Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in two lines and is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through. Some faint characters and words are visible, including what appears to be "1871" and "1872" in the first line, and "1873" and "1874" in the second line. There are also some larger, darker marks that could be initials or specific names.

Handwritten text, possibly a name or title, in a cursive script.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a list or index of names and titles. The text is arranged in two main horizontal lines, with some entries appearing to be grouped or numbered. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to decipher precisely, but it appears to contain several entries, possibly names of authors or titles of works. The text is written in dark ink on a light-colored, aged paper.
