STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Casa de Dana served an extremely important function in the development of early California. The Adobe supplied goods and services to local and nearby ranchos and missions. Among the goods and services supplied were carpentry, blacksmithing, candles and soap, woven goods and a store.

Captain Dana's adobe was the stopping-place of all travellers and tales of its hospitality are recorded in many of the early histories of the area.

Important personages of the time who were entertained there are: John C. Fremont, Edwin Bryant, Mayor Teschmacher and Capt. Halleck (later to become a General), and the Captain and crew of the wrecked ship, Edith, the latter group remaining for two or three weeks.

Of additional historic interest is the fact that the mail riders, from Northern and Southern California exchanged mail pouches at Casa de Dana. They spent the night under the hospitable roof of the adobe and then returned to their original starting point the next day, carrying the newly exchanged sack of mail. They were given fresh mounts for their homeward journeys.

The adobe was one of four stopping places between San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara: Casa de Dana (24 miles from San Luis Obispo), thence 21 miles to Los Alamos, thence 20 miles to Santa Ynez Mission, then to Refugio and then on to Santa Barbara.
