

A black and white photograph of a two-story brick building. The building has a prominent sign that reads "BETHANY CENTER" on the top line and "JESUS CARES" on the bottom line. The sign is illuminated and has a stylized, Art Deco-like design. The building has large, dark, rectangular panels on its facade. A white station wagon is parked on the street in front of the building, and a dark sedan is partially visible on the right. A utility pole and a tree are also visible in the scene.
