STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Emmanuel Shearith Israel Chapel, built in 1876, is Denver's oldest church which is still standing. Originally built by Bishop John F. Spaulding as an Episcopalian chapel, the site is also the location of an older religious structure. Col. Lewis N. Tappan built a non-denominational Sunday School on the site in 1859, before Bishop Spaulding purchased the land in 1874.

By the 1890's, the religious background of the Episcopal Chapel's neighborhood had changed. In 1903, the congregation of Shearith Israel bought Emmanuel Episcopal and converted the building into a synagogue. Jewish boys in West Denver were taught Hebrew at the synagogue through a Talmud Torah established there in 1906.

Due to a diminishing membership, regular services ceased at Emmanuel Shearith in 1958. In 1963, the church was converted into an artist's studio by the owner, Wolfgang Pogzeba. Mr. Pogzeba has maintained the historical integrity of the building and also provided an economically feasible method for maintaining a Denver landmark. Unfortunately, Urban Renewal project in the area of the chapel now threaten the building's future.
