	A co	ombination Italian villa and Greek Revival style this Octagon
	Hous	se is a two story brick building with bracketed eaves, corner pila	asters and porch columns. Interesting details are the twostor	ry south bay window area, the eight-sided brick cupola and Cast	t-iron star clamps. The house stands as it did in the d-nineteenth centuryalone, on a knoll and at the end of a e-lined drive.
	ciet	e-ined drive.
	A11	openings are symmetrically placed except on the west side.
	The	main entrance is on the southeast side. The double-hung wind	dows have wood sills. Those on the east side were once or level and those on the main facades have flanking Iouv	vered shutters. Eight Doric-like columns support the	S ence of t	ablature and dentiled cornice of the porch. Each corner the building is accentuated by a 16" cap-like pilaster,	ш
	a fo	orm which is repeated in the cupola.	ш
		9" wide sandstone random ashlar foundation supports the	z uppe	er brick walls which range in thickness from 13" to 9".	S h of the eight sides is 18 feet long. Ceilings are 12'	- and, on the second floor, 9' 4". There are eight tangular, four small triangular rooms and a viewing room	על in t	the cupola which is reached by a graceful eliptical	c stai	irway. All eight fireplaces are sealed off but the	0 orig	ginal mantels remain. Transoms appear above each doorway	and the original native walnut woodwork has survived thou	ugh covered in many layers of paint.	0
	Δη ι	underground tunnel with access through the bacoment	z underground tunnel with access through the basement ends,quite a distance from the building.	S chus qu'ille a distance from the buriaring.	•
	A 19	912 frame kitchen addition appears at the rear. The hous	se itself has been painted a light green, the shutters dark	k green.
