Example of an early 19th century dwelling with much of its integrity intact despite porch addition. This house is like others along Windsor and Deerfield Avenue that were built about the same period (see 148 Deerfield Road and 860, 861, and 1021 Windsor Avenue). House has Federal and Greek Revival details. Timothy Dwight Hills built this house in 1833. He was a farmer and brickmaker. His brothers Samuel W. and Oliver W.
