STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The house has a number of fine late Georgian and Federal style architectual details. Its plan is typical of any number of late 18th early 19th-century houses where the main portion of the house is built against a smaller original portion. The wood cornice and various interior trim, such as matels and stairway are notable for their beauty. They are executed in Adamsque style which brought a new delicacy to Federal style architecture in the late 18th and early 19th century.

The west wing of this house was originally the farm home of Benjamin Clark, farmer, soldier, and famous patriot. During the Revolution it was frequently raided by the British soldiers stationed at Billingsport. During the bitter winter of 1777-78 Clark delivered a load of grain to Valley Forge.
