AREA(S) OF SIGNIFICANCE: Architecture, exploration and settlement LEVEL: Local STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL): Architecturally, this house is one of a few small Greek Revival-style residences in the Cave Spring multiple-resource area. In terms of its form, arrangement, materials, construction, and details, it is a good example of its style and type. It represents the carpenter/builder tradition of architecture common to rural parts of the country. In terms of exploration and settlement, this house is significant as representing one of the types of dwellings first built by white settlers after this land was opened to settlement in the 1830s. Its location near the spring was typical of houses built before the gridiron town plan was laid out.
