aug 2018: House has been altered; front porch infilled. House is no longer contributing.]
4328 SE Ash St	1.5	EC	1926	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	12/20/2017
									Comments: Garage is attached and beneath the house. All original windows with wood storms. Rear pop-up addition that extends the roofline upward. Windows on the addition are in-kind.
4336 SE Ash St	1.5	NC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	12/20/2017
									Comments: Large back addition seen from SE 44th ave. Semi-attached garage. Siding has been replaced. Windows on the addition match existing in-kind.

				Comments: Attached rear garage has tri-fold door with multipane lites and has upper story living space. Porte cochere is original, featuring cut-out wood Arts &amp; Crafts-style columns. The house is capped with a clipped gable roof featuring projecting boxed eaves and a rounded front-facing gable over the entry porch with bellcast ends. Two front facing gable dormers have the same distinctive shape. Most observable windows appear to be original wood multi-light windows with very small panes.
3465 E Burnside St Hurt, C. B., House	2	NC	1914	Stucco	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	3/19/2018
				Comments: NC garage. The house, though still distinctive, has been extensively modified- it was originally capped with a hip roof with wide boxed eaves, its upper story windows featured planter box sills, and its distinct wide chimney on the front (south) elevation had a flared design. The eaves have since been cut off and parapets added, blocking the hip roof from view, planter box window sills were removed, the exterior chimney has been encased with a straight design, and the porte cochere has been altered.
3506 E Burnside St	2	EC	1915	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Neo-Classical	Single Dwelling	3/14/2018
				Comments: EC garage. All windows appear to be in-kind replacements, 8/1 hung sashes with shutters. The house is capped with a low-pitch hip roof with projecting eaves with modillions. The entry portico features Doric columns supporting a decorative entablature exhibiting classically-inspired fluted tassel decals under a pedimented gable with molded cornice. The house also exhibits pilaster cornerboards.
3517 E Burnside St Staub, Dr. Raymond, House	2.5	EC	1932	Standard Brick Horizontal Board	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	3/19/2018
				Comments: Upper story windows replaced, second-story addition to east elevation. Cross gable roof with no eaves and steep asymmetrical pitch over recessed entry. Entry surround and one lower bay have stone facing. Also some half-timbering on an upper level area of the front. Attached garage not original.
3522 E Burnside St	2	EC	1923	Stucco	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/14/2018
				Comments: Attached garage. Upper story windows have all been replaced with vinyl windows; first story retains all original wood multi-light sashes. 3703 E Burnside St DuPuy, A. L. and Jessie, House	1	EC	1913	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
Comments: EC garage noted on 1924 Sanborn map as concrete- blocked by fence, but roof visible. House has a distinctive symmetrical design with matching gables on either side. Alterations: three windows on front (south) have been replaced with vinyl windows; all other windows are original wood multi-light hung windows. The house is capped with a cross-gable roof that features very distinct bargeboard with projecting purlins and exposed rafter tails.
3710 E Burnside St	2	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/14/2018
Comments: Attached garage. The garage has been extended to the east, and the pair of 6/6 hung windows on the front are new. All other windows appear original 8/8 wood double hung windows. The house is capped with a side gable roof with boxed eaves and eave returns, and three gable wall dormers. The recessed entryway is accentuated with Doric columns under an arch hood lintel.
3717 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1928	Cedar Rake Shingle Half Timbering	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	3/12/2018
Comments: attached garage. The house is capped with a cross gable roof that is clipped on the east elevation and has a bellcast over the west elevation garage. Upper gable end is jettied on corbels, filling in the roof overhang. The recessed entryway is accentuated with massive timber framing, and all visible original windows have been retained.
3726 E Burnside St	2	EC	1924	Stucco	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/14/2018
Comments: attached garage. No modifications are observed. An intact combination of Colonial Revival with Craftsman windows- wood hung multi-light sashes, with shutters. The house is capped with a side-gable roof with boxed eaves and eave returns.
3731 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/12/2018
3804 E Burnside St	2	EC	1926	Stucco	Colonial Revival Mediterranean Revival	Single Dwelling	3/14/2018
3807 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1927	Shingle	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	3/12/2018
Comments: Original concrete porch replaced with wood, 2013. Garage under house has been converted to living space. Original windows retained, wood sashes with lead divisions; upper gables exhibit Palladian windows. The house is capped with cross-gable roof with narrow eaves and eave returns.

3925 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1911	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Rafter tails extend below the roof on the front façade and knee brackets along the eaves on the sides of the house. The front porch is partially enclosed and exhibits three split pier supports. Clinker brick front porch and exterior chimney. Oval lead glass windows in upper shed dormer. EC garage.
3933 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1923	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Replacement vinyl siding. Centralized half-length porch features battered pier supports and a barrel-vaulted pediment projection. The upper gable dormer features this same barrel-vaulted shape. NC garage has been modified.
3934 E Burnside St	2	EC	1917	Horizontal Board	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
Comments: The house exhibits a squat hip roof with wide projecting boxed eaves that is also mimicked in the offset entry porch. This porch also features rectangular pier supports with brick bases. Windows have likely been replaced. EC garage.
3941 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
3948 E Burnside St Egan, G.F., House	2	EC	1916	Horizontal Board	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
Comments: NC garage has replacement siding. A highly evocative example of the Prairie School style through its grouped wood windows, recessed paneled, square porch columns, and wide boxed roof eaves. Original narrow 6/1 wood hung windows retained throughout, wide boxed roof eaves. Upper rear sleeping porch appears to have been infilled.
3953 E Burnside St	1.5	NC	1925	Vinyl Siding	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/15/2018
Comments: Siding and porch columns have been replaced. Other porch modifications have occurred. Front-facing porch gable and side gables on house feature eave returns. Small upper gable dormer. NC garage has undergone modifications but still exhibits distinctive eave returns.
3954 E Burnside St	1.5	NC	1920	Synthetic Siding; Other/Undefi	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
3957 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Rolled shed roof dormer may be original, very distinct. It exhibits a five-part window. Full-length porch features four Doric columns. Side of house exhibits a double gable with eave returns. Garage located below house on front façade.

3966 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
Comments: EC garage. Eyebrow dormers with multi-light windows. Centralized open porch features an arched roof and Doric columns. A large picture window exists on either side of the main entry and each contains aluminum storms. The front door is framed by two multi-light sidelights.
3967 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1918	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Full-length porch roof is distinctive with a combination pediment gable and hip roof. Porch also exhibits split pier supports. Knee brackets are present on the upper dormer and sides of the house. Possible addition to the back of the house. NC garage has been modified.
4006 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1916	Synthetic Siding: Other/Undefi	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Distinctive parallel gable front porch roof features keystones and knee brackets, window frames have distinctive low-pitch, flat gable hood. NC garage.
4011 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1918	Horizontal Board Stucco	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Porch features heavy stucco piers and brick edging. The house and upper gable dormer exhibits distinctively carved rafter tails and knee brackets. Protruding bay located on the side of the house. Classical-inspired pilaster entryway added, takes away from overall Craftsman detailing, but not significantly.
4018 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1916	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: EC garage. Carved exposed rafter tails and brackets, gridded upper sash wood windows are Craftsman in style. Full-length porch with a clinker brick base and columns.
4021 E Burnside St	2	NC	1927 2018	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
Comments: Property under remodel. Main entrance located on the side of the house. Arched forms in the roof line denoted the placement of upper-level windows on sides of the house. Possible additions to the opposing side and back of the house. Front-facing façade exhibits a single tri-part window and a uniquely shaped hipped roof with a shed portion that extends below the general roofline over this front section. House also exhibits an English cottage-style stucco chimney. Garage is not visible, may have been removed.
4028 E Burnside St	1.5	NC	1916	Aluminum	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: NC garage is not visible from the right-of-way. Replacement wood-textured beveled aluminum siding, window replacements. Full-length porch with pier supports that exhibit beveled siding above brick bases. Centralized upper dormer and house exhibit a roof with closed soffits.
4033 E Burnside St	1.5	NC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/15/2018
Comments: Garage appears in its original historic position but plan shows it being extended towards back of the lot, NC. Carport added to east elevation in front of garage and upper gable window replaced. Many modifications to the front porch that have resulted in an enclosed section and a freestanding brick pier base, no longer a bungalow form.

4112 E Burnside St Garbe, W C, House	1.5	EC	1916	Stucco Cast Stone	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
Comments: Replacement shingle siding does not detract from the distinctive features that evoke a Japanese-inspired Bungalow. These features include low-pitched gable roof with curved peaks and rafters that continue into the porch supports made of clinker brick and stone, eyebrow wood sash windows, and distinct wood front door with decorative glass panes.
4130 E Burnside St Pike, Nelson G., House	1	ES	1915	Stucco	Mediterranean Revival Art Deco	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
[House]									Comments: EC garage. Flat roof features projecting eaves. Decorative carved window hoods. Horizontally-divided windows are a later addition.
4140 E Burnside St	1	EC	1916	Horizontal Board Stucco	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
[House]									Comments: EC garage. Shallow "airplane wing" cross-gable roof. Porch sidewalls and massive pair of square porch columns are stucco. Four over one windows.
4148 E Burnside St Friendly, Seymour C and Maud, House	1.5	EC	1916	Horizontal Board Wood:Other/Undefined	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
Comments: EC garage. Retains all visible original wood multi-pane sash windows. Porch has two massive columns with short battered caps supporting a slightly arched beam, fascia boards have decorative notched ends. Broad, low "airplane wing" roof and decorative porch railing panels with cut-outs. Low shed dormer in front has long horizontal multipane window.
4206 E Burnside St	1	EC	1917	Aluminum Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
[House]									Comments: House has medium-pitch cross-gable roof with wide bargeboard and knee braces. Porch roof has slight bellcast. Decorative porch railing cut-outs. EC garage. Multipane door, sidelights, and windows appear original. Front porch columns are battered on their outer sides and are covered with siding. Aluminum siding except at gable ends, which retain original shingle.
4212 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1925	Stucco	Spanish Revival	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
Comments: NC garage. Distinctive octagonal chimney on northeast corner. South elevation has incurred vinyl window replacements, sliding door with later metal hood, and shed dormer window replacements.
4222 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1927	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
Comments: Side-gable house has a shallow pitched roof. Porch gable roof and front gabled dormers have similar "keystone" details and fascia board details. South elevation has incurred a shed enclosed addition with a greenhouse window and a shed dormer addition with vinyl hung windows.
4232 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Cape Cod (Type)	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
Comments: Severe steep-pitch gable roof featuring narrow eaves and a central gable hood and stoop. Original window pairs on north elevation feature plant box sills. Two skylights have been added to the north roof slope and a modern hood replacement covers the east elevation entry. EC garage. House matches 4312 Burnside, same builder.

4235 E Burnside St	1	NC	1923 1955	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
			Comments: In 1955 the house was moved from 3524 NE Sandy. EC garage. Symmetrical front façade has a shallowly-pitched projecting hipped porch with a pair of classical columns. Picture windows have an arched multipane transom, original.
4244 E Burnside St Benson, W.W., House	1.5	EC	1924	Stucco Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/10/2018
4302 E Burnside St	1	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
			Comments: Parallel eyebrow dormers flank the eyebrow-inspired arched entry porch that has incurred new porch column modifications. Entry door features distinctive decorative raised pilaster, keystone detailing, and sidelights. Clipped gable roof with central peak. NC garage is barely visible from the street and does not match contributing house.
4312 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Cape Cod (Type)	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
			Comments: Cape Cod with a steep pitch and a very small gable entry stoop. No garage- "wheel strips" on side of house. Dipartite 6-over-1-lite windows appear to be original. Brick chimney on side of the house.
4320 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Cape Cod (Type)	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
			Comments: One story addition to rear (south elevation) detracts from the simple styling of this Cape Cod, and includes vinyl hung windows. A window on the east elevation gable has been replaced with a sliding sash of indeterminate material. NC garage.
4321 E Burnside St	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/15/2018
			Comments: No garage. Most windows have been replaced. Addition to the side. Extensive vegetation on the fence prevents further viewing. Projected front porch with classic details. Dutch colonial roof. New landscaping. Retains good integrity.
10 SE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	2.5	EC	1917	Aluminum Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
11 NE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	1	NC	c.1924	Stucco		Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
			Comments: Attached garage. The house is surrounded by arbor vitae, cannot see much except stucco siding and some multi-light wood windows. Tax assessor records reveal no major exterior modifications in recent years; based on aerial photographs compared to the historic Sanborn maps, no plan modifications have occurred but the lot was initially larger as shown on 1924 Sanborn map. No historic permits on file. NC based only on lack of information.

140 SE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	1.5	EC	1917	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
								Comments: EC garage. House has Colonial Revival-style boxed eaves and returns but has some Craftsman aspects: is asymmetrical and has boxy columns at small projecting porch. Upper front dormer appears added. Some windows appear replaced, but multipane windows are original.
156 SE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	2	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/15/2018
								Comments: EC garage. Classically-inspired projecting pilaster entryway with gable hood featuring sunburst with keystone. Three season porch on south elevation. Projecting bays feature turned spindle railing along rooflines.
208 SE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	2	EC	1923	Horizontal Board Shingle	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
								Comments: Lower windows replaced but other windows intact, other features appear unchanged. Garage appears contributing though door has been replaced.
211 NE Cesar E Chavez Blvd Ruby, Alfred C & Nettie, House	1.5	ES NRI	1927	Rug Face Brick Half Timbering	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	3/6/2018	1/26/2006
								Comments: 2 story Tudor Revival/English Cottage with attached garage. Rolled eaves, central two-story round bay capped with onion dome roof. All original windows retained, stucco'd projecting eaves.
312 NE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
330 SE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	1	NP	1951	Roman Brick Horizontal Board	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling Ranch w/Garage	1/8/2018
407 NE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	1.5	EC	1926	Stucco	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/5/2018
								Comments: garage under house. Upper story windows all replaced with gridded vinyl sashes, lower story retains many original windows mixed with some replacements. Cross gable roof features narrow eaves with molded cornice.
416 NE Cesar E Chavez Blvd	1.5	EC	1923	Stucco Shingle	Arts & Crafts	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	11/29/2017

3534 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1925	Stucco Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	3/15/2018
Comments: This house and one beside (3524 NE Davis) appear to be done in a similar style. It has a central porch with a clipped roof supported by wide brackets and dormers on each side. The windows on this has been replaced. A garage is located below in the basement, and it is a contributing structure attached to the house.
3546 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1925	Stucco Horizontal Board	Tudor Revival English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	3/15/2018
3615 NE Davis St Franz, Joseph and Marine, House	1	EC	1939	Shingle	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
3625 NE Davis St	2	NC	1913	Stucco Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
Comments: NC garage. Sanborn does not note the front (south) to have been an open porch, but its current appearance indicates that it was originally open and has been enclosed. Doric porch columns are placed symmetrically with the porte cochere, and the fenestration is not symmetrical as would be typical of a Dutch Colonial. Some original wood hung windows retained, others replaced in-kind.

3632 NE Davis St Laurelhurst House #9	2.5	NC	1917 1975	Shingle Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	3/6/2018 5/1/1988
Comments: Original attached garage. Front (north) one-story volume added, altering fenestration. Clipped gable roof with narrow eaves and modillions. Original windows throughout. Bellcast gable over garage. Owner notes that the architect for the front bay addition was John Hasenberg, constructed by Jerry Poquette, and that 2 original windows from the upper story were used on the main floor. Owner also comments that the coal chute on west side has been retained.
3633 NE Davis St	2	ES	1913	Stucco	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
3701 NE Davis St	2	EC	1913	Stucco	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
Comments: EC garage is shared with 3711 NE Davis. No modifications observed. Original 8/1 and 10/1 wood hung windows retained with ogees and shutters. The roof is capped with wide projecting eaves with a dentilated cornice.
3706 NE Davis St Holford, William G, House	1.5	EC	1918 1940	Stucco Shingle	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	3/6/2018 5/1/1988
Comments: Original attached garage. Windows replaced on east volume, in-kind. The remaining visible windows are original, and are distinct vertical hung sashes. Multiple rooflines feature clipped gable with projecting eaves and soffit or gable with narrow eaves and molded cornice. Unclear what might have happened in 1940 from previous survey. House appears to be mostly intact.
3711 NE Davis St Little, Carl M, House	2	EC	1913	Stucco Wood:Other/Undefined	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018

4225 NE Davis St	1	EC	1926	Stucco	Spanish Revival	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
								Comments: Lower-level garage likely original, but new door. Not counted as separate resource. House possibly some changes to front windows, but likely same size and patterning as original.
4226 NE Davis St	1.5	NC	1921	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
								Comments: Alterations: No front porch noted on Sanborn, added garage on side attached to house, new vinyl windows. Front stair railing added in center.
4236 NE Davis St	2	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
								Comments: Added carport in front of a garage- a second freestanding hipped roof garage faces side street; contributing. No street trees but a large Monkey Puzzle tree in yard.
4305 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Craftsman Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
								Comments: Garage facing side street appears on 1950 Sanborn map, contributing. Upper windows replaced in dormer-facing front but all other windows and details appear to have had few changes.
4315 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1912	Shingle	Craftsman Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
								Comments: Alterations: Possible addition on NW corner of house - matches style. Windows appear original. (Rear structure at east side belongs to neighboring property)- no visible garage.
4325 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1912	Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
								Comments: Alterations: Additional storm windows outside of original windows, skylights added. Shallow bay across front of house may not be original. A rear garage appears on 1950 Sanborn map between this house and 4315 NE Davis (originally on one large lot) but altered. NC.
4331 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
4334 NE Davis St	2.5	EC	1913	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	11/20/2017

4345 NE Davis St	1	EC	1926	Stucco	English Cottage Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	11/20/2017
Comments: Alterations: Vinyl replacement windows front elevation- match style, but big change. Both large front windows have original decorative hood with botanical pattern. Upper gable end vents also may be new. Original rear garage appears on 1950 Sanborn map, doors replaced.
4346 NE Davis St	2	NC	1924	Horizontal Board	Craftsman Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
Comments: Alterations: 2-story rear addition, also rear garage under construction. Front porch infilled at one side. Hipped roof closed eaves, more Colonial than craftsman. Square piers Craftsman.
4356 NE Davis St	1.5	NC	1917	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	11/20/2017
Comments: Dutch Colonial with jerkin heads- huge cedars in planting strip. A section of the roof eave may have been cut back on front façade. New windows in upper shed dormer, appear to be the appropriate size. Multi-pane windows were probably there originally. Rear addition.
4359 NE Davis St	1.5	NC	1925	Cedar Shake Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	11/20/2017
4366 NE Davis St	1.5	EC	1926	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
3205 NE Everett St	1	EC	1928	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/20/2018
Comments: EC garage. Good integrity. New porch railings. Original wood multi-light windows. Hip roof with boxed eaves. Square porch columns on raked brick piers.

									Comments: Alterations: Some original windows with added aluminum storm windows, window enlargements at front dormer. Rear garage appears on 1950 Sanborn map but appears enlarged; NC. House has Craftsman-style knee braces and rafter tails, roof supported by two square tapering columns.
4321 NE Flanders St	1.5	EC	1916	Horizontal Board Brick:Other/Undefined	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/27/2017
									Comments: Garage attached to neighbor, original as per 1950 Sanborn maps. Windows appear original. Brick chimney, porch piers and base.
4326 NE Flanders St	1.5	EC	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/20/2017
4327 NE Flanders St Dewey, Charles M., House	2	EC	1912	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	11/27/2017
									Comments: Side-entry Dutch Colonial. Windows all changed but replacements are in original locations replicating original divisions, including street-facing patio door and windows (as visible on 1912 photo), awning added. Garage NC due to changes, owner notes that garage was originally a single but was enlarged to 2-car. Garage was always attached to neighbors garage in its original location. Originally 2 houses on a single lot with 4321 NE Flanders. One-story addition on non-entry side.
4339 NE Flanders St	2	EC	1911	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	11/27/2017
									Comments: The house features rafter tails and knee brackets on its main roof and porch. Upper level slightly hangs over lower level on the front façade. Two protruding bays on the first level, one on either side of the central porch. Porch exhibits a gable roof and rectangular full-height columns. NC garage. Alterations: Rear/ side one-story addition. Upper windows new, lower original with storms.
4340 NE Flanders St	2.5	EC	1913	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	11/20/2017
4346 NE Flanders St	2.5	NC	1912	Cement Fiber Siding Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	11/20/2017
									Comments: Very similar in form and detailing to neighboring house at 4340 NE Flanders, but this has gable facing the street. Shingle used at gable end, similar shallow overhang to neighbor. Half of the windows replaced, siding replaced, vinyl garage door. Garage is NC.

27 NE Floral Pl Sechtem, Fred and May, House	2	EC	1914	Stucco Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/19/2018
									Comments: EC garage. First floor addition. First story windows retained, upper story replaced. House is capped with a distinct pediment gable roof with wide projecting eaves and modillions. Second story on south may be new.
111 NE Floral Pl Townsend, T. S., House	2.5	EC	1911	Stucco Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/19/2018
133 NE Floral Pl Finkbeiner, Mr & Mrs E, House	2.5	EC	1922	Stucco Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/15/2018
									Comments: This corner building retains good integrity. A large garage was added on the side, however it is compatible with the style. Most of the windows are originals, as well as the doors. There are floor to ceiling windows in the front façade in the lower level. An inset porch with classical columns is in the center of the house, with a Palladian window above with intricate wood details in the sashes. A sun room is on the side of the building facing the corner of the two streets. A massive chimney is located on one side. Attached garage.
134 NE Floral Pl	2	NP	1950	Stucco Rug Face Brick	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/15/2018
									Comments: Most windows have been replaced. The building is clad with stucco except on the slightly inset front façade lower level that has brick. The main entry is inset in the center of the building, with vertical flush boards cladding the sidewalls of the exterior vestibule. The attached porch on the side appears to be original. Very large attached garage.
341 NE Floral Pl Leander, J. K., House	1.5	EC	1926	Stucco Horizontal Board	Arts & Crafts	Single Dwelling	3/20/2018
414 NE Floral Pl	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/19/2018
									Comments: no garage observed. Good integrity. All windows appear original- wood multi-light sashes. Side gable roof features projecting eaves with soffit and eave returns.
424 NE Floral Pl Lind, Waldemar, House	2.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/19/2018

3200-3201 NE Glisan St Laurelhurst Gates #2		EC	1910	Sandstone	Beaux Arts	Street Furniture/Object	2/7/2018
Comments: The arches were first mentioned in ads for Laurelhurst in September, 1909, as being located in the northwestern entry on Sandy Boulevard. By December of that year, permits were taken out for two pairs of arches, each pair for $2000, at Glisan and 33rd (Gates #2) and south of Sandy Boulevard at the juncture of Peerless Place and Multnomah (Gates #3).
3206 NE Glisan St Markham, Lester B, House	2	NC	1911	Stucco Terra Cotta: Other/Undefined	Spanish Revival	Single Dwelling	3/20/2018
Comments: Garage under house added. A second story was added in 2016 with vinyl windows, metal tube porch railings; the west elevation originally featured a two-story tower capped with a pyramidal roof, now is at the same height as the main portion of the house and has a Mission-style parapet roof with new fenestration pattern. Original windows retained in original portions, distinct Mission-style parapet roof.
3221 NE Glisan St	2	EC	1915	Horizontal Board Cast Stone	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: An associated outbuilding is situated northwest of the house, but its se is not apparent; its location matches that of the garage noted on the Sanborn maps, but the building appears to have been left unused for years, NC. Cast stone porch piers support square tapered columns under hip porch roof with wide projecting boxed eaves, matching main roofline design. No plan modifications observed and distinct wood window sash patterns original.
3226 NE Glisan St	2	EC	1911	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/20/2018
Comments: NC garage. Greenhouse windows added to east elevation. Good integrity, most original windows retained. Square porch columns support shed roof with exposed rafter tails. Main roof is a side gable with projecting eaves and carved knee brackets.
3229 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Eyebrow dormers and porch roof have similar bellcast arch shape; porch features two sets of three square column supports, one window replaced with textured glass on east; all other wood windows retained.
3236 NE Glisan St	2	NC	1912	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/20/2018
Comments: NC garage. All windows have been replaced, porch has been modified with new columns and entablature. The house is capped with a hip roof with projecting boxed eaves.
3241 NE Glisan St Dunn, W. H., House	1	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Most windows replaced, porch railings added. The house is capped with a hip roof featuring, Tuscan porch columns, and wide projecting boxed eaves,
3244 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/20/2018
Comments: NC garage has been enlarged. Fair integrity, most windows appear original with distinct vertical multi-light sashes; the upper gable window has been replaced and the opening is altered. The front porch originally featured brick railings that are no longer present, and some roof purlins has knee bracing additions. The house and porch are capped with front gable roofs featuring projecting eaves with knee brackets and bargeboards.

4131 NE Glisan St	1	NP	1953	Roman Brick	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling Ranch w/Garage	2/1/2018
Comments: Garage under house. Exhibits original design and materials, wide projecting boxed eaves.
4134 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1912	Log: Other/Undefined Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/29/2017
Comments: Windows appear original, some decorative stained glass transoms in front. All have aluminum storms over. Garage appears historic, though after 1924 Sanborn Map. Very unusual siding meant to appear like logs, and half-timbering in front gable has pebble-dash panels.
4141 NE Glisan St	1	EC	1939	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
Comments: Garage under house. All windows replaced. House has a small stoop entry just off-center with a steeply pitched gable roof, but the primary roof is a medium-pitch hip with almost no eave. Two brick chimneys, one interior.
4144 NE Glisan St	2	NC	1911	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	11/29/2017
Comments: Alterations: Porch has been altered; now has gable end with vertical boards; brackets. Sanborn notes house to feature full-width open front porch; no longer present. Likely was more classical at one time. Windows also replaced with aluminum at upper floor only- dormer still has multipane casements. Garage flat roof with brick- may be original but opening filled in; might be repurposed.
4154 NE Glisan St	2.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	11/29/2017
4203 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
Comments: Garage under house. Landscaping features obscure much of the house from view, siding appears to be replacement, but original windows.
4206 NE Glisan St	2.5	EC	1912	Shingle Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	11/29/2017
Comments: Unusually steep pitch on front gable but the form is a foursquare. Also small porch for Craftsman style, appears to have "Chalet craftsman" influence. Windows appear original, many diamond pane windows, storms over. Possible small rear addition. Brick porch has been reduced in size. Projecting corner bay window at front upper level. Garage contributing.
4211 NE Glisan St	1	EC	1941	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
Comments: Garage under house. Original materials and design retained. Side gable roof features narrow eaves, 6/6 wood hung windows with decorative shutters, fluted pilasters frame recessed entry.

Comments: Garage in rear barely visible, but shown on 1950 Sanborn map in that location- potentially it is contributing. Alterations: Sanborn notes house to originally feature a full-width open front porch that is no longer present. Some windows changed to aluminum- front ground floor window and some on sides. Wide and planar form, not a foursquare. Curving porch entry likely original.
4221 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1913	Horizontal Board Field Stone	Tudor Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/1/2018
Comments: EC garage. All windows have been replaced. Exterior exhibits painted field stone porch columns, half-timbering in upper gables combines with exposed rafter tails and angular bargeboards to create a distinct combination of Tudor Revival and Craftsman stylings.
4222 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/29/2017
Comments: Alterations: Stair handrails changed to metal, otherwise very intact. Rear garage appears on 1950 Sanborn map, contributing.
4234 NE Glisan St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	11/29/2017
Comments: House exhibits carved rafter tails, bargeboards, and knee brackets. Two protruding bays on the side of the house. Upper level and dormer feature cedar rake shingle siding while the lower level features beveled horizontal clapboard. Full-length front porch with rectangular pier supports and tapered bases holding up a lintel with curved ends. Contributing garage with rafter tails. Alterations: Possible the upper dormer was enlarged. Otherwise has original windows, battered porch piers, decorative fascia boards and rafter tails.

Comments: EC garage. Severely steep-pitched gable roofs featuring bargeboards and asymmetrical designs. Diamond-paned wood sash windows. Patio on entry may be new or modified.

Comments: Attached garage. Alterations: windows replaced, Second story addition on west elevation.

Comments: NC garage. Extensive modifications- second story added resulted in new siding. 6/1 hung windows of indeterminate material- may be original. Square porch columns support low-pitch hip roof.

Comments: House has had front porch added, north (front) elevation windows replaced, siding replaced. Although covered by storm windows, the multipane windows on side look original. House is capped with a front-facing gable with a crossing hip roof with narrow eaves with soffit. Steeply pitched gable-roof garage is original size and location but NC due to primary house alterations.

Comments: NC garage. Second story added, windows replaced with gridded vinyl sashes. The house still exhibits its original English Tudor design through the steep asymmetrical entry portico roof that features a molded cornice.

4016 NE Hazelfern Pl	2	NC	1942	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. The second story was constructed in 2013, which transformed the house from its original 1.5 stories to 2 full stories. This resulted in new windows throughout, new siding, and altered the roof that now features carved knee brackets that are longer than the roof eaves. However, the first story appears to retain its original footprint as drawn in the Sanborn maps, including the small offset entry porch.
4025 NE Hazelfern Pl	1	NC	1923	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Alterations: replacement siding and vinyl windows. NC garage. House retains distinct features at the central entry porch constructed with square columns that support a gable roof with curved bargeboards and a dentilated cornice.
4026 NE Hazelfern Pl	1	NP	1951	Horizontal Board	WWII Era Cottage (Type)	Single Dwelling WWII-Era Cottage w/Garage	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. The low-pitched hip roof features narrow eaves, and the exterior exhibits two sets of corner windows that evoke the WWII Era Cottage style, although the 1/1 hung sashes are covered by storms and may be replacements.
4034 NE Hazelfern Pl	2	NC	1942	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Extensive remodel that transformed the house from a 1-story residence to 2 stories. The house is capped with a hip roof featuring overhanging eaves and two front-facing gable dormers that feature decorative carved knee brackets that extend beyond the roof eaves. The front porch has been enlarged from a central entry to a full-width porch. New siding and new windows.
4035 NE Hazelfern Pl	1	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: EC garage. Front windows replaced with vinyl, others appear to be original. Gable roof features projecting eaves with soffit; square porch columns support front gable porch roof with curved bargeboard.
4106 NE Hazelfern Pl	2	NC	1942	Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Extensive modifications that have transformed the house from its original 1-story to 2 stories. The house retains the original front porch footprint, although it is now enclosed. The house is capped with a side gable roof featuring projecting eaves and shed wall dormer on the front (north). The first story appears to retain original 6/1 wood hung windows, but the second story exhibits new vinyl windows.
4107 NE Hazelfern Pl	2.5	NC	1924	Horizontal Board Synthetic Siding: Other/Un defi	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Second story added. 10/1 wood sash windows, triple-column porch supports, dentil decals at band course, scrolled decorative knee brackets.
4116 NE Hazelfern Pl	1	NP	1949	Cedar Rake Shingle	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Original windows retained. The house is capped with a hip roof with a crossing front-facing gable over the garage portion that exhibits rounded-end vertical boards on its exterior.

3243 NE Hoyt St	1	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
									Comments: NC garage has been modified. Rooflines feature projecting eaves with soffit, original wood windows retained throughout. Front door sidelights have bottled glass panes.
3244 NE Hoyt St	1.5	NC	1926	Shingle	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Currently being remodeled, has original wood windows and shingle siding for now. Front porch extensively modified-was originally an asymmetrical gable with bellcast, evoking a more English Cottage-inspired design.
3253 NE Hoyt St	1.5	EC	1913	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/7/2018
									Comments: EC garage. Square porch columns, exposed rafter tails, scrolled knee brackets, most original wood windows retained throughout with ogees; upper story windows replaced on west elevation.
3259 NE Hoyt St	1.5	EC	1926	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/7/2018
									Comments: EC garage. Tuscan porch columns, curved bargeboard ends on porch gable, main roof has projecting eaves with soffit, original wood windows retained throughout. Shed dormer added to rear (north).
3906 NE Hoyt St	2	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/15/2018
									Comments: Corner house with original windows on the lower level and replacement on the upper level. Original sun room on the side with historic garage built below, appears to be widened later. Dutch Colonial roof style, with large dormer on front façade. Projected porch with arched gable. The building retains good integrity.
3915 NE Hoyt St	2	NC	1926	Stucco	Colonial Revival Vernacular	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
									Comments: NC garage. All windows replaced and roof is very unusual for the date -has no eave. A number of houses on this block (3915, 3927, 3937, 4001, 4011) were developed at the same time by the same builder and on the same shared lot at least through 1950 (Sanborn map).
3920 NE Hoyt St	1.5	EC	1938	Aluminum Siding Brick:Other/Undefined	Tudor Revival English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/15/2018
									Comments: Windows appear to be original with leaded details. Projected front porch has brick siding with brick cornices. A garage was built in the basement, and has the original door. The building retains excellent integrity.

809 NE Imperial Ave	1	EC 1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/5/2018
829 NE Imperial Ave	2	EC 1926	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/5/2018
Comments: EC garage. Dutch Colonial retains original multipane wood sash windows with shutters throughout. Entryway accentuated with projecting capped pilasters.
830 NE Imperial Ave	1	EC 1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/5/2018
Comments: NC garage-new. Most original windows retained, Tuscan porch columns, hip roof with projecting boxed eaves. New porch ratings, no other modifications observed.
910 NE Imperial Ave	2	EC 1927	Stucco Cedar Shake Shingle	English Cottage Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	3/5/2018
Comments: Attached original garage. All visible original windows retained, multiple rooflines all feature narrow eaves. One-story volume added to rear (east), modern canopy not counted as separate resource. Tax assessor records note that the house underwent a complete remodel in 2014, but no significant plan modifications were observed- it appears to mostly match the Sanborn maps. Tudor styling includes the upper level flare at floorline and half-timbered bay with corbels. English style seen in the clipped gable and hip roofs, prominent chimney.

3297 NE Irving St	2	EC	1913	Cement Fiber Siding Half Timbering	Neo-Classical Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
3301 NE Irving St	2	EC	1913	Stucco	Neo-Classical	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
3309 NE Irving St	2	EC	1915	Horizontal Board	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Intact example of Prairie School architecture. Front full-width porch and main roof lines feature wide projecting eaves with soffit. Square porch columns feature recessed panel detailing and molded caps. Original wood windows retained throughout.
3321 NE Irving St	2.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Highly evocative example of Craftsman style. Rear corner entries have been enclosed, and bay windows on front (south) not noted on Sanborns. Second story jetties out with projecting rafter corbels, rooflines feature bargeboards with knee brackets and exposed carved rafter tails. Original wood windows retained throughout.
3333 NE Irving St	1.5	EC	1942	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018

3404 NE Irving St	1.5	EC	1937	Cedar Shake Shingle Rug Face Brick	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Greenhouse windows added to east elevation, one upper gable window has been replaced. Otherwise, house is highly evocative, mostly intact example of Tudor Revival. Steep cross-gable roof has no eaves, half-timbering in upper gables. Entry gable features distinct scrolled bargeboard. Most original wood windows retained with decorative and diamond-paned lead sashes.
3453 NE Irving St Rasmussen House	2	EC	1914 1940	Horizontal Board Wood:Other/Undefined	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/6/2018

215 NE Laddington Ct Lawrence, Sylvester W, House	2.5	EC	1915	Horizontal Board Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
Comments: EC garage. East elevation dormer is original according to current owner who has drawings for house. The house is capped with a low-pitch hip roof with overhanging eaves and exposed rafters. The central entry porch is constructed with square columns with recessed panels and a flat roof for the upper story patio with narrow brackets. Owner notes that the upper balcony porch used to have matching square columns. Railing at upper porch is higher and inset to comply with code. Aside from a few rear-side window replacements, all original multipane wood hung sashes have been retained. A retaining wall and arbor vitae have been added around the lot, obstructing views somewhat.
311 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Arts & Crafts English Cottage	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
411 NE Laddington Ct Rich, David L, House	1.5	EC	1920	Stucco	Spanish Revival	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
Comments: EC garage features parapet roof to match the house. The house is capped with a cross-gable roof featuring Mission-style parapets, overhanging eaves with exposed rafter tails. Windows are 1/1 hung, likely wood, replacements. The front (east) entry once featured an enclosed bay under the arch hood that may have been a later addition and is now gone.
420 NE Laddington Ct Pickel, Ellsworth, House	2	ES	1912	Stucco	Mediterranean Revival	Single Dwelling	3/5/2018
[House]	Comments: attached garage. Original windows throughout, distinct Mission parapet roof mixed with overhanging eaves with carved rafters, arched entry porch/porte cochere.
423 NE Laddington Ct	1	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/12/2018
Comments: NC garage has been enlarged. Original porte cochere features square tapered columns, new porch railings. House is capped with a wide gable roof with front facing gable dormer that all feature projecting eaves with soffit and curved bargeboards.
431 NE Laddington Ct McBride, Robert, House	2	EC	c.1912	Stucco	Mediterranean Revival Beaux Arts	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
440 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1911	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/5/2018
Comments: EC garage. North porch removed, south porch enclosed. Tuscan front porch columns, all original windows retained. Narrow eaves with soffit and eave returns.

445 NE Laddington Ct	1	NC	1948	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
503 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1929	Stucco	Tudor Revival Arts & Crafts	Single Dwelling	2/5/2018
Comments: Garage under house. Alterations: South elevation porch may have been partially enclosed, porch railings replaced with wrought iron. House features steep gable rooflines with one bellcast, eaves project and feature exposed rafters, purlins, and bargeboard. Original multipane wood sash windows throughout.
517 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1929	Stucco	Colonial Revival Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	2/5/2018
Comments: Garage attached to north. Steeply pitched cross-gable roof features projecting eaves with soffit and eave returns, front porch features pediment gable supported by Tuscan columns, original multipane wood sash windows.
527 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1920	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/5/2018
535 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1925	Cedar Shake Shingle	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	2/5/2018

615 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1919	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/8/2018
									Comments: Most windows have been replaced. Alterations were done compatibly and include a balcony on dormer, siding change on the porch skirt. Detached garage is contributing. Retains good integrity.
627 NE Laddington Ct Bruce, Marie, House	1.5	EC	1925	Shingle Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
									Comments: The front porch has been modified and some windows replaced. There is a contributing detached garage. The building retains good integrity. The 1924 Sanborn Map notes "from plans," possibly indicating it was a kit house. The basement appears to be living space- a shed hood and below-grade entry stairs with metal tube railings have been added to the west elevation.
637 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	NC	1924	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
									Comments: Front façade was altered with a non-original turret. Most windows have been replaced. There is a non-contributing detached garage. The house retains poor integrity.
645 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1921	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	1/8/2018
									Comments: Projected front porch has vertical wood siding on the gable. The building has most of the original windows and retains excellent integrity. Garage EC.
657 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	NC	1927	Shingle Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
									Comments: Some windows have been replaced. A large front bay has been added with a shallower pitch roof and no jerkin-head detail to match the rest of the house. There is a detached garage, possibly expanded; NC. The building retains only fair integrity. The cross-gable roof features clipped gables (jerkin-heads) and narrow eaves with bargeboards.
3904 NE Laddington Ct	1	EC	1925	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
									Comments: EC garage faces side street. Windows replaced, but weighty round porch columns still evoke Colonial Revival styling. House has a low-pitched hip roof with boxed eaves and beaded siding, probably original. Stucco chimney.
3914 NE Laddington Ct	15	NC	1925	Cement Fiber Siding	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/1/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Siding and most or all windows replaced. House has distinctive half-round arches in front and sides of porch walls. Roof has rolled eaves and a "catslide" or bellcurve towards the front of the house. Original door and multipane sidelights.
3915 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1933	Shingle Multi-Color Brick	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
									Comments: EC garage. Lead windows in first story south elevation, casement windows in upper story gables replacement vinyls, second story enclosed projection addition on north elevation. Basement windows replaced with vinyl sliders.

3937 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1912	Stucco Half Timbering	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
3941 NE Laddington Ct Buckell, Dr. Alfred E., House A. E. T. Buckel House	1.5	EC	1913	Cedar Rake Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/22/2018
									Comments: New garage; NC. Upper story windows replaced. No porch railing. Scrolled decorative brackets and Craftsman windows along lower story. Highly evocative Craftsman bungalow. Roof planes appear to "fold back" in interesting detail.
3944 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1914	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
									Comments: NC garage. One replacement window on east elevation rear. Distinct intact example of Colonial Revival featuring pedimented gable porch with curved railings, and wood multi-light hung windows, pediment gable dormers.
4004 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1927	Stucco Cedar Rake Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Second story addition to rear (south) elevation. Original portion of house retains original siding and windows. The house is capped with a cross clipped gable roof featuring narrow eaves. The north elevation exhibits a distinct tri-part window with wide arched transom on the first story, and an arched window in the upper gable.
4005 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	English Cottage Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
									Comments: ec garage. Rolled gable entry porch roof, some windows replaced with vinyl.
4014 NE Laddington Ct	2	NC	1923	Aluminum Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/1/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Siding and windows replaced, upper story popped-up by changing the roofline to create a full story, front porch enclosed. Front porch still retains original square porch columns and sunburst detail in gable roof.

4134 NE Laddington Ct	1	EC	1923	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: House has square tapered columns. Siding has been replaced - probably vinyl. Windows and door sidelights appear original. Very similar to 4124 Laddington.
4141 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: EC garage. Alterations: front picture windows have been replaced with wood fixed sashes. House features eyebrow dormers that flank a matching eyebrow arch porch roof with keystone detail in bargeboard.
4142 NE Laddington Ct	2	NC	1913	Cement Fiber Siding Stone:Other/Undefined	Tudor Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: Siding has been added over original siding, probable cementitious painted horizontal siding. Front has been extensively altered. Garage appears on Sanborn but also looks altered, NC. House retains Tudor arches and brackets at porch, panelized columns, and multipane windows on sides also appear original.
4151 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: EC garage. The current owner added front entry porch with Doric columns and steep-pitch gable roof; a one-story volume has been added to the rear (north). The house retains its original Dutch Colonial style in the Gambrel roof and multi-light wood hung windows, although these windows are replacements. Roof has decorative fishscale asphalt shingles (likely not original).
4161 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	NC	1923	Vinyl Siding	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: NC garage. Some windows have been replaced with vinyl gridded sashes, shed dormer addition on east, porch addition to rear, siding replaced.
4164 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1924	Aluminum	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: dutch colonial with original six over one windows with added storms. Siding all replaced, appears aluminum. Lower level garage is likely original. Porch railing interesting pattern.
4201 NE Laddington Ct	1	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
				Comments: EC garage. Projecting bay addition on west elevation. House features original porte-cochere, distinctive wood sash windows; front windows feature a wide-arched gridded transom.

Comments: NC garage. Siding has been replaced, but house retains rounded-edged rafter tails, multilight and one-over-one hung wood sash windows, curved knee brackets. Wrought iron porch railing added to middle of steps.
4234 NE Laddington Ct	1	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/30/2018
4235 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1915	Horizontal Board Cast Stone	Neo-Classical	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: EC garage. Distinctive entry rotunda features Tuscan columns on cast stone piers and turned stone spindle rails and dentilated cornice. Original windows, siding, and plan. According to owner, there were only 2 columns on porch originally. Owners have rebuilt the porch roof and foundation and have added another column (wood columns were replaced with fiberglass). Concrete porch base was repoured with original design cut into the floor. Garage was also enlarged. This house and its neighbors on both sides were all constructed on one large undivided lot.
4243 NE Laddington Ct	2	EC	1916	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: EC garage. Sanborn notes the one-story volume on the south elevation with an "L" shape that is observed now as rectangular. House is an intact and exemplary representation of a distinct Colonial Revival, with a projecting entry portico featuring square, recessed-paneled columns supporting a hip roof and pilasters, wide projecting boxed eaves, multipane wood sash windows.
4255 NE Laddington Ct	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: NC garage. Siding replaced, polygonal bay window added to front (west), front porch enclosed. House exhibits two different wood sash grid patterns: six-over-nine, and three-light vertical sashes.

885 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/5/2018
893 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/5/2018
Comments: EC garage. All windows appear original, no plan modifications observed. The house is capped with a lowpitch hip roof featuring projecting boxed eaves, Tuscan porch columns.
3905 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	NC	1924	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
Comments: NC garage. Alterations: siding replaced and some original windows replaced and openings modified. Many other multipane tripartite windows do appear original, though under storms. House has two entries, one facing Cesar Chavez with small Colonial stoop with tapering square columns, and the other facing Laurelhurst.
3914 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	EC	1921	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
Comments: NC garage. Eyebrow dormers flank eyebrow-arched entry porch roof that has incurred T1-11 bargeboard. East elevation projecting addition with shed roof. Rear open porch has been enclosed.
3915 NE Laurelhurst Pl	2	EC	1912	Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/26/2018
Comments: No garage observed. Alterations: aluminum windows installed in east elevation. Distinct vertical-paned wood sashes, recessed paneled, tapered porch columns, bargeboard decals.
3924 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	EC	1921	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
Comments: EC garage. Alterations: upper gable windows replaced with aluminum sliders, rear open porch has been enclosed. House exhibits square porch columns under gable porch roof; main house is capped with side gable roof. All rooflines feature exposed rafter tails, knee brackets, and bargeboards with keystone decal. Original wood hung windows retained with distinct grid patterns in upper sashes.

3925 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	EC	1926	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/26/2018
Comments: NC garage replaced one that was originally constructed in the same NW corner of the lot. The house is capped with a front-facing gable, and the full-width front porch is capped with a shed roof; the main roof features projecting eaves with knee brackets. Lower story front window has no transom, which may indicate it is a replacement. Upper story windows replaced with vinyl sashes. Square tapered porch columns support the porch roof.
3935 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
3936 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/26/2018
3942 NE Laurelhurst Pl	2	NP	1987	Shingle	Modern Period: Other	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
Comments: garage attached to house at ground level. Gridded vinyl windows, fishscale shingles in upper gable peaks.
4005 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	NC	1923	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/26/2018
Comments: NC garage. Alterations: siding replaced and most windows replaced with a combination of vinyl and aluminum sashes. The house is capped with a side-gable roof and the porch is capped with a front-facing gable, all of which exhibits narrow eaves with molded cornice and eave returns. Tuscan columns support the porch roof.
4014 NE Laurelhurst Pl Schlenk, Ida, House	2	EC	1913	Horizontal Board Cast Stone	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/26/2018
4015 NE Laurelhurst Pl	2	EC	1921	Horizontal Board	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
Comments: EC garage. Alterations: lower story window transoms feature wider muttins than windows in upper story, which may indicate replacements, but in-kind, upper story added to rear (North).

				Comments: EC garage. North elevation features turret, all original wood and lead-paned windows retained. Projecting bay on front (north) is capped with a gable roof that exhibits a decorative and distinct carved bargeboard. Matches the design of the house at 58 NE 41st Street.
4035 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	NP	1953	Cedar Shake Shingle	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling Ranch w/Garage	1/26/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. The house is capped with a cross-gable roof with no eaves; the front-facing gable is clad with vertical boards. All visible windows are original 8/12 wood hung sashes that retain their decorative shutters. The recessed entry is accentuated with fluted pilaster framing.
4104 NE Laurelhurst Pl	2	EC	1911	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: Upper story windows appear to be replaced, but somewhat in-kind due to wood materials. Narrow Tuscan porch columns support central gable roof; main roof is a side-gable that features narrow eaves with soffit and modillions. EC garage.
4114 NE Laurelhurst Pl	1.5	EC	1928	Stucco	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/26/2018
				Comments: Picture windows on lower story may be replacement, no other modifications observed. The house is capped with a side gable roof and the entry porch is capped with an asymmetrical gable roof, all of which have no eaves. The entry porch exhibits arched wall openings. Outbuilding NC.
4115 NE Laurelhurst Pl	2.5	EC	1918	Horizontal Board Cast Stone	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018

15 NE Meikle Pl	2	NC	1915	Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
				Comments: House was 1.5 stories, now 2 with large side shed dormer addition, also shallowly pitched gable dormer addition on the other side. Upper front gable windows replaced with vinyl sashes. Retains decorative Craftsman knee brackets. Entry has stepping sidewalls at stair and a pair of square wood columns. NC garage.
16 NE Meikle Pl Divilbiss, Harry and Hilda, House	1.5	EC	1917	Horizontal Board	Craftsman Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
				Comments: EC garage. Upper gable windows replaced. Porch gable matches upper gable, main gable has knee brackets. Colonial style touch in round porch columns.
25 NE Meikle Pl	1.5	EC	1915	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
30 NE Meikle Pl	1	EC	1918	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/10/2018
35 NE Meikle Pl Richenbach, Abraham and Sarah, House	2	NC	1912	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/10/2018
				Comments: Some windows replaced in addition to vinyl siding. Scrolled carved exposed rafter tails. Honeycomb pane on the front picture window. No garage apparent.

3837 NE Multnomah St Howland, Burt J., House	2.5	EC	1911	Horizontal Board Shingle	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/26/2018
Comments: NC garage has been enlarged. New front porch exhibits fluted Tuscan columns supporting second story patio; a mixture of original wood multipane sashes, wood lead multipane sashes, vinyl gridded sashes, and aluminum sliding windows. Distinct stone foundation. Second story has a narrow jetty with corbels, roof features projecting eaves with wide curved bargeboards and carved exposed rafter tails. Upper gables exhibit half-timbering.
3917 NE Multnomah St Bortzenmeyer, O. C., House	2	EC	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
Comments: 1 NC modern garage and 1 EC original shed/garage. Alterations: all visible windows replaced with gridded vinyl sashes, bay window added on east elevation. House otherwise retains original sidings, and distinctive features such as exposed rafter tails and rounded knee brackets.
3918 NE Multnomah St Fay, Edward and Agnes, House	1.5	EC	1928	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/29/2018
3923 NE Multnomah St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/29/2018
Comments: EC garage. Alterations: Projecting volume added to east elevation, windows on rear replaced with vinyl sashes, porch railings replaced.
3924 NE Multnomah St	1.5	EC	1940	Horizontal Board	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
Comments: Garage under house, not counted separately. No modifications observed. House is typical of the minimal traditional style with almost no eaves, roof medium-pitch gable, and overall form modest and simple.
4002 NE Multnomah St	2	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Craftsman English Cottage	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/29/2018
Comments: Garage under house. Second story addition to south constructed sometime after 1950 sanborn, features matching siding, windows, and frames of original house.

Comments: EC garage. No modifications observed, but the following has been approved by the City after historic resource review: Relocate and separate two existing paired windows on the second floor toward the rear of the house. The stucco exterior will be patched, textured, and painted to match the existing condition. Remove two existing windows on the first floor, toward the rear of the house, and store them on the site for future use. An existing interior door and existing interior window, located within a service porch wall at the rear of the house, will be relocated to this exterior wall. The stucco exterior will be patched, textured, and painted to match the existing condition. Remove the existing service chimney (not currently in use). The roof material will be replaced with materials that match the existing roof condition. The house exhibits lead multi-light windows, terra cotta chimney caps, jetty with corbels, scrolled bargeboards.
3616 SE Oak St	2	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	3/28/2018
Comments: NC garage/ADU has a one-story addition to the front (north) and replacement vinyl windows. House has a porte cochere that was added by 1950 Sanborn. Windows appear original. Dutch Colonial with projecting eaves with soffit. Recessed entry is accentuated by fluted pilaster framing with eyebrow arch hood.
3636 SE Oak St Freedman, Ben, House	1.5	EC	1946	Brick:Other/Undefined Wood:Other/Undefined	Northwest Regional	Single Dwelling	3/28/2018
3652 SE Oak St Franz, Joseph and Elizabeth, House	1.5	EC	1924	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	3/28/2018
Comments: House at 3512 SE Oak by same builder and owned by J. Franz' brother Engelbert (Jr) Franz. NC garage added after 1950. porch railings added. 									Comments: NC shed replaced original garage. Carved rafter tails exposed under projecting eaves. Original wide-set front door and full width front porch.
4040 SE Oak St	1.5	EC	1926	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/3/2018
4047 SE Oak St Caldwell, Keith A, House	1	EC	1922	Rug Face Brick Wood:Other/Undefined	Georgian	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
									Comments: Windows have projecting sills for potted plants. Large dentil details on roof eaves. The entry has its original Classical pedimented gable entry featuring four Doric columns and four pilasters. A side entry porch on the east elevation has a half-width brick deck patio. Contributing garage at the back of the house that is also clad in brick and features dentilated eaves. Identical to a house in Irvington at 2836 NE 7th Ave so likely a "pattern book" design.
4052 SE Oak St	2	NC	1930	Cedar Rake Shingle Stucco	English Cottage Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/3/2018
4066 SE Oak St	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board Shingle	Arts & Crafts	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/2/2018
									Comments: House appears to have some additions; a 2-story bay on the (street) side and a single-story flat roof sun room on the other side. Windows appear original. Garage is large but appears on the 1924 Sanborn- contributing. House has slightly "thatched" roof edges. A designated Portland Heritage tree (a Zelkova 60' tall and 69' wide) is in the rear of the property.
4069 SE Oak St Black, Milton A, House	2	EC	1916	Horizontal Board Wood:Other/Undefined	Prairie School	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
4105 SE Oak St	1	EC	1923	Cedar Rake Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	12/12/2017
									Comments: House has front gable porch w/ exposed rafters and beams, large piers, large brackets and overhanging eaves, large stucco chimney, attached garage at basement level (not separate resource). House was initially part of one lot with 4104 SE Pine, garage on that lot may have been shared between the two. Alterations: Windows replaced but keeping original pattern, size. Siding may have been added/replaced.
4106 SE Oak St	1	EC	1947	Standard Brick	Ranch (Type)	Single Dwelling Ranch/Rambler	12/11/2017
									Comments: Has mostly original windows w/ horizontal divided lights &amp; storms, some windows replaced at front. Original glass block on side elevation, medium-pitch hipped roof, NC ADU (2016).

4315 SE Oak St	1	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	12/12/2017
4320 SE Oak St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	12/11/2017
Comments: Original front windows, eyebrow dormers, large front columns. House has a substantial rear addition sometime after 1924, but it is hardly visible from the front/sides. Owner notes that the front door was relocated from center to center/right location, also there are new wood windows and two new shed dormers on east and west. (these are in the lower rear addition portion of the house). Garage NC &amp; converted to a shed, attached to new garage facing south. South-facing garage (fronting alley) converted from 1-car to 2-car. Owner is removing driveway from SE Oak.
4329 SE Oak St	2	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	12/12/2017
4330 SE Oak St	1.5	EC	1928	Cedar Rake Shingle Stucco	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	12/11/2017
Comments: Original leaded windows w/ storms, offset entry w/ brick piers, large brick chimney, half-timbering detail, attached garage at back (not counted as separate resource).
3306 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1926	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
3307 NE Oregon St	1	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
Comments: EC garage. Two sets of three square porch columns under eyebrow arch roof with curving bargeboard. Eyebrow dormer has replacement vinyl windows, some other windows also replaced, but some original wood windows retained.
3314 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: NC new garage. Square porch columns taper towards top and support gable roof featuring curved bargeboards. Main roof features projecting eaves with soffit, original wood sash windows retained.
3317 NE Oregon St	1	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/8/2018
Comments: EC garage. Square porch columns taper towards caps, rooflines feature bargeboards, knee brackets, and exposed rafter tails. Most original wood windows retained.

3324 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1927	Cedar Shake Shingle Standard Brick	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Primary roof has jerkin head facing street and narrow eaves with molded cornice, entryway accentuated by painted brick veneer. Original wood windows retained. Front porch was originally wood, rebuilt into a concrete deck in 2000.
3327 NE Oregon St	1	EC	1923	Cedar Shake Shingle	Colonial Revival Neo-Classical	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
Comments: EC garage. Most distinct features are the square porch columns with Classical-inspired detailing and the arched bargeboard at front gable. Windows appear to all be original windows, but are somewhat obscured by anodized aluminum storm sashes.
3334 NE Oregon St Dickinson, Herman and Louise, House	1.5	EC	1929	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: Garage under house, roof doubles as patio. All original windows have been replaced with gridded vinyl sashes. Cross gable roof with no eaves and curve over recessed entry.
3337 NE Oregon St	1	EC	1922	Cement Fiber Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/8/2018
Comments: EC garage. Siding replaced, some windows may be replaced- many are covered by aluminum storms, but a few original sashes are observed. Roof features projecting eaves with bargeboards, knee brackets.
3344 NE Oregon St	1	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: EC garage. Tuscan columns support gable porch roof with sunburst detail. Most original wood windows retained. No plan modifications observed.
3347 NE Oregon St	2	NC	1913	Horizontal Board Standard Brick	Craftsman Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
Comments: NC garage. Porte cochere removed, porch modified- reduced in size. Brick veneer added to first story, wide lap board added above; siding on rear portion appears newer-indeterminate material. One-story volume added to east elevation. New wood gridded sash windows throughout.
3356 NE Oregon St	1	NC	1915	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/7/2018
Comments: NC garage. Siding and all windows replaced with aluminum sashes, side porch enclosed. Front porch gable features distinct woodwork pattern.
3357 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
Comments: Original detached garage either removed or altered to now be the attached garage-not counted separately. Gable dormer windows replaced, all other wood windows retained. Square porch columns support pediment gable roof. Main roof features projecting eaves with soffit, eave returns, and knee brackets. Tax assessor records indicate that a dormer was added to the rear (north) and the front (south) dormer originally had two dormers that were "reconfigured."

3366 NE Oregon St	1	NC	1921	Vinyl Siding Rock-Faced Brick	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
3367 NE Oregon St	2	NC	1922	Horizontal Board 2001 Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
Comments: The house appears on the 1924-1928 Sanborn map, unclear why tax assessor lists date of construction as 1945. PortlandMaps notes major upper story remodel in 2001, "add second and third floor and new roof." Complete remodel, used to be 1.5 stories with central entry porch. New stone entry stairs. Small flat-roofed garage attached to neighbor garage, NC.
3404 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1933	Cedar Rake Shingle Standard Brick	English Cottage Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
3409 NE Oregon St	2	EC	1914	Horizontal Board	Prairie School	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	2/8/2018
Comments: EC garage. Wide projecting boxed eaves, all original wood windows retained. Front porch projects slightly beyond house footprint to the west (original), and is constructed with square porch columns supporting a hip roof. No plan modifications observed. Siding has been replaced but in-kind type and material.
3414 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1920	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/8/2018
3419 NE Oregon St	1.5	NC	1923	Horizontal Board Shingle	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/8/2018
Comments: Most windows replaced with aluminum sashes, sliding glass doors added to west and south elevations, altering fenestration openings. Tuscan columns support porch roof, rooflines feature eave returns. Siding appears replaced- indeterminate material. Dormers have distinct arched wood window sashes but these are likely not original. NC garage.
3424 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1930	Cedar Rake Shingle Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/7/2018
Comments: Attached garage. Gable and clipped gable rooflines feature narrow eaves, front (north) elevation features large lead paned window.
3431 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	English Cottage Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
Comments: NC garage. All windows replaced. Clipped gable roof with projecting eaves, bargeboards. Front porch features square columns under a clipped gable roof with bargeboards.

3441 NE Oregon St	1	NC	1920	Stucco	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
3449 NE Oregon St	2	NC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
				Comments: Upper story changed from half to full second story last year (2017). New siding and all windows replaced. Front porch exhibits original square columns under gable roof with sunburst detail and eave returns that likely matched the original roofline, which was altered during remodel. NC garage.
3459 NE Oregon St	1.5	EC	1930	Cedar Shake Shingle Standard Brick	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
				Comments: EC garage. Recessed entry features decorative woodwork that matches the half-timbering on the upper gable of the front-facing gable roof. Original windows retained throughout.
3469 NE Oregon St Read, Frank A., House	1.5	EC	1924	Stucco	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
				Comments: All windows replaced. Cross-gable roof features rounded peaks, projecting eaves with soffit and narrow bargeboards. Porch railings added. NC garage is in original location but has been expanded to a 2-car garage.
3306 NE Pacific St	2	NC	1911	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
				Comments: NC garage. Bay window added to west elevation, siding and most windows replaced; original wood diamond-pane sashes retained in upper dormer. Tax assessor records indicate a covered porch was added to the rear (south) in 2015, which included removing the chimney, and infilling/relocating windows.
3316 NE Pacific St	1.5	EC	1912	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/8/2018
				Comments: EC garage shared with 3326 NE Pacific. Rear porch has been enclosed. Square tapered porch columns, exposed rafter tails, knee brackets, most original vertical-paned wood windows retained.
3317 NE Pacific St	2	NC	1923 2014	Aluminum Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/8/2018
				Comments: NC garage. Siding and all windows replaced. Original central one-story entry porch retains Tuscan columns and hip roof with projecting eaves. Sanborn maps indicate that the rear (north) originally featured a one-story volume that was modified to two stories tall by 1950. Major remodel in 2014.
3325 NE Pacific St	1.5	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/8/2018
				Comments: NC garage. Front gable porch and side gable main roof feature pediments, gable dormer features eave returns. Wide projecting boxed eaves. All original windows retained.

Very minor extension of upper shed dormer in the center rear of the house. Patio roof extension added at the side (in back yard). Small garage faces the side (Laurelhurst Pl.), EC.
3901 SE Pine St	2	NP 1978	Vinyl Siding Stone:Other/Undefined	Late 20th Century: Other	Single Dwelling	12/20/2017
Comments: Ground floor has two garage doors facing side street with rock-veneer lower level surround. Second story projects slightly over lower level.
3906 SE Pine St	1	NC 1924	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
Comments: Many character defining features appear to have been removed. Front (north) and rear (south) enclosures added after 1925 Sanborn. Some original wood casement and fixed windows have been retained.
3914 SE Pine St	1	EC 1923	Pebble-finish Stucco	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018

412 NE Royal Ct Coe, Dr Henry Waldo, House	2.5	EC	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/12/2018
									Comments: EC garage counted as separate, although connected by two porte cocheres, also original. This house is mostly intact, although the different lap boards may indicate a slight change in cladding. It is highly stylized, featuring a corbel band course, carved roof brackets decorating the projecting gable eaves, scrolled rafters, and planter window sills. All original windows appear to be retained, including multi-light hung wood windows, large fixed wood sashes with stained glass transoms, hung wood windows with stained glass upper sashes with ogees.
417 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board Vertical Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/12/2018
									Comments: EC garage. No modifications observed. The house is capped with a gable roof with a front gable over the offset entry porch. The roof features overhanging eaves with exposed rafter tails and bargeboards with a keystone detail. The porch is constructed with square columns and its gable is clad with vertical boards and features a sunburst detail. All original wood hung windows retained with multi-light upper sashes.

									Comments: House has a brick base which extends up to form the porch piers, with battered square columns above. Windows at lower level appear original, at dormer they may have been replaced but matching operation, patterning. Small garage is attached to the neighbor's garage, built as a pair. EC.
530 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1913	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/5/2018
									Comments: NC garage was added later. Porch is constructed with cast stone piers supported by squat tapered columns, porch steps flanked by stone-faced brick that is also utilized on exterior chimney on south elevation; chimney has incurred concrete block replacements on upper portion. Rooflines feature wide bargeboards with cut-out tails and massive knee brackets. Original windows retained or replaced in-kind (owner notes windows are new but wood double-hung). Owner also notes that the porch on rear is not original.
537 NE Royal Ct	2	EC	1915	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Foursquare (Box)	2/5/2018
									Comments: House appears to have had very few alterations. Original siding, windows, form. Small EC garage in rear is attached to neighbor's garage, built at same time.
544 NE Royal Ct	2	EC	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/5/2018
									Comments: EC garage. No modifications observed, distinct and highly evocative example of an intact Craftsman Bungalow. Lower story wood sash windows feature a distinct multi-light pattern and beveled glass panes, tapered brick porch columns, massive purlins accentuate projecting roofline with bargeboard, upper gable features lattice, porch gable features vertical board detail.
547 NE Royal Ct	1.5	NC	1924	Aluminum	Tudor Revival English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	2/5/2018
									Comments: Garage appears to have the same roof pitch and roof returns, but siding replaced-NC. House has aluminum siding and possible alteration at front stoop. Original curving stoop steps and windows look original, multipanes over picture window or 6 over 1. Added shed dormer at both sides.
554 NE Royal Ct	1.5	NC	1911	Horizontal Board Cast Stone	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/5/2018
559 NE Royal Ct	2	EC	1922	Shingle Stucco	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	2/5/2018
									Comments: Attached garage. Parallel gable dormers were added to create a second story on north elevation. House has a stained shingle façade which may indicate that the shingles were replaced, but likely with the same material. Distinct angled entry and a small half-turreted glass roof over it. Diamond-pane windows in front likely original and the vertical slot windows as well. Multipane windows may have been replaced.

									Comments: NC garage. Second story pop-up addition to rear (west) elevation and enclosed projecting entry on east elevation added, likely necessitating replacement siding- wood lap. Original gridded wood sash windows retained throughout original portion of the house.
620 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1938	Stone:Other/Undefined Stucco	Tudor Revival Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	2/5/2018
									Comments: Original detached garage now attached via enclosed breezeway/den space. Cross-gable roof has no eaves, features minimal detailing, retains original multipane wood and leaded sash windows.
631 NE Royal Ct Reed, Ferdinand and Alexandria, House	2.5	ES	1912	Horizontal Board Half Timbering	Craftsman Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/5/2018
									Comments: EC garage with Gambrel roof. This house is a highly-stylized, evocative representation of a merging of Craftsman mass and details, Bungalow form, and Tudor styling: half-timbering in upper gables aligns with massive knee brackets that support the projecting gable eaves with wide bargeboard. Original multipane wood windows retained throughout, many exhibit beveled glass panes. Porte-cochere on south elevation is original to the plan of the house, as are the projecting bays on the north and south elevations.

									Comments: Original attached garage with folding-style doors. Entry portico added. Cross gable roof features a bellcast end over the east side with no eaves and a molded cornice; gable peaks exhibit half-timbering. Most visible windows have been replaced, likely originals had some multi-light sashes.
728 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1938	Horizontal Board Vertical Board	Minimal Traditional Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
									Comments: Garage under house. Rear elevation has a pop-up addition, and most visible windows have been replaced with gridded vinyl sashes. Gable roof features little to no eaves with a molded cornice, entry bay features distinct Colonial-style lintel trim. Fair integrity.
735 NE Royal Ct	2	NC	1911	Aluminum	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
									Comments: NC garage. Front porch has been partially enclosed, siding replaced, and most, if not all, windows have been replaced or altered. Side gable roof features projecting eaves with distinct carved knee brackets and exposed rafter tails. This house exhibits an atypical orientation for the Craftsman style.
740 NE Royal Ct	2	EC	1927	Stucco Shingle	Tudor Revival English Cottage	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/8/2018
									Comments: Original attached garage. The rear (south) elevation has incurred plan additions that are noted in permit records but are not visible from the public right-of-way. The house is a good example of a Tudor/ English Cottage combination, featuring multiple asymmetrical rooflines with varying eave depth. Original wood hung windows retained.
747 NE Royal Ct Barbare, Thomas and Lucille, House	1	EC	1919	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
									Comments: EC garage. Siding has been replaced, but the house otherwise exhibits original design and materials. The house is capped with a side gable roof with a low-pitch hip roof over the offset entry porch; rooflines feature projecting and overhanging eaves with rafters. Original wood hung sash windows retained.

				Comments: EC garage. Cross gable roof features steep pitch with no eaves and molded cornice. Original lead paned windows retained, half-timbering in upper front gable. Tax assessor records indicate a rear addition was constructed in 2008, but it is not visible from the right-of-way.
764 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/8/2018
				Comments: Garage under house. Windows on side elevations have been replaced with gridded vinyl sashes; front (north) elevation and some others retain original wood windows with distinct multipane upper sashes. Gable roof features projecting eaves with knee brackets.
3904 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1924	Stucco Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
				Comments: Garage has been converted to living space, highly compatible but NC. Intact and highly evocative of English Cottage style. Small compatible addition to west elevation.
3913 NE Royal Ct	2	EC	1927	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018
				Comments: EC garage. Dutch Colonial with an off-set entry stoop with gable hood featuring scrolled decorative brackets. 6/1 hung windows with storms appear to be wood. Gambrel roof has projecting eaves with soffit.
3914 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1947	Shingle Roman Brick	Minimal Traditional	Single Dwelling	1/22/2018
				Comments: garage under house. The house is capped with a cross-gable roof featuring no eaves. The front-facing gable is clad with board and batten siding; the battens appear to have a molded detail. All original wood windows retained with distinct horizontal panes. Roman brick veneer on lower portions of the front and accentuating enclosed entryway.
3921 NE Royal Ct	1.5	EC	1922	Shingle	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/26/2018

3671 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1923	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/12/2018
Comments: NC garage. Tuscan porch columns, gable roofs feature projecting eaves with soffit, purlins, bargeboards, all original windows retained. The setting has been altered by the commercialization of adjacent tax lots to the north along NE Sandy Blvd.
3680 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1924	Shingle Roman Brick	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/12/2018
Comments: EC garage. Roman brick veneer added, upper gable and side elevation windows replaced with vinyl, original windows on north.
3681 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/12/2018
Comments: NC garage. At least front picture windows replaced with vinyl, some original windows may be retained; the setting has been altered by the commercialization of adjacent tax lots to the north along NE Sandy Blvd. Roof features projecting eaves with soffit, scrolled knee brackets, and bargeboards.
3691 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/12/2018
Comments: EC garage. Most windows appear to be replaced, setting altered by the commercialization of adjacent tax lots to the north along NE Sandy Blvd. Porch is capped with cross gable roof featuring decorative wood work in gables, exposed rafter rails, paired rafters, bargeboards.
3711 NE Senate St	2	NC	1914	Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/27/2018
Comments: Altered siding. Windows appear to have been recently replaced with vinyl sliders, mostly in original openings. Vertical slot window added at one side. Entry stair also rebuilt and is unpainted, possibly not finished. No garage.
3719 NE Senate St	1.5	NC	1924	Cement Fiber Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/27/2018
Comments: Siding has been replaced, appears to be horizontal cementitious type. Most of the original windows have been replaced but in original openings. Some multi-pane windows remain on side. Front porch and columns have been altered, porch likely extended out to sides. No garage.
3724 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1914	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/27/2018

3731 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1913	Shingle Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/27/2018
Comments: Siding may have been changed at porch; shingles do not seem to match the upper-level quality of construction or alignment. Early for a bungalow form, original windows retained in front with transoms. Windows at sides are more varied, mostly replaced. Upper smaller dormer windows may have been added at the sides with three original openings in center of dormer. No garage.
3734 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1926	Cement Fiber Siding	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	2/27/2018
Comments: NC garage. Porte cochere is original, may have been modified. Siding has been replaced, rear volume added to south. Original windows retained. The front door is accentuated by a gable hood and stoop that features curved brackets, sunburst detailing, and curved bargeboards. The house is capped with a steep side gable roof with no eaves.
3739 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1915	Shingle Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/27/2018
Comments: No garage. House has had very few changes. Original siding and windows, only a couple appear to have been replaced. Originals have three over one for the most part. Brick porch piers and column bases, square porch columns, other craftsman details.
3742 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1925	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/27/2018
Comments: EC garage. Portico has been modified, dormers added in 2006. Side elevation windows have been replaced with vinyl, but front (north) retains original. The house is capped with a side gable roof featuring projecting eaves with soffit and eave returns.
3751 NE Senate St	1.5	NC	1916	Shingle Vinyl Siding	Craftsman	Single Dwelling	2/27/2018
Comments: Wide front-gabled porch roof has a timber "sunburst" pattern and is unusual in its asymmetry- roof is lower and extends further on the east side. A small flare line accentuates the upper shingle finish from the lower horizontal siding. Lower siding is vinyl. Most windows are also vinyl, appear at front to be a change in pattern and possibly in openings. No garage.
3754 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1917	Stucco Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/27/2018
Comments: NC garage converted. Projecting bay added to east, porch enclosed on either side. All original windows retained.
3801 NE Senate St	1.5	NC	1924	Aluminum Roman Brick	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	2/27/2018
Comments: Siding has been replaced and windows are vinyl. Windows may be in original openings but no patterning or divisions which would be expected for the style. Characteristic mid-century brick appears to be a later addition below the window sill line at front of house. Garage is NC.
3804 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1922	Horizontal Board Shingle	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	2/27/2018
Comments: NC garage converted. Platform added to roof for AC condenser unit, front porch columns modified. Original windows retained, and the cross gable roof featuring projecting eaves with knee brackets and barge boards.

Comments: NC garage. Alterations: original full-width front porch removed, front entry stairs added- railings replaced. House has a distinct pair of front gables.
4036 NE Senate St	2	NC	1916	Shingle Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	1/29/2018
Comments: NC garage. Alterations: most windows replaced with a mixture of aluminum and vinyl sashes, large two-story volume added to south elevation, front porch enclosed.
4106 NE Senate St	2	NP	1981	Synthetic Siding: Other/Undefi	Shed (Type)	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
Comments: no garage observed, a small shed is in the front yard but not counted. Anodized aluminum windows are in the first story, vinyl windows in upper story.
4118 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1927	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
Comments: Garage under house has a vinyl garage door replacement. Alterations: most windows replaced with vinyl hung sashes. The house does retain its distinctive multipane wood transom windows on north elevation, Tuscan porch columns, and siding. Rug-face brick exterior chimney.
4126 NE Senate St	1	NC	1927	Stucco	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/29/2018
Comments: Garage under house. Alterations: all windows replaced with vinyl hung and sliding sashes, except for what appears to be wood multipane arched window in upper gable. Stucco finish on house is likely a new cladding.
4210 NE Senate St	2	EC	1947	Cedar Shake Shingle Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: NC later garage. Mostly intact example of a later Colonial Revival, retaining original multipane wood window sashes, cladding, and plan. Front entry portico added.
4234 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1926	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: EC garage. House retains all apparent historic materials and design, featuring sunburst in porch gable and distinct gridded sash pattern.

Comments: EC garage. House retains many distinctive character-defining features: square porch columns with linear projecting details, scrolled porch lintels, ribbon-coursed wood siding, and one-over-one wood sash windows with lambs tongues. House has incurred a gable roof addition featuring stickwork on the front porch roof, and some windows have bottle-glass panes- may be original?
4252 NE Senate St	1	EC	1925	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: Original garage bay removed. House retains original siding and windows, exhibits projecting gable entry hood. Original garage ell on front (north) removed.
4262 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1928	Cedar Rake Shingle Stucco	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: NC shed. Alterations: some windows replaced with vinyl sashes, front windows replaced with fixed wood picture sashes. The house is capped with a side gable roof, with a steeply pitched front gable over the entry porch; all rooflines feature no eaves but return at each corner.
4304 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1929	Cedar Rake Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: EC garage. Alterations: all but one visible window replaced with gridded vinyl sashes: grids match the pattern of the one retained original wood window.
4314 NE Senate St	1.5	EC	1928	Cedar Rake Shingle	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: Garage under house. House retains original distinct multipane wood sash windows and exhibits steep-pitch gable roofs.
4384 NE Senate St	1	NC	1927	Vinyl Siding	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/31/2018
Comments: Front porch added, one-story volume added east, siding and windows replaced. No garage observed.
3227 SE Stark St	1	EC	1924	Horizontal Board	Craftsman	Single Dwelling Bungalow	3/21/2018
Comments: EC garage shared with 3237 SE Stark. New porch steps, upper gable front window replaced. Good integrity overall, all original wood multi-light windows retained with distinct vertical-paned upper sashes. Front gable roof and front gable porch roof feature projecting eaves with knee brackets and bargeboards with distinct cut-out tails.
3237 SE Stark St	1	EC	1922	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	3/21/2018
Comments: EC garage. Most windows have been replaced and new porch railings. Front gable roof features projecting eaves with soffit and molded cornice. Recessed entry features distinct hexagonal porch columns.

3755 SE Stark St	1	EC	c.1925	Stucco; Other/Undefined Half Timbering	Tudor Revival	RECR/CULTURE: General	3/28/2018
3927 SE Stark St	1	NC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/2/2018
				Comments: Alterations: Front porch was filled in, windows replaced. Garage appears original- faces alley. but may have been enlarged: NC. Windows appear mostly original but have storms over.
3937 SE Stark St	1.5	NC	1925	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival Craftsman	Single Dwelling	1/2/2018
				Comments: Windows have been replaced with vinyl sashes, upper transom divisions appear very flat though. House has "chalet craftsman" flared edges at gable ends. Porch columns replaced with cast iron. Small garage may be in original location, contributing.
3947 SE Stark St	1	NC	1924	Horizontal Board	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/2/2018
				Comments: The ellipsed arched opening in the gable and the soffit details are in Colonial revival style. The roof edge at porch front has a small flared edge. Probably the porch roof was extended on one side. Columns were replaced with decorative cast iron. Windows mostly original, original set of full-height french doors or windows in front. Rear dormer addition. Garage faces alley; may be in original location. Garage door bay/surround addition, NC.
3959 SE Stark St	1	NC	1924	Cedar Rake Shingle	English Cottage	Single Dwelling	1/2/2018
				Comments: Windows have been replaced and siding probably replaced as well. Window patterning may be similar to original but size of front window appears to have changed; trim surround is very wide. Garage has been enlarged; NC.
4005 SE Stark St	1.5	NC	1924	Aluminum	Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling	1/2/2018
				Comments: Siding has been replaced (aluminum siding) and porch columns replaced, windows mostly replaced. Garage faces alley, in original location but probably enlarged; NC.
4015 SE Stark St	1.5	NC	1924	Stucco	Mediterranean Revival Colonial Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/2/2018
				Comments: House has symmetrical stoop entry at front and symmetrical clipped-gable dormers on either side. Windows may be original but have storms and added awnings. Ornamental ironwork in the door, sidelights, and below windows may be original. Two-story volume added to north elevation. Garage fronting the alley is possibly original but has had a second garage (addition), NC.
4025 SE Stark St	1.5	NC	1924	Horizontal Board	Tudor Revival	Single Dwelling Period Cottage	1/2/2018
				Comments: House has pair of front gables, steep pitch and almost no roof overhang. Arched entry to stoop- recessed. Windows and siding have been replaced. New NC garage.

Abstract/Summary Comments: Laurelhurst Historic District is locally significant under National Register Criteria A and C in the areas of Community Planning and Development and Architecture. Largely built out between 1910 and 1930, the neighborhood's picturesque layout with curvilinear streets, abundant natural landscaping and tree coverage, and varied building styles represents a unique streetcar suburb built in Portland's Eastside area during a period of rapid residential expansion. Handsome local examples of Colonial Revival, American Foursquare, Craftsman, and English Period Revival homes dominate the streetscapes. Reflecting the efforts of developer Paul C. Murphy and the Laurelhurst Company, who designed, built and marketed the deed-restricted sub-development, Laurelhurst represented a distinctively planned community/neighborhood in early twentieth century Portland. The district meets the Registration Requirements for the "Streetcar Suburb" property type outlined in the Historic Residential Suburbs MPS.

MEMORANDUM

DATE: January 17, 2019
TO: Joy Beasley, National Register Chief, National Park Service
FROM: Ian Johnson, Associate Deputy State Historic Preservation Officer
RE: Nomination process for the Laurelhurst Historic District, Multnomah Co., OR

The Oregon State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) submits the enclosed property-owner list and count of notarized objections for the nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District, Multnomah Co., OR (District). The total number of identified property owners is 2,940. The SHPO counted the total number of valid objections under the federal regulations. As of 10:00 am on January 16, 2019, our office received 14 notarized objections, or less than 1% of the total number of owners. It is therefore the determination of the SHPO that the majority of the property owners consent to listing the District in the National Register of Historic Places.

The following documents are included on the enclosed disks with the digital National Register of Historic Places form: A copy of the original property-owner list provided to our office by the City of Portland; the property-owner list that SHPO prepared according to Chapter 36 of the Code of Federal Regulations, part 60 and NPS' guidance provided in November 2017; objections and letters of support received; scans of all correspondence related to the federal nomination process; and the minutes and recording of the review board hearing. The SHPO retains a full record of all correspondence received and sent, and records created as part of the administrative process. The SHPO can provide this information upon request.

Public Process

The SHPO met or exceeded notice requirements for listing a property with 50 or more private owners as described in 36CFR60.6(d). A summary of the office's notification and outreach efforts are provided below:

- July 2, 2018 – The Laurelhurst Neighborhood Association (LNA) submitted a National Register of Historic Places nomination to SHPO for consideration at State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation (SACHP) meeting.
- August 19, 2018 – The SHPO sent written notification of the upcoming SACHP meeting and copies of the draft nomination to the City of Portland Mayor, city landmarks commission, LNA, and preparer.
- August 19 and 26, 2018 – The SHPO published a public notice in The Oregonian and The Hollywood Star News, general circulation newspapers, announcing the availability of the official draft of the Laurelhurst Historic District. The SHPO posted the draft nomination to the agency website with information on the nomination process.

- August 30, 2018 - Oregon SHPO staff hosted an informational meeting with the City of Portland to answer questions about the National Register process.
- October 9, 2018 – SHPO sent a press release to local print, radio, and TV news outlets announcing the upcoming SACHP meeting to consider the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination.
- October 18, 2018 – Tour of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination held for the benefit of the SACHP.
- October 19, 2018 – The SACHP met to consider the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination.
- January 17, 2019 – SHPO sent the nomination document to the NPS.

The Oregon SHPO will forward to your office any additional correspondence or objections received once a week until the end of the NPS's 45-day consideration period.

Re: National Register Nomination

Dear Ms. Beasley:

At the recommendation of the Oregon State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation, I hereby nominate the following historic property to the National Register of Historic Places:

LAURELHURST HISTORIC DISTRICT
PORTLAND, MULTNOMAH COUNTY

As of the date of this letter, the Oregon SHPO counts a total of 2,940 owners within the proposed district. A total of 14 of the owners submitted valid objections. It is therefore my determination that the majority of the property owners support listing the proposed district.

The enclosed disk contains the true and correct copy of the nomination listed above to the National Register of Historic Places.

We appreciate your consideration of this nomination. If questions arise, please contact Jason Allen, Survey Program Coordinator, at (503)986-0579.

Sincerely,

Re: Laurelhurst Historic District nomination

Dear Chair Schallert,

The Portland Historic Landmarks Commission (PHLC) reviewed the National Register nomination for the Laurelhurst Historic District on Monday, October 8, 2018. At this review, the PHLC discussed the merits of the nomination, including integrity, description, significance and context, facts and sources, and supporting materials. Several members of the public provided testimony on the nomination, both in favor and opposed. The PHLC believes Laurelhurst meets the criteria for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. We offer the following comments:

- Historic district nominations are typically complex and lengthy. The nomination for Laurelhurst is well-written, well-reasoned, and well-documented.
- There appears to be missing text on pages 18 and 19.
- A photograph of the historic lighting standards would give visual support to information written in the nomination.
- The history of racism and exclusion should be documented in the nomination, even if the district's significance does not derive from it. Additional contextual background and comparison on restrictive covenants would help place Laurelhurst in the context of other similar districts in the Pacific Northwest.
- The nomination appears to meet the registration requirements of the multiple property listing Historic Residential Suburbs in the United States, 1830-1960. This document is referenced throughout the nomination.
- Additional information on landscape and site planning features could help add additional insights into neighborhood patterns.

Oregon Administrative Rule (OAR 660-023-0200) provides demolition review protection for resources listed in the National Register. The PHLC did not consider these regulatory consequences of listing in the National Register in our review of the Laurelhurst nomination. The PHLC does, however, request that contributing building determinations be thoughtfully reasoned for all structures before final submission of the nomination to the National Park Service.

The PHLC looks forward to this district being recognized for its historic significance by being listed in the National Register.

Sincerely,

Hello my name is Brandon Narramore, I grew up in Southern Oregon but have lived in Portland for the past 6 years. I am here to testify in opposition to Laurelhurst's request for historical designation as I believe it conflicts with both the city and state's housing, equity, and environmental goals.

This historical designation will prevent and delay more housing opportunities such duplexes, and triplexes in a city that is starved of options for the working class. This is an advantage for current landowners who benefit from increased property values due to land and use restrictions but is a disservice to the many other renters and less-well off of the region who are cost-burdened and struggle to find affordable housing.

I emphasize region as we cannot view this decision in a vacuum. This decision may seem as though it is hyper local but in reality it affects folks from as far as hillsboro to oregon city and beyond. Granting this designation furthers a trend in which neighborhoods such as Irvington, eastmoreland, and now laurelhurst participate in a prisoner's dilemma using tools of historic preservation to restrict new housing and residents and push it instead to other, often less prosperous parts of the city. If this trend and prisoner's dilemma is to continue, it raises the question of where and how future residents will be able to equitably live in our growing city and region.

This designation also goes against the city and state's environmental goals of reducing carbon emissions and auto dependency. Laurelhurst is located in a transit rich area in which residents have quick and efficient means of reaching downtown, jobs, and other areas of interest. His gives residents the option to forgo cars and reduce emissions. If the city and state is serious abouts its environmental goals then this is a neighborhood that should be encouraged to grow.

Before I conclude, I want to state that I am pro preservation when applied to single specific buildings and uses. However, when applied to larger areas and neighborhoods it is a detriment that fails to consider the costs and effects on the larger region. Neighborhoods should not be trapped in amber but rather be allowed to dynamically grow, thrive, and welcome people of all incomes and backgrounds.

Subject: OPPOSE the Laurelhurst Historic District nomination

Tracy,

Can you do your best to see that the SACHP members get this testimony asking them to OPPOSE the Laurelhurst Historic District nomination before their meeting at 2PM at the Laurelhurst Club, 3721 SE Ankeny Street this Friday?

I can send them more info on Laurelhurst opting out of the War Housing Code in 1942 as well if this would be of further interest. Please let me know.

Thanks,

Mary Vogel

My name is Gerson Robboy. I am a home owner in the Hosford Abernethy neighborhood and I have lived in Portland for about 50 years. I oppose Laurelhurst becoming a historic district.

The houses in the Laurelhurst neighborhood are typical of the inner east side of portland, mostly bungalow and American Foursquare, and the neighborhood is not architecturally unique or distinctive. The Laurelhurst Neighborhood Association's primary stated motive for the historic district nomination is to prevent infill development of small multifamily buildings under the Residential Infill Plan and they cite concerns about urban density, overcrowding, and parking. This is not a legitimate reason to create a historic district. In other words, what they are talking about is not any distinctive architectural character of a neighborhood, but rather preserving their privileged position as a neighborhood of single detached houses for the rich. We have a housing crisis, and the response of our neighbors in the Laurelhurst neighborhood is to try to make sure that they are exempt from any proposed solution, and inaccessible to anyone of lower income. This is not legitimate grounds for a historic district.

Subject: Laurelhurst Historical District

Hello,

I am a resident in Laurelhurst and support designation of Laurelhurst as a historic district. One of my primary motivations is the historic quality of the Laurelhurst landscape. The neighborhood displays the closer connection between residents and nature that was typical of the period and less common as people spend more time in front of televisions and phones. I believe our survival as a species will necessitate a return to this greater harmony, and our historic neighborhood provides a beautiful example for that future. I have two large trees in my back yard and two large trees in my parking strip. The latter shade most of the street in front of them and most of my front yard, cooling the area. If my house was sold to a developer to demolish and replace with a larger structure, much of the yard, landscaping and tree cover would be lost. This would greatly diminish the quality of the air, climate and psychological environment of my neighbors and diminish the historic atmosphere of a neighborhood that was built in greater harmony with nature.

Thank you,

Mark Burton

We are supporters of historic designation because 1) we strongly object to the architecture of many recent McMansions in our neighborhood: they are totally out of character, 2) there are few 'starter' homes for young families: prices of property and attendant taxes are out of reach, 3) seniors on fixed incomes cannot remain in this lovely neighborhood due to higher taxes, crimes against them, and increased traffic due to all the apartments and duplexes that have only street parking.

Please consider the human factor: we highly value the relative peace found here and neighborliness of Laurelhurst families. Thank you.

Subject: Laurelhurst Testimony

I like Laurelhurst, it's a nice neighborhood. However is it a historically significant neighborhood,? Well yes, it's notable for it's long history of racism and exclusion.

Laurelhurst began as a neighborhood for wealthy white families. Various methods were used to exclude working families and people of color. Covenants in deeds were also used to restrict homes from being "used or occupied by Chinese, Japanese or negroes, except that persons of said races may be employed as servants by residents". Another racist tool was red lining, which was used by the Federal Housing Administration as well as realtors to exclude black families from buying in the neighborhood.

The neighborhood also excluded working class families. This was done by way of exclusionary zoning in the 1920's, where the city banned all forms of housing other than single family detached homes. Thus splitting the cost of land between multiple families through more affordable multi family housing was prohibited. This initial zoning code only extended this ban in affluent neighborhoods like Laurulhurst, however a later zoning code would extend the ban to most of the city.

Today this legacy of exclusion continues, Laurulhurst is one of the least integrated neighborhoods in Portland. Both in terms of racial and economic integration. And this push for a historical status has been pushed by the neighborhood as a way to prevent more affordable homes from being built in the neighborhood. Which indeed it would do.

The real question we should be asking "is this a neighborhood we should cast in amber, preserving this legacy of racism and exclusion. Or should we instead seek to integrate Laurulhurst, and work to remedy this legacy?" I ask that the SACHP opposes the nomination, for it would be an embarrassment for our state to endorse the preservation of a segregated neighborhood.

Laurelhurst is a pretty neighborhood, but nothing makes it historically unique except perhaps the century-long uniformity of wealth among its residents. This exclusive nature is the intended result of century-old rules making it illegal for anyone who can't afford thousands of square feet of high-value land to live there.

Applicants made clear in their internal pitch to neighbors that their purpose is to prevent small duplexes and triplexes from being built; that report never bothered to justify the district's historic significance. Now, they claim their neighborhood is of historic significance because it exemplifies a "streetcar suburb." This is false; the developer's 1912 fliers marketing Laurelhurst to its early homebuyers featured streets lined with automobiles. The area was never intended for working-class streetcar riders.

Laurelhurst remains in a similar situation. Its million-dollar homes sit on some of the most valuable real estate in the state, a short walk from a multi-billion-dollar rail system that offers three-minute headways to downtown in every rush hour, even as our long-term housing shortage has forced low-income Oregonians into more and more distant commutes by car and bus. The argument from many Laurelhurst homeowners, that they want to protect their neighborhood from the scourge of a 1% annual demolition rate, might be reasonable if we assumed that Laurelhurst will retain its current exclusionary suburban zoning forever. Clearly, though, Laurelhurst is not a suburb. It should be open to many more residents. This historic district application isn't about history. It's a transparent attempt to stave off the day those future residents will arrive.

Making it impossible for poorer people to integrate better-off areas is indeed part of Portland's history. It's one part that we shouldn't actively attempt to preserve.

Hello -

My name is Ann Cosgrove and I have been a homeowner in the Laurelhurst for over 18 years. I am writing to express my full support for the Laurelhurst neighborhood becoming an historic district. My home was built in 1924 and it - along with so many other homes in the neighborhood have such unique character. It's what drew me to the neighborhood in the first place. I want to preserve what makes Laurelhurst so special - this is why I am in favor of our neighborhood making to the National Register of Historic Places.

Thank you for your time.

I'd like to express my support for this GENUINELY historic neighborhood, perhaps one of the few "destination" neighborhoods in Portland with the most beautiful park in Portland, the largest trees on the Eastside of the river and truly immaculately maintained 100 year old houses.

All of the densification vs preservation argument aside that now colors these debates, this neighborhood is a beautiful historic neighborhood on its own, really the first one almost anyone will think of in East Portland. Ask a Portlander about Laurelhurst and they will nod knowingly about just how historic it is.

Thank you,

To the Oregon State Historic Preservation Office -

I am writing today to express my strong support for the application to make the Laurelhurst neighborhood in Portland a historic district. As a property owner in Laurelhurst, I am greatly concerned about the risk that livable and attractive neighborhoods like mine face as the leaders of our city race toward essentially rezoning every current single family home lot to high density housing. Not only are these efforts misguided, but they will not achieve the stated benefit of providing affordable housing. Instead, Portland stands to lose so many of the characteristics that make this such a wonderful city in which to live. These include attractive human scale houses in a variety of styles and sizes, from mansions to quaint, beautiful bungalows.

With the protections that a Historic District will provide, Laurelhurst will continue to be a jewel and benefit to this city, as it has been since its founding in 1909. My neighbors and I last year turned out in record numbers to declare our support for a historic district at our local Laurelhurst Neighborhood Association meeting. More than 80% of us voted to endorse these efforts. I strongly urge you to respect our stated wishes and do the same by attaching your endorsement to this effort. Please contact me with any questions you might have. Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

To whom it may concern:

I oppose Laurelhurst Neighborhood's Historic District nomination. I think that Historic Districts should be few and far between, and I also think that they should acknowledge those communities whose buildings and people contributed significant character to the larger city. My own neighborhood, Lair Hill, in inner SW Portland, has been a historic district for almost 40 years, and it is filled with sturdy but modest Victorian homes that were built by a diverse group of immigrants at the turn of the last century. This is a chapter in Portland history that is worth preserving.

In contrast, Laurelhurst has a rather shameful history of excluding people based on both race and class; the fact that they had a special covenant explicitly excluding certain races is disgusting. Although a few buildings in the neighborhood have some notable architectural characteristics, many other neighborhoods have far more architecturally interesting homes. The most notable thing Laurelhurst homes have in common is that they are enormous, and statistically speaking, they are much more likely to be energy, water, and overall resource hogs than any average Portland home.

Thank you for your consideration.

I live in Laurelhurst. My address is 3709 NE Couch St, Portland Or 97232. I SUPPORT the Laurelhurst National Register Historic District Nomination.

I have lived in Laurelhurst for the past 39 years and have always felt that I was fortunate to live in a city that has preserved its old neighborhoods in all their architectural diversity. Laurelhurst is a prime example of a planned early to mid 20th century neighborhood and that legacy should be preserved for future generations of Portlanders to enjoy.

In addition the current trend of demolishing smaller old houses so that developers can build large new McMansions does not serve anyone other than the developers and their wallets. The destruction of these old homes also results in air and ground pollution from the lead and asbestos which is released by demolition as well as the death of the grand old trees that are cut down by the bulldozer.

By preserving Laurelhurst with a National Register Historic District designation we can protect this valuable resource for future generations.

Re: nomination of Laurelhurst neighborhood to be placed on the National Register of Historic Places and designated a historic district

Dear Mr. Olguin,

You need look no further than the reprint of the historic pamphlet "Laurelhurst and its Park" to see why this neighborhood should be placed on the National Register of Historic Places and designated a historic district.

According to the on-line Oregon Encyclopedia, curated by the Oregon Historical Society, "W.M. Ladd, in anticipation of eventual residential development, had consulted with landscape architect John Charles Olmsted to lay out the streets for the plat. While Olmsted never developed a final plan, the Laurelhurst Company retained his ideas with minor changes, and the neighborhood today exhibits the character of an Olmsted design.” John Charles Olmsted was the nephew, stepson, and business partner of the famous landscape architect Frederick Law Olmsted Sr. [See the article titled “Laurelhurst” accessed 08-23-2018:

<https://oregonencyclopedia.org/articles/laurelhurst/#.W38j-H4nZSM>]

Later in the article we find this: “Laurelhurst has an impressive stock of homes built from 1910 through 1925, with Arts and Crafts, Bungalow, Portland Foursquare, and Spanish Revival styles found throughout. Several of the homes are listed on the National Register of Historic Places.”

It should also be noted that adjacent to this historic neighborhood lies Laurelhurst Park which was inspired by the Olmsted park plan and the Olmsted Brothers landscape sensibility. According to the Daily Journal of Commerce, “In 1919, Laurelhurst Park was named the most beautiful park on the West Coast by the Pacific Coast Parks Association, and in February 2001 it was the first city park ever to be listed on the National Register of Historic Places.”

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Laurelhurst\_Park

February 25, 2010]

For all these reasons, I support the nomination of Laurelhurst as a historic district and I encourage you to approve this designation.

Sincerely,

Jeff Stookey

As I continue to see disingenuous propaganda from neighborhood association representatives, I wish to add this note to the record and further encourage ORSHPO to thoroughly evaluate the process which led to the Laurelhurst Historic District application.

To be clear the the application is the result of concern that the neighborhood is being demolished and soon will be unrecognizable. The case has been pushed by playing upon fear with hyperbole and trumped-up factoids.

The application has little to do with saving architecturally/historically significant homes. If we want to do that, then we should identify those structures and save them as appropriate.

Specifically, I urge you to verify that houses listed as "contributing" are in fact just that.

In my experience the process for identifying "contributing" homes was not accurate nor honest. Like many many homes on my block our house has been remodeled inside and out multiple times over the past 9 decades. Despite that fact our home was initially labeled contributing. The form I submitted explaining the many changes to the house and requesting our home be reclassified as non contributing was ignored. Luckily, on the day the report was finalized and sent to SHPO I reached the consultant and they readily agreed to reclassify our house as noncontributing. I wonder how many other homes are incorrectly listed as contributing? This process has been confusing, built on disingenuous behavior and steeped in animosity towards anyone questioning the proponents - an environment ripe for problems.

I am writing to encourage SHPO to defer the creation of the laurelhurst historic district until you have evaluated in detail the actual costs and merits of a designation as well as the actions of those promoting the designation.

As a semi-retired urban planner living in the neighborhood I took great interest when I heard members of the neighborhood association board beginning to push for a historic district. I attended a neighborhood association board meeting naively believing there would be a balanced open exchange of views and (with my background in planning and development with both public and private organizations) people might find my perspective helpful. This proved to be a foolish assumption

From that first encounter through the past year or so the push to create a historic district has been most-un-neighborly. The experience has been a lesson in Trump-politics complete with one sided "public meetings," a constant flow of mis-information, attack and rejection of official data, creation of disingenuous data and reports, character assassination of those raising questions, complete control of information flowing to the neighborhood, playing on folks fears, and the promotion of multiple conspiracies.

Given this relentless campaign there is little wonder that proponents can claim "support" for their cause. My sense is that the push for a historic district has little to do with the desire to preserve historically significant architecture and places. The neighborhood has done just fine for the last century.

I urge SHPO to conduct a more even evaluation of the potential designation before allowing the current process to move forward.

I am happy to answer question and speak with you in detail about my experience with this matter.

Thank you

Dan Hoyt

To Whom It May Concern,

I will be submitting an objection to the Laurelhurst Historic District.

I would also like to submit a comment/request: If the Historic District is approved/moves forward, it is imperative to include accurate history of the neighborhood on informational material (plaques) located at several points on the perimeter of the neighborhood detailing the restrictive racist covenants in place at the neighborhood's inception: <https://www.portlandoregon.gov/bps/article/677593>

Dear Mr. Olguin:

I would like to register my objection to the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District in Portland. I am a third-generation owner of 4017 NE Flanders Street, a 1954 infill project in the neighborhood. This was my grandparents' house, I grew up here, and I value the neighborhood.

While I appreciate some neighbors' concerns about stopping demolitions and reducing infill projects, market forces have been sufficient to-date to preserve highly valued/historically significant properties. Those demolitions that have taken place have occurred on run-down properties which had been neglected for years and were not particularly rehabilitatable.

Portland is increasing in density rapidly and throwing up barriers to change in a neighborhood so close in proximity to downtown seems counterproductive at this time. While the restrictions on remodeling and design-review have changed and would not be as crushing as those for the Irvington Historic District, assigning historic district status to Laurelhurst still opens the door for more barriers to homeowner autonomy.

Thank you for registering my objection.

Sincerely,

Katie Playfair, Owner

At the moment we do not have any correspondence posted online. We will post all comments received at two points during this process. The first time that comments will be uploaded online will be for the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation (SACHP) meeting in October. The second time will occur when our office forwards the materials of the proposed historic district to the National Park Service. If the SACHP recommends the nomination at the October meeting, this will occur in January 2019.

Of course, you are always welcome to request any public document and we can point you towards that process if you are interested.

Timelines and updates for the proposed historic district, as well as where those comments will be available once posted online can be found here: <https://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx>

Dear Oregon State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation,

Please don't endorse the Laurelhurst Historic District nomination. To make Laurelhurst a historic district would inappropriately honor the neighborhood's history of explicit racial and economic exclusion. Please consider the following points. References are provided at the end of this letter.

1) Laurelhurst was among Portland's first neighborhoods with exclusive single-family zoning. In 1909, prior to Laurelhurst's initial development, a 25-year building restriction prohibiting anything but detached single-family homes was implemented. The developers' promotional booklet from 1912 explained:

"A residence district protected as Laurelhurst is, by building restrictions,...will naturally be occupied by refined and cultured people...and everyone within the whole area will be assured of good neighbors. This is a matter of great importance, especially to those who have families of growing children, because nothing contributes so much to their peace of mind as the knowledge that they are living in an atmosphere of refinement, and that their associations will always be desirable." (p. 9)

In other words, the main purpose of the single-family housing restriction was to keep poor people out of the neighborhood. In 1924 this restriction was made permanent by neighborhood homeowners' request. Turning Laurelhurst into a historic district would perpetuate this legacy of exclusion by preventing development of affordable housing.

2) Unlike most Portland neighborhoods, Laurelhurst had a special covenant explicitly excluding certain races. The Laurelhurst neighborhood covenant prohibited any occupation or use "...by Chinese, Japanese or negroes, except that persons of said races may be employed as servants by residents." Laurelhurst is the largest neighborhood that had such a covenant in Portland, and one of only two on the inner east side.

A neighborhood with this special history of racial exclusion doesn't deserve to be honored or preserved as a national historic district. To ensure that the neighborhood's exclusionary history is not forgotten, a simple plaque describing the racial covenant could be installed in Laurelhurst Park.

3) The predominant types of older homes in Laurelhurst are the bungalow and the American foursquare. As the Laurelhurst Historic District nomination explains, both types "were often mass-produced and offered for sale by catalog." (p. 6) These mass-produced homes generally lack any distinctive features that would make them architecturally or historically noteworthy. Furthermore, both types of homes are common throughout much of Portland, as are the Tudor revival, Colonial revival, and other styles also found in Laurelhurst. Thus, these home types don't give Laurelhurst any especially unique historical character.

4) The Laurelhurst Neighborhood Association's stated motives for the historic district nomination center around Laurelhurst homeowners' fears about an influx of new neighbors. The LNA's Exploratory Historic District Committee report suggests that the historic district nomination is a reaction to the City of Portland's Residential Infill Plan. (pp. 12-13) The committee's explicit goal is to prevent infill development of small multifamily buildings in Laurelhurst under the RIP. Thus, in effect, their goal is to preserve the single-family building restrictions that were originally imposed for the stated purpose of excluding the poor. The committee's report makes no case that the neighborhood is historically significant, but instead cites concerns about urban density, overcrowding, and parking. (p. 15, p. 32) It also assures homeowners that historic district status will not reduce, and may increase, their home values. (p. 32) Laurelhurst is already among Portland's most exclusive neighborhoods, with a median home value over $700,000.

5) The Laurelhurst Historic District nomination lists the neighborhood's distinctive historic features as including its intact curvilinear street layout with distinct quadrants and a central roundabout; the Joan of Arc statue; decorative pairs of "entry" markers; Laurelhurst Park; regularly spaced mature street trees; and associated features such as sidewalks, stamped curbs, and historic light poles. Preserving these features does not require preserving Laurelhurst's tradition of exclusion by listing the neighborhood as a historic district in order to obstruct affordable housing development.

6) The Laurelhurst nomination includes a narrative of the neighborhood's supposed history as a "streetcar suburb." But as we have seen above, Laurelhurst was never meant for working-class residents who would commute by streetcar. Instead, the developer's brochure from 1912 shows automobiles parked on Laurelhurst's streets. This emphasizes that the neighborhood was intended for the rich, for whom in 1912 automobiles were high-status playthings.

A more relevant narrative of Laurelhurst would focus on the neighborhood's history of exclusion, tracing that history from the initial building restrictions and the racial covenant up through the LNA's current efforts to thwart residential infill with this historic district nomination.

If the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation endorses this nomination, you will also, as representatives of the state of Oregon, be symbolically honoring Laurelhurst's racist and classist history. Please don't do that.

Sincerely,
Leon Porter
1822 NE Wasco St.
Portland OR 97232

Subject: Support for Historic District nomination Laurelhurst neighborhood

Greetings. I strongly support designating Laurelhurst an historic district. I do this because we are one of the last inner eastside neighborhoods not to have the protections provided in Oregon for historic districts. As you are hopefully already aware, our neighborhood is one of the last remaining heavily treed areas of our city, with many streets arched over with maples and other large trees, tempering the increasingly hot climate. My wife and I have owned this home at 4238 SE Ash since 1993. The trees were one of the main reasons we bought this house. More recently, a number of large trees have been cut down in order for increased development; the neighborhood has far more cars parked on the street, and a number of homes (8 by my count, likely more of which I am not aware) torn down to build even larger homes encroaching upon the property lines. Given the city's push for ever denser habitation, historic areas such as ours are in real danger of disappearing without greater protection. It is neighborhoods such as Irvington and Ladd's (both already designated) and Laurelhurst which have given Portland a near-unique ability to be both urban and family-oriented at the same time. Over the past 25 years, there are a large number of families with young children who have bought homes here. If we want to create Manhattan Island on the west coast, we can leave neighborhoods such as this one unprotected; but I do not want that.

You may hear from some people (mainly living outside the HD area) that we need much more development to provide "affordable housing." One needs only look to what has already been built to see that affordable does not in any way describe the prices redeveloped homes in the neighborhood have sold for. On one corner of my block, a house was redeveloped about 3 years ago and then sold for $865,000. I don't know what the lowest price home in the district would sell for, but I do know that I have not seen a house here listed for less than $500,000 in many years. Given the Portland market, it is possible that one might buy a house for $500,000, tear it down, put up a duplex and sell both for $500,000 each, but no one is going to sell each half for what they paid for the property to begin with. If we are talking about clerks in a retail store or someone working in any service occupation, I would be shocked to learn that they would find $500,000 an "affordable" price. One

One other issue I would like to raise is one that many here have learned about the Eastmorland nomination. Apparently 5 home owners divided their ownership interests into 1000 trusts each in order to register 5000 objections to the nomination. I do not understand how ORSHPO decided to accept those objections as valid legal ownership interests. It strikes me that this flies in the face of the protections afforded both proponents and opponents of a nomination.

Assuming for the sake of argument that the average house in Eastmorland is worth $500,000, each trust represented a value of $500.

A $500 ownership certainly appears to me to be de minimus. If not, what is to stop me from creating 10,000 trusts for this property with the intent to overwhelm any objectors? Where would that stop? At a $50 interest? $5? $.05? Unless these trusts were created long before the nomination process began, and are listed on the deeds to the property, they are what they appear to be, e.g. legal fictions created to thwart an otherwise democratic process.

I was one of a few property owners who began this process by going out in the snow and ice in December 2016 to seek signatures for a petition to create the historic districts. We did not just obtain signatures of supporters, however. We recorded each objector by name and address. Even after 3 cold, slippery trips in my immediate area of approximately 40+ houses, there were some owners who never answered the door to respond. I cannot make any statements about them. But among those who did, something over 85% were in favor.

Thank you for your attention. Please record this e-letter and forward it to the National Park Service after you are done with your process.

Sincerely,

G. Ness Matthew Gabay

To whom,

I am writing to comment and express my opinion on the Laurelhurst National Register nomination, as a resident of Laurelhurst.

I represent many of my neighbors who vehemently oppose this nomination, and whose voices have been shut down in aggressive, underhanded and dishonest ways by those who do (led by the Neighborhood Association). I don't need to tell you how this initiative (and the related behaviors) have totally divided the neighborhood. Among other tactics, leaders of this effort in Laurelhurst have deliberately misrepresented information about design review (that Laurelhurst won't be subject to it), that we will be able to 'make up our own rules', and about demolition metrics (to incite fear). As another example, the central 'voice' of the initiative in Laurelhurst, John Liu, is the Neighborhood Association newsletter editor and the sole decider on what is/is not shared with neighbors about the NR, and the only information released is incomplete, pro-Historic District opinion.

I recently went on the deeply moving and troubling Fair Housing Council's tour of Portland's Discriminatory History (based largely through the impact that land use laws have on civil rights for minorities) and the question was asked 'What will we look back upon in 20 years, and add to our tour?' Please don't let Laurelhurst and the National Registry be referenced in the same sentence as other discriminatory actions that Portland has been complicit in.

The National Registry institution is a highly honorable and legitimate institution that should preserve buildings with historic value – not entire neighborhoods, without a vote, and with irrevocable and negative implications.

I will be at the upcoming SACHP meeting in Laurelhurst this Saturday to share these same sentiments in person.

Thank you for your consideration,

Oct. 26, 2018

To Whom it May Concern,

As residents of Laurelhurst, my husband and I strongly support the Historic District designation.

We do not want to lose the unique architectural character of this nearly 100-year old neighborhood which was carefully planned in the "City Beautiful" style as a streetcar neighborhood. After all these years, homeowners are still lovingly investing their time, efforts and funds to preserve these homes of an era. In fact, the distinct neighborhoods of Portland are one of the key reasons people want to move and live in this city.

We support ADUs and interior conversions, to comply with the city plan of more density. This summer, neighbors volunteered and held a first Historic Home Tour, featuring 6 homes, two of which had ADU units, so people could see the possibilities, keeping the original exterior architecture aesthetic. It was a big success, and educational.

Having a Historic District would be an important tool to keep our neighborhood's character. Once the old buildings are gone, they are gone forever. Demolishing perfectly good homes (smaller affordable ones are the biggest target) and constructing out-of-scale and out-of-character structures does not help anyone except developers. The subsequent very large expensive homes and high-rent apartments loom over the street, and are definitely not contributing to affordability, which is an important issue here.

Thank you very much for your consideration, Alice Knouff

Mr. Glascock,

I do apologize that you have not received a timely response in regard to your submitted testimony. Thank you for following-up and providing your original testimony below. That information will be part of the public record and your comments will be provided to the National Park Service when the nomination is submitted.

In regard to your question about next steps, the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation (SACHP) recommended to forward the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination to the National Park Service following several revisions. A copy of the audio recording of the meeting will be posted to our website soon if you would like to listen to the discussion. That recording will be found under our "recent updates" and "Project Timelines" headers on the Laurelhurst Website <https://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx>

The comment period for the proposed National Register nomination remains open up until the day that the National Park Service makes the final decision. That date will be expected sometime in March 2019. Our recommendation is for all submitted correspondence to be received at our office by January 4, 2019 so that we can include it when the nomination is forwarded to the National Park Service on January 17, 2019. Any correspondence or notarized objections to the district submitted after that date will still be forwarded to the National Park Service; however, there is a risk that the National Park Service could sign the nomination before receipt of that forwarded material. Additional details regarding how to support or object to the listing can be found on our website at the above link.

Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Oregon State Historic Preservation Office

Attn: Tracy Collis

725 Summer St. NE, Suite C

Salem, OR 97301

I am not able to attend today's SACHP hearing to consider the nomination of Laurelhurst Neighborhood, in Northeast Portland. I only learned of this hearing via social media. Does this state agency not provide public notice to affected residents and property owners?

Our family has lived in the Laurelhurst neighborhood for about 30 years. I attended LNA meetings on the current historic district issue, and I recall an earlier effort. Advocates for national designation assured us that a straw vote only related to demolition limits. That is, LNA has not yet taken a position, nor has it solicited resident input on, potential development rules.

I have specific concerns that development rules per national registry may be detrimental and short-sighted.

Process

- The process should be more extensive than debates at LNA general meetings. To date, LNA has only posted meetings of the LNA board, not its committees. Committees discuss details and weigh alternatives, and draft up board agenda items.
- Collaboration and consultation should take the form of exploratory committees, with members sought who bring a variety of perspectives.
- All LNA committee meetings should be posted so that residents can - attend, listen to informal discussions, and periodically offer input.

- I wish to be included in any future discussions on this, and LNA should fully invite a variety of perspectives. I bring 30+ years of land use experience.
  - Any "hearings" should involve mailed notice to all residents and owners of the affected area.

Content

- Any historic development rules should recognize the evolving needs of the community. A truly "progressive" approach recognizes the evolving needs of families, encourages owners to invest in emergency preparedness measures (storing water and go-kits in most-secure structures, gas shutoffs, seismic brackets), and promotes timely home maintenance. Some small homes (with aging owners) have deteriorated.
- We have solar panels visible from the street, and non-wood replacement windows. Both were conscious decisions, with renewable energy, functionality and low maintenance in mind. These should not simply be dismissed and discouraged, with historic development rules.
- LNA can invite "rebuild" developers to present their construction plans at informal meetings, to inform neighbors of what to expect. For specific design concerns, residents can suggest alternative methods. This would not be mandatory, but may build trust.

Thanks for your consideration.

Hi Amanda,

Thank you for the information regarding the misattribution of the builder and the attached citation. The draft was finalized in early December and so unfortunately we are not making changes until after the National Park Service's decision. However, we will make a note to revisit this information after that decision and will send the NPS an amendment document with what you have provided.

Subject: Laurelhurst Historic District

To Whom It May Concern,

I believe the design of the Dr. Norman D. Hampton house at 3406 E. Burnside may have been misattributed to builder John Cleland. I believe the home was designed by Ewald Theodore Pape.

An article from the January 17, 1926 Oregonian states, "E. T. Pape, designer, is preparing plans for a $20,000 residence of English type, at Floral avenue and East Burnside streets, for John H. Cleland." I've attached a clipping from the article.

The house is very much in Ewald's style. As you might have guessed, I am distantly related to E. T. Pape, and have been researching his work in the Portland area. Pape and Cleland worked together on a number of projects throughout the city, such as the Chasselton Condos (701 NE 28th Ave.), the house at 3276 NE U. S. Grant Place, and the apartment building at 4450 SE Milwaukie Ave.

I hope the Historic District is approved and this correction can be made.

Sincerely,

The process for counting owners and objections is prescribed by federal law (36 CFR 60). The Oregon State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) provides this form as a courtesy – owners are not required to use SHPO forms in order to object or withdraw an objection. Should you choose to use it, please complete one form for each owner possessing fee-simple, absolute title to real property within the proposed historic district.

Objecting to listing a property in the National Register of Historic Places:

Objections may be submitted by providing a notarized statement. If the majority of private property owners holding fee-simple absolute title to real property within a proposed historic district object to listing the district, it will not be listed in the National Register. Each owner may only object once, no matter how many properties an individual owns within the district. Owners who are not on the Property Owner List, but who provide a notarized statement will be added to the property owner list and the objection will be counted. The Property Owner List is created from county tax records 30-90 calendar days before the public comment period begins. Objections are accepted until the National Park Service makes its final decision. Objections may be withdrawn by submitting a notarized statement.

The Oregon SHPO will send written confirmation by regular mail for every objection received. Letters will state if the objection is accepted or needs correction. Rejected objections may be corrected and resubmitted until the National Park Service makes its final decision. Deficient objections or objections not meeting the Oregon Secretary of State's notary standard will be returned for correction.

Contact the office at (503) 986-0681 or ORSHPO.NationalRegisterProgram@oregon.gov for questions regarding this form. See our website at www.oregonheritage.org for more information about the National Register and project details.

Directions:

1. Go to <http://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx> to determine if your property is within the proposed historic district and print the property address on Line 1. Please contact the office if the property is not listed and you think it should be. Please keep this web site open until you have completed the following steps.
2. Indicate if you yourself are an owner or represent an owner. Check only one box.
Special note for trusts and other legal entities: The representative of a trust or other legal entity is not an owner under Oregon State Law. The entity is the owner. If the agreement of two or more individuals is required to act on behalf of the legal entity, please complete a multiple signature addendum.
3. Go to <http://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx> and print on Line 2 the name of the owner exactly as it appears on the Property Owner List. Please contact the office if the property owner name is not listed and you think it should be.
4. Print the legal name of the owner on Line 3 if different from the owner name provided on Line 2 in any way.
5. Sign and date Line 4 in front of a notary public. Documents with photocopied signatures and signature dates, or signature dates that do not match, will be returned for correction.
6. Only complete Line 5 if representing an individual or entity other than you.
7. Print the mailing address on Line 6, if different from the property address on Line 1. All correspondence will be sent to this address.
8. Have the Notary Statement completed by a Notary Public. Documents with photocopied notary stamps, signatures, or dates will be returned for correction. By notarizing this statement, the notary affirms the identity of the person signing the document and that the notary witnessed the individual sign the document.
9. Mail original form to:
Oregon Parks and Recreation Department
Oregon State Historic Preservation Office
Laurelhurst Historic District
725 Summer St. NE, Suite C
Salem, OR 97301
10. Keep a copy of this form for your records.

Dear Sir or Madam:

As trustees/homeowners of 4114 NE Multnomah St. in the Laurelhurst neighborhood of Portland, Oregon we are opposed to the listing for historic preservation.

We are also opposed to the requirement that in order to opt out of supporting this legislation we are required to get this letter notarized and fill out the State's Historic District Objection Form (attached.)

It is essentially a form of voter suppression as it requires additional effort and expense to get a document notarized and must certainly skew the results of your information gathering.

Sincerely,

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Mr. Callahan and Ms. Oman:

The objection submitted for your property at 4114 NE Multnomah Street, Portland to our office dated September 11, 2018 cannot be counted toward the total number of objections needed to prevent listing the District in the National Register because the form is incomplete. Please correct the following issue(s):

The submitted objection identifies two individuals that are legal representatives of a private trust, corporation, association, business or other legal entity recognized under Oregon State law with fee-simple absolute title to real property within the District. However, the legal entity is not named on the notarized objection. To be valid, the notarized document must indicate the legal entity.

Based on current guidance from the Oregon Department of Justice, we suggest that you resubmit a notarized objection form and in the case that the agreement of two or more individuals is required to act on behalf of the legal entity, a multiple signature addendum form. Those two forms are enclosed. Please mail the original documents to the State Historic Preservation Office and be sure that each document is signed and notarized before a notary public.

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Ms. Dinihanian:

The objection submitted for your property at 547 NE Laurelhurst Place, Portland to our office dated September 25, 2018 cannot be counted toward the total number of objections needed to prevent listing the District in the National Register because the form is incomplete. Please correct the following issue(s):

The submitted objection is on behalf of a private individual with fee-simple absolute title to real property within the District. However, the objection was signed as a trustee and the legal entity was not named on the notarized objection. To be valid, the notarized document must clearly indicate the owner of the property.

Based on current guidance from the Oregon Department of Justice and what we believe to be your intention of objecting as a representative of a legal entity, we suggest that you resubmit a notarized objection form on behalf of the legal entity you represent. If our assumption of your intent is incorrect, please call our office. Additionally, in the case that the agreement of two or more individuals is required to act on behalf of the legal entity, a multiple signature addendum form may be used. Those two forms are enclosed. The State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) provides these forms as a courtesy. Owners are not required to use SHPO forms in order to object or withdraw an objection.

Please mail the original documents to the State Historic Preservation Office and be sure that each document is signed and notarized before a notary public.

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Ms. Mayfield,

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office. This letter is to acknowledge that we received an email from you regarding our question on our letter dated January 7, 2019. With the information provided in that email and your previous submitted notarized objection, your objection is valid and your submitted materials will be provided to the National Park Service (NPS) with the documents for the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination.

On October 19, 2018, the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation recommended to forward the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District National Register nomination to the NPS for their review. Once the nomination is forwarded to the NPS, under federal law, the NPS has up to 45 days to review the document before making a final determination to either list the district, deny listing, or request further information. If the number of objections is greater than 50 percent of the total number of property owners in the proposed district, the neighborhood will not be listed in the National Register.

Please see the enclosure which explains in greater detail the results of listing in the National Register. Specific information about National Register process may be found on our website at www.oregonheritage.org.

Please contact me if you have any further questions or comments.

Thank you.

To whom it may concern:

Upon attempting to get my objection to the Laurelhurst Historic District nomination, I came across an error on the ~~the~~ State provided Objection Form that caused some confusion and ultimately led to a delay in being able to submit my objection form. The error on the form is located in the notary statement, "sign line 5..."; This should include "or line 4". This error caused me to have to consult multiple Notaries before obtaining a Notary stamp.

For the record, I do not think that this nomination should be forwarded to the National Park Service UNLESS a majority of residents submitted Letters of Support for the District.

Sincerely
Adam Zied

The process for counting owners and objections is prescribed by federal law (36 CFR 60). The Oregon State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) provides this form as a courtesy – owners are not required to use SHPO forms in order to object or withdraw an objection. Should you choose to use it, please complete one form for each owner possessing fee-simple, absolute title to real property within the proposed historic district.

Objecting to listing a property in the National Register of Historic Places:

Objections may be submitted by providing a notarized statement. If the majority of private property owners holding fee-simple absolute title to real property within a proposed historic district object to listing the district, it will not be listed in the National Register. Each owner may only object once, no matter how many properties an individual owns within the district. Owners who are not on the Property Owner List, but who provide a notarized statement will be added to the property owner list and the objection will be counted. The Property Owner List is created from county tax records 30-90 calendar days before the public comment period begins. Objections are accepted until the National Park Service makes its final decision. Objections may be withdrawn by submitting a notarized statement.

The Oregon SHPO will send written confirmation by regular mail for every objection received. Letters will state if the objection is accepted or needs correction. Rejected objections may be corrected and resubmitted until the National Park Service makes its final decision. Deficient objections or objections not meeting the Oregon Secretary of State's notary standard will be returned for correction.

Contact the office at (503) 986-0681 or ORSHPO.NationalRegisterProgram@oregon.gov for questions regarding this form. See our website at www.oregonheritage.org for more information about the National Register and project details.

Directions:

1. Go to <http://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx> to determine if your property is within the proposed historic district and print the property address on Line 1. Please contact the office if the property is not listed and you think it should be. Please keep this web site open until you have completed the following steps.
2. Indicate if you yourself are an owner or represent an owner. Check only one box.
Special note for trusts and other legal entities: The representative of a trust or other legal entity is not an owner under Oregon State Law. The entity is the owner. If the agreement of two or more individuals is required to act on behalf of the legal entity, please complete a multiple signature addendum.
3. Go to <http://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx> and print on Line 2 the name of the owner exactly as it appears on the Property Owner List. Please contact the office if the property owner name is not listed and you think it should be.
4. Print the legal name of the owner on Line 3 if different from the owner name provided on Line 2 in any way.
5. Sign and date Line 4 in front of a notary public. Documents with photocopied signatures and signature dates, or signature dates that do not match, will be returned for correction.
6. Only complete Line 5 if representing an individual or entity other than you.
7. Print the mailing address on Line 6, if different from the property address on Line 1. All correspondence will be sent to this address.
8. Have the Notary Statement completed by a Notary Public. Documents with photocopied notary stamps, signatures, or dates will be returned for correction. By notarizing this statement, the notary affirms the identity of the person signing the document and that the notary witnessed the individual sign the document.
9. Mail original form to:
Oregon Parks and Recreation Department
Oregon State Historic Preservation Office
Laurelhurst Historic District
725 Summer St. NE, Suite C

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Ms. Foster:

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office. Your submitted materials will be provided to the National Park Service (NPS) with the documents for the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District. On October 19, 2018, the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation (SACHP) recommended to forward the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination to the NPS for their review.

Once the nomination is forwarded to the NPS, under federal law, the NPS has up to 45 days to review the document before making a final determination to either list the district, deny listing, or request further information. If the number of objections is greater than 50 percent of the total number of property owners in the proposed district, the neighborhood will not be listed in the National Register.

Please see the enclosure which explains in greater detail the results of listing in the National Register. Specific information about National Register process may be found on our website at www.oregonheritage.org.

Please contact me if you have any further questions or comments.

Thank you.

RE: Nomination of the Proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear: Mr. Sims and Ms. Rechner:

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office. It appears to our office that your intention is to provide two individual objections to the proposed historic district. Based on current guidance from the Oregon Department of Justice, we will accept your notarized submission as two individual objections; however, we recommend resubmitting two separate notarized objection forms. This way it is clear that your intention, to both object individually, is not challenged in the future. If our assumption of your intent is incorrect, please call our office at (503) 986-0668.

On October 19, 2018, the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation (SACHP) recommended to forward the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination to the National Park Service (NPS). Dear Ms. Coale:

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office. Your letter will be forwarded to the National Park Service with the documents for the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination on January 17, 2019.

Under federal law, the National Park Service will review the document for 45 calendar days before making a decision to either list the district, deny listing, or request further information before making a final determination. Notarized objections will be counted during this time. If the number of objections is greater than 50 percent of the total number of property owners in the proposed district the neighborhood will not be listed in the National Register. Letters of objection and support may be submitted at any time during the 45-day consideration period.

Please see the enclosure that explains in greater detail the results of listing in the National Register. Specific information about National Register process may be found on our website at www.oregonheritage.org.

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Ms. Canfield:

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office. Your letter will be forwarded to the National Park Service with the documents for the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination on January 17, 2019.

Under federal law, the National Park Service will review the document for 45 calendar days before making a decision to either list the district, deny listing, or request further information before making a final determination. Notarized objections will be counted during this time. If the number of objections is greater than 50 percent of the total number of property owners in the proposed district the neighborhood will not be listed in the National Register. Letters of objection and support may be submitted at any time during the 45-day consideration period.

Please see the enclosure which explains in greater detail the results of listing in the National Register. Specific information about National Register process may be found on our website at www.oregonheritage.org.

Please contact me if you have any further questions or comments.

Thank you.

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Robert and Deborah Smith:

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office. It appears to our office that your intention is to provide two individual objections to the proposed historic district. Based on current guidance from the Oregon Department of Justice, we will accept your notarized submission as two individual objections; however, we recommend resubmitting two separate notarized objection forms. This way it is clear that your intention to both object individually is not challenged in the future. If our assumption of your intent is incorrect, please call our office at (503) 986-0668.

If the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation recommends the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District and the nomination is forwarded to the National Park Service (NPS), your submitted materials will be provided to the NPS with the documents for the proposed National Register nomination.

If the nomination is forwarded to the NPS, under federal law, the NPS has up to 45 days to review the document before making a final determination to either list the district, deny listing, or request further information. If the number of objections is greater than 50 percent of the total number of property owners in the proposed district, the neighborhood will not be listed in the National Register.

Please see the enclosure that explains in greater detail the results of listing in the National Register. Specific information and dates about the National Register process may be found on our website at www.oregonheritage.org.

The process for counting owners and objections is prescribed by federal law (36 CFR 60). The Oregon State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) provides this form as a courtesy – owners are not required to use SHPO forms in order to object or withdraw an objection. Should you choose to use it, please complete one form for each owner possessing fee-simple, absolute title to real property within the proposed historic district.

Objecting to listing a property in the National Register of Historic Places:

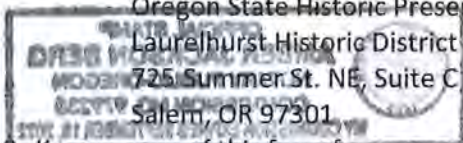

Objections may be submitted by providing a notarized statement. If the majority of private property owners holding fee-simple absolute title to real property within a proposed historic district object to listing the district, it will not be listed in the National Register. Each owner may only object once, no matter how many properties an individual owns within the district. Owners who are not on the Property Owner List, but who provide a notarized statement will be added to the property owner list and the objection will be counted. The Property Owner List is created from county tax records 30-90 calendar days before the public comment period begins. Objections are accepted until the National Park Service makes its final decision. Objections may be withdrawn by submitting a notarized statement.

The Oregon SHPO will send written confirmation by regular mail for every objection received. Letters will state if the objection is accepted or needs correction. Rejected objections may be corrected and resubmitted until the National Park Service makes its final decision. Deficient objections or objections not meeting the Oregon Secretary of State's notary standard will be returned for correction.

Contact the office at (503) 986-0681 or ORSHPO.NationalRegisterProgram@oregon.gov for questions regarding this form. See our website at www.oregonheritage.org for more information about the National Register and project details.

Directions:

1. Go to <http://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx> to determine if your property is within the proposed historic district and print the property address on Line 1. Please contact the office if the property is not listed and you think it should be. Please keep this web site open until you have completed the following steps.
2. Indicate if you yourself are an owner or represent an owner. Check only one box.
Special note for trusts and other legal entities: The representative of a trust or other legal entity is not an owner under Oregon State Law. The entity is the owner. If the agreement of two or more individuals is required to act on behalf of the legal entity, please complete a multiple signature addendum.
3. Go to <http://www.oregon.gov/oprd/HCD/NATREG/Pages/Laurelhurst-Historic-District.aspx> and print on Line 2 the name of the owner exactly as it appears on the Property Owner List. Please contact the office if the property owner name is not listed and you think it should be.
4. Print the legal name of the owner on Line 3 if different from the owner name provided on Line 2 in any way.
5. Sign and date Line 4 in front of a notary public. Documents with photocopied signatures and signature dates, or signature dates that do not match, will be returned for correction.
6. Only complete Line 5 if representing an individual or entity other than you.
7. Print the mailing address on Line 6, if different from the property address on Line 1. All correspondence will be sent to this address.
8. Have the Notary Statement completed by a Notary Public. Documents with photocopied notary stamps, signatures, or dates will be returned for correction. By notarizing this statement, the notary affirms the identity of the person signing the document and that the notary witnessed the individual sign the document.
9. Mail original form to:

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear James and Elizabeth,

Thank you for submitting your notarized objection to our office on behalf of the Brodie-Knope Revocable Living Trust. The resubmitted objection to the historic district now aligns with our current guidance from the Department of Justice. Since the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation recommended the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District National Register nomination on October 19, 2018, when the nomination is forwarded to the National Park Service (NPS) on January 17, 2019, your submitted materials will be provided to the National Park Service with the documents for the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District nomination.

Once the nomination is forwarded to the NPS, under federal law, the NPS has up to 45 days to review the document before making a final determination to either list the district, deny listing, or request further information. If the number of objections is greater than 50 percent of the total number of property owners in the proposed district, the neighborhood will not be listed in the National Register.

Please see the enclosure which explains in greater detail the results of listing in the National Register. Specific information about National Register process may be found on our website at www.oregonheritage.org.

Please contact me if you have any further questions or comments.

Thank you.

RE: Nomination of the proposed Laurelhurst Historic District to the National Register of Historic Places

Dear Mr. Knope:

The objection submitted for your property at 3379 NE Multnomah Street, Portland to our office dated October 8, 2018 cannot be counted toward the total number of objections needed to prevent listing the District in the National Register because the form is incomplete. Please correct the following issue(s):

The submitted objection does not accurately reflect the information on the Property Owner List provided by the Multnomah County Tax Assessor. The Property Owner List identifies two trustees; however, the objection suggests that it is on behalf of a private individual with fee-simple absolute title to real property within the District. Since the Property Owner List indicates that a legal entity owns the property and that legal entity was not named, to be valid, the notarized document must indicate the legal entity.

Based on current guidance from the Oregon Department of Justice, we suggest that you resubmit a notarized objection form on behalf of the appropriate legal entity. Enclosed, is an objection form that the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) provides as a courtesy. Owners are not required to use SHPO forms in order to object or withdraw an objection. Additionally, in the case that the agreement of two or more individuals is required to act on behalf of the legal entity, a multiple signature addendum form is also provided.

Please mail the original documents to the State Historic Preservation Office and be sure that each document is signed and notarized before a notary public.
