STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Square house with wide two-story portico facing south is excellent example of typical historic-Beaufort residences. Built as 1816 wedding gift for Sarah Reeves Gibbes by her brothers, assisted by Philadelphia artisans, it derives name from her husband, William Wigg Barnwell (1793-1856), a Beaufort farmer and plantation owner. Sarah, his cousin as well as his wife, was the great-granddaughter of famed "Tuscarora Jack" Barnwell, leader of bloody 1711-1712 expedition against Tuscarora Indians of North Carolina. A leading figure in provincial affairs (colony deputy secretary, comptroller), he was requested by the South Carolina Assembly to give military assistance to North Carolinians who faced massive Indian uprising.
