Lucerne Guard Station: Detached, T-shaped, 1 story, wood-frame, poured concrete foundation, wood-shingled high gable roof, cross gables offset left, attached vertical boards, plain battens every other joint on all gable ends. Windows are one-over-one double-hung aluminum sash and aluminum casements. Umbrage, center east elevation, shelters main entry; surrounds are formed by flush 10 x 10 timber posts, comparable plain lintel, heavy timber brackets extend from platform surface to lintel gradually curving; entry accessed by four straight concrete steps. Rear entry, off-center on west elevation, recessed. Louvered ventilators located on north and south gable ends immediately below roof peak. Single vehicle entry, off-center on north gable end of attached garage, now enclosed by narrow vertical boards. Single-leaf vertical board door, offset to right, accesses converted garage interior. No decorations, no obvious exterior alteration except for aluminum windows. The date of their installation is unknown. New windows appear to be the same size as the originals, thereby retaining the relation of openings to solids and minimizing the effect on the facades.

There is a small outbuilding present on the property and used for storage. It is believed to have been built in the 1960's and is counted as a non-contributing building.

Section number 8 Page 1 of 1

SIGNIFICANCE:

The Lucerne Guard Station typifies the construction projects undertaken by the Civilian Conservation Corps and signifies the aid to the local community provided by the emergency work-relief program through employment of youth and experienced craftsmen, purchase of building materials and camp supplies, and personal expenditures of enrollees. The property represents the Forest Service's presence in the locality, as the headquarters for field operation, and denotes, via the physical facilities required to carry out the agency's expanding responsibilities, the critical transition in the Service's development from custodial superintendence to extensive resource management. The Lucerne Guard Station exemplifies the rustic architectural idiom developed by the Forest Service, Pacific Northwest Region, to impart Forest Service identity and to represent its purposes and ideals, and signifies the agency's particular interpretation of a singular expression of early twentieth century American architectural thought. Possessing high qualities of design and execution, the Guard Station is a good example of an architectural locution invested with special aesthetic and associative values by the agency that created it.
