Tacoma, Pierce Co., WA
Photo # 3

A black and white photograph of the Masonic Temple building in New Bedford, Massachusetts. The building features a classical architectural style with a prominent entablature. The words "MASONIC TEMPLE" are inscribed in capital letters across the center of the entablature. Above the entablature, there is a decorative frieze. The building is made of light-colored stone or brick. In the foreground, there are two large, ornate Corinthian columns supporting a balcony. To the left and right of the main entrance, there are smaller sections of the building with windows and decorative elements. The sky is overcast.
