

CAMPBELL MANSION
Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
View from south, main block to right.
Strangers Hall to left
Photo: Bethany College, 1993

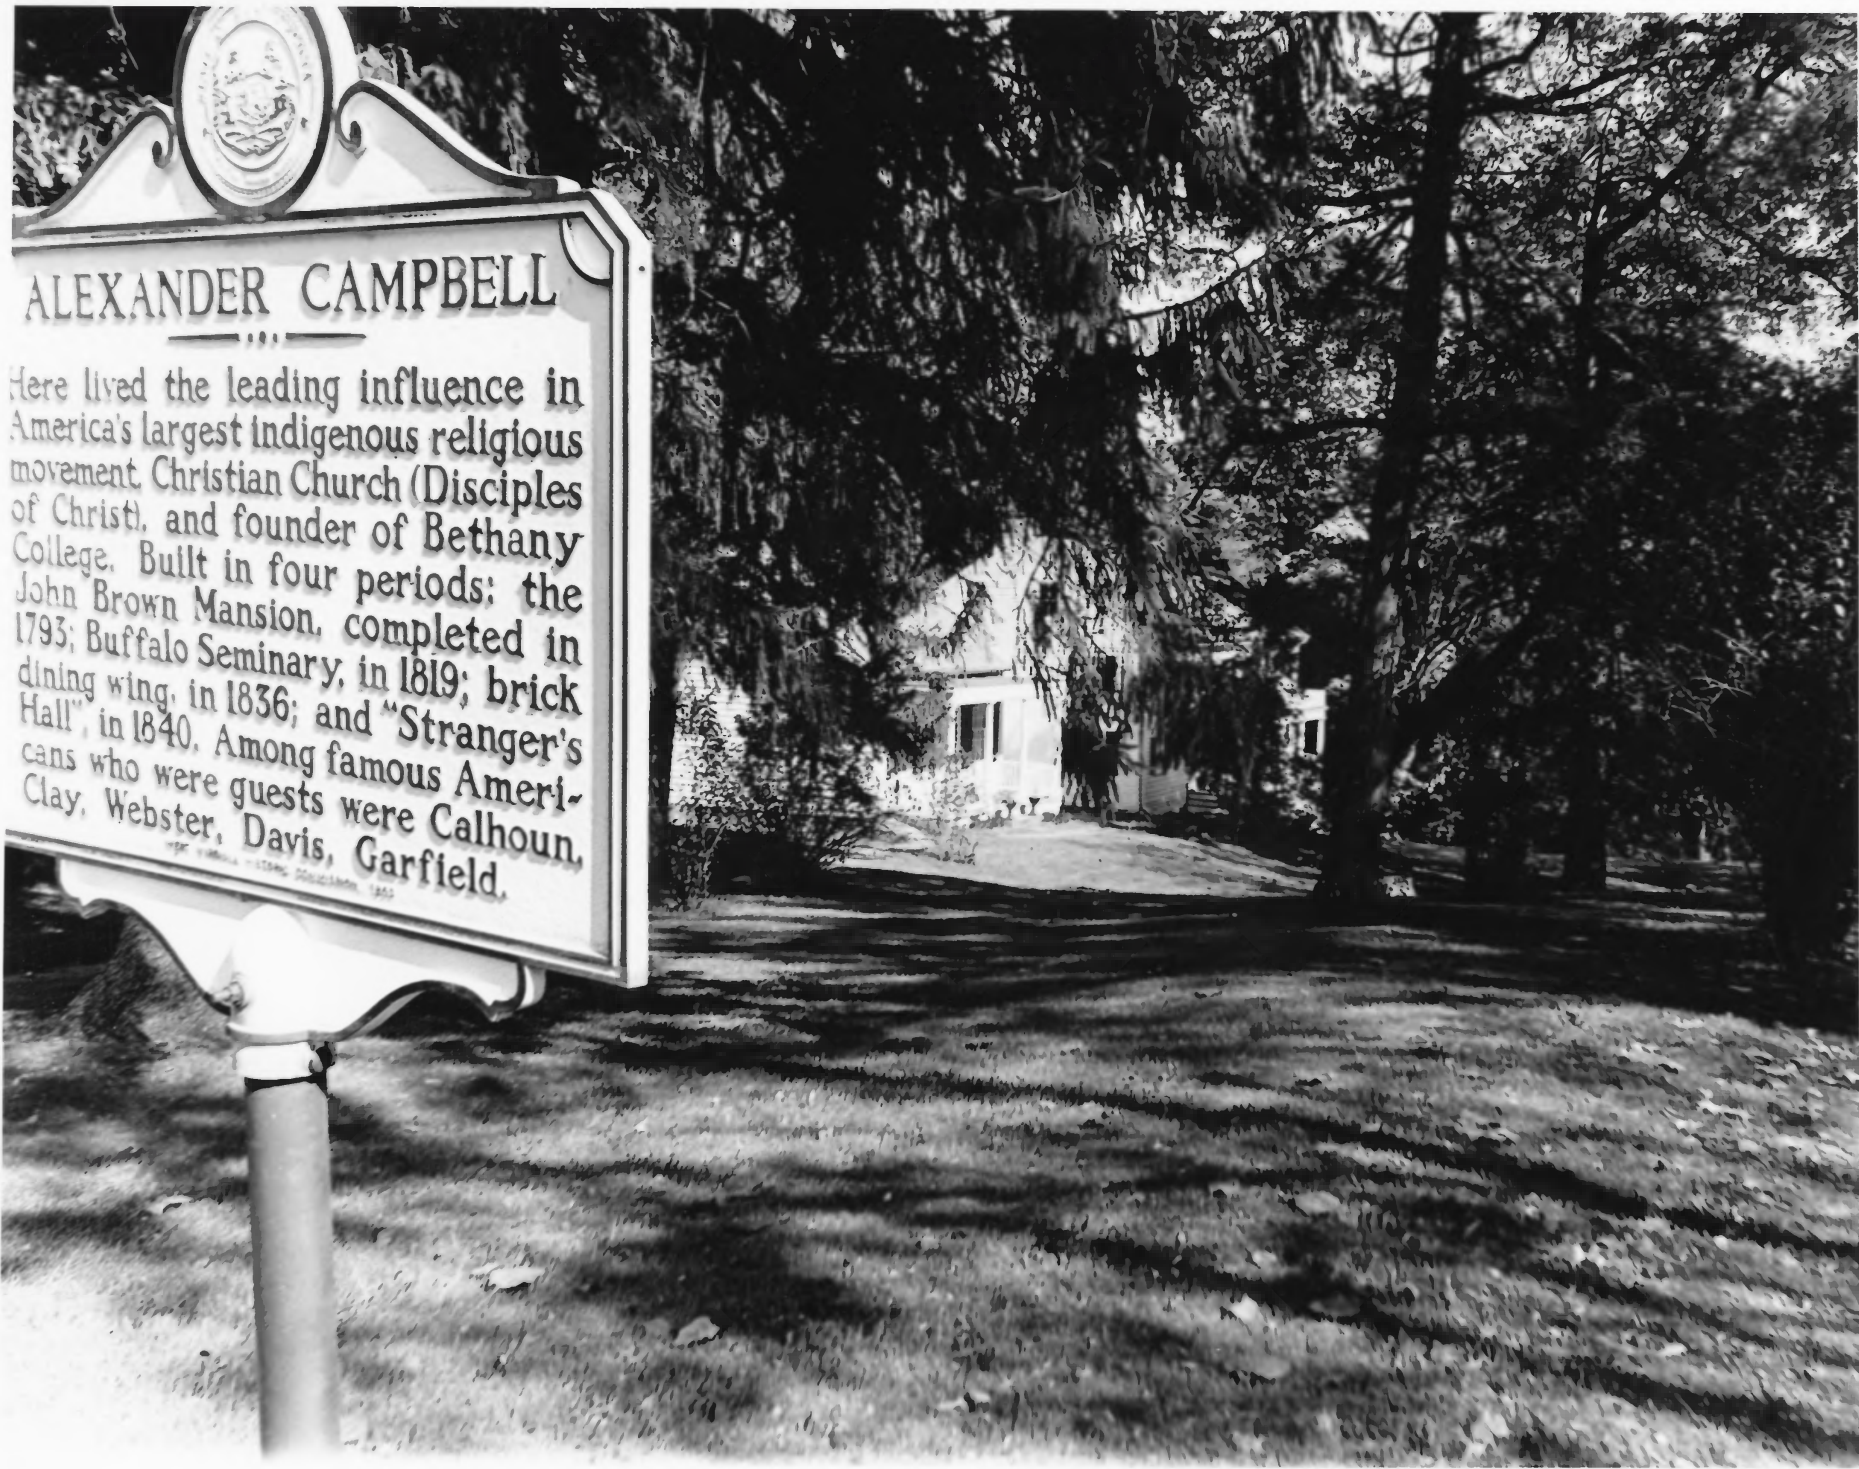

CAMPBELL MANSION
Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
Strangers Hall from southwest, main block behind and to right
Photo: Bethany College, 1993

CAMPBELL MANSION
Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
Campbell Study, south face
Photo: Bethany College, 1993

ALEXANDER CAMPBELL

Here lived the leading influence in America's largest indigenous religious movement, Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), and founder of Bethany College. Built in four periods: the John Brown Mansion, completed in 1793; Buffalo Seminary, in 1819; brick dining wing, in 1836; and "Stranger's Hall", in 1840. Among famous Americans who were guests were Calhoun, Clay, Webster, Davis, Garfield.

1971 NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

The 1790s parlor displays family portraits and furniture.

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

The outstanding feature in the parlor of the 1840s guest wing of the Mansion is the original "Telemachus" French block-printed scenic wallpaper by Dufour. An 1859 Steinway is in the corner.

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

Guests enter the Campbell Mansion into this hall.
The hall was added in 1818 when the Buffalo
Seminary addition to the house was made.

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

A small second floor room at the top of the stairs may have been the bedroom for the children's nurse.

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

This is one of two bedrooms in the 1840s guest wing of the Mansion. The window replaced an original backdoor leading to a small back porch.

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

A panel of original French wallpaper by Jean Zuber, "Views of North America," on the north wall of the guest parlor was installed when fire destroyed the Dufour "Telemachus" paper that remains on the other walls.

CAMPBELL MANSION
Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
Parlor in "Strangers Hall" portion of house,
Photo: Bethany College, 1993

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

Original family furniture is in the 1840s guest wing addition to the Mansion. A turn of the century bay window was removed during the 1989-90 restoration. Panels of the original "Telemachus" paper were destroyed when the bay window was built onto the house.

CAMPBELL MANSION

Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
Campbell's bedroom ("Clock Room")

Photo: Bethany College, 1993

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

The Alexander Campbell bedroom with space for the family sittingroom is in the front section of the 1818 Buffalo Seminary addition.

CAMPBELL MANSION
Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
"Secretary" in parlor in original portion of house
Photo: Bethany College, 1993

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

The secretary in the Old Parlor is one of the oldest pieces of furniture in the Mansion.

CAMPBELL MANSION

Bethany, Brooke County, West Virginia
Parlor in original portion of house
Photo: Bethany College, 1993

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

A Nunns and Clark piano with a six-octave keyboard (circa 1850-1875) is seen in the Old Parlor of the 1790s section of the Mansion.

Campbell Mansion
Bethany College
Bethany, W. Va.

A beaded-paneled room in the 1790s section of the house became the bedroom of Alexander Campbell's father in the 1830s.