A black and white photograph of a brick building facade. The text "THE CARPENTER" is prominently displayed in large, serif, capital letters across the middle of the image. The building features a decorative cornice with a row of circular ornaments. Below the text, there are several windows with wooden frames, some of which appear to be in various stages of repair or disrepair. The overall style is that of a classic, possibly early 20th-century, commercial building.
