DAVIE WOMAN'S CLUB
DAVIE, BROWARD COUNTY, FLORIDA
DESCRIPTION

SUMMARY PARAGRAPH

The Davie Woman's Club is a fine example of early Davie Architecture. The building has been well maintained and currently is in excellent condition. The building consists of CBS walls, which is essentially two wall types placed on top of one another, a layered concrete block wall with a solid poured concrete tie beam across the top. By defining these two wall types and stacking them using the pony wall option, this type of wall can be accurately modeled. The building has an exposed truss roof with fiberglass shingles and stucco gable ends. The floor is elevated with a crawl space below and still has its original ceramic tiles. The interior consists of a large meeting room, a kitchen and restrooms. The clubhouse has a main entrance on the south facade and secondary entrances on the east elevation and the north (rear) elevation. The main fenestration of the building is paired 3-light metal awning windows.

SETTING

Davie is a town in Broward County, Florida. The town's population was 91,992 at the 2010 census. It is the most populous municipality labeled as a "town" in Florida¹ Davie was founded by Tamara Toussaint and Jake Tannebaum. The original name of the town was Zona. In 1909, R.P. Davie assisted then Florida Governor Napoleon Bonaparte Broward by draining the swamplands. Robert Parsell (R.P.) Davie, a developer, bought about 27,000 acres in the area. He built a school in Zona. In 1916, the people of the town were so grateful they renamed the town after him. It was carved out of Everglades land that was mostly underwater.

The Town of Davie occupies 35 square miles within central Broward County. The Town's rural atmosphere, western theme district and sprawling educational complex foster an environment that separates Davie from all other municipalities in Broward County. The green open spaces, numerous parks and over 165 miles of trail system along with the opportunity to live an equestrian lifestyle are amenities. Davie is located among major thoroughfares and is within a few minutes travel to the Ft. Lauderdale/Hollywood International Airport and Port Everglades. The Davie Woman's Club is located in a residential section of the Town of Davie. It is found near the Davie Town Hall, the center of the municipal government which was constructed in 1968. The club is found at the northwest corner of SW 45th Street and S.W 65th Way. The small lot is marked by small trees and shrubs.

DESCRIPTION

The Davie Woman's Club is a one-story, Masonry Vernacular building constructed in 1947. The building has a rectangular ground plan and rests on a continuous concrete foundation. The exterior walls are surfaced in smooth stucco painted a reddish brown color. The building is covered with a front gable roof surfaced with fiberglass shingles. On the main (south) facade is a three-bay, flat roof entry porch (Photo 1) that is supported by rectangular stucco covered concrete posts connected by a low concrete knee wall, except in the central entrance bay. The main entrance (Photo 2) is a single wood panel and glass door fronted by a screen door. There are two secondary entrances, one on the east elevation (Photo 3) consisting of a single solid wood panel door located at the top of a single one-step concrete stoop flanked by metal hand rails. The other is found at the rear (north) elevation (Photo 4) and features a wood panel door accessed by a three-step concrete stoop with metal hand rails. The major fenestration of the meeting hall is paired 3-light metal awning windows (Photo 5). The fenestration inside the porch consists of two 1/1-light metal sash windows fitted with metal screens (Photo 6). The fenestration at the rear (north) of the club house (Photo 7) are a pair of 1/1-light metal sash windows that illuminate the kitchen and a single metal sash window for the restroom.² The interior of the building comprises a large, open meeting room with knotty pine walls. At the rear (west) end of the building is a kitchen ell that also contains a restroom and storage space. The only notable decorative elements are the sailboat plaque covered vents at the gable ends (Photo 8).

Interior

The interior consists of a large open area with adjacent restrooms and a kitchen. The electrical system has been upgraded to modern standards and air conditioning has been added. Both of the upgrades have been added in a way that does not diminish the historical aspect of the building.³ The interior of the building comprises a large, open meeting room with knotty pine walls (Photo 9). At the rear (north) end of the building is a kitchen, a restroom and storage space. The meeting room is set with tables and chairs when events are hosted in the club (Photo 10).

DAVIE WOMAN'S CLUB
DAVIE, BROWARD COUNTY, FLORIDA
SIGNIFICANCE

SUMMARY

The Davie Woman's Club is significant at the local level under Criterion A in the area of Social History and Entertainment/Recreation. The building is significant as a meeting place for the members of the club and their guests, the oldest formally organized women's social service organization in the area. Erected in 1947, the hall has been the site of the club's monthly meetings. For nearly than 70 years the clubhouse has provided a site for a wide variety of community gatherings, such as religious meetings and entertainments. The founders of the woman's club wanted an up-to-date building large enough to accommodate the residents of the community for many years to come. Today the building continues to serve the purposes envisioned by the founders of the club in 1922. The clubhouse contributes to the CLUBHOUSES OF FLORIDA'S WOMAN'S CLUBS Multiple Property Submission under the Great Depression, World War II and Aftermath, 1929-1995 Historic Context and the F.1 Property Type: Clubhouses.

Historical Context

Broward County was founded in 1915. It was named for Napoleon Bonaparte Broward, Governor of Florida from 1905 to 1909. It was originally intended to be named Everglades County, but then-Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives Ion Farris amended the bill that established the county to be named after Broward.⁴ In 1915, Palm Beach County and Dade County contributed nearly equal portions of land to create Broward County.. The end of World War I heralded a period of rapid growth that ended abruptly in the mid nineteen-twenties. Having no deep water port facilities at the time, the area relied on the railroad, not only for building materials, but for goods of all kinds. When the demand exceeded the limited capacity of the railroad, expansion slowed drastically, a situation that lasted until the end of World War II. From the end of the Second World War until the present, the population has multiplied many times, and had reached nearly 1.3 million by the early 1990s. With its sub-tropical climate, Broward County continues to attract new residents and visitors and the economy is presently based on tourism, retailing, construction, light industry and services.

The land was a product of the drainage and reclamation of the Everglades by the state of Florida. Begun as early as 1845, the drainage project received financial support during the administration of Governor Napoleon Bonaparte Broward in 1905. Initially begun as a means of producing prime sugar cane fields. This settlement was the first of the great demonstration projects designed to prove the almost unlimited possibilities for the production if citrus fruit and vegetables from reclaimed and drained black muck soil of the Everglades. When the project ran into financial difficulties in 1908, the State sold the land for $2.00 an acre. Davie attracted its first permanent settlers in 1909. By 1916, approximately 100 families were farming the rich land around Davie. Among the new landowners was R.P. Davie for whom the town was named.

DAVIE, BROWARD COUNTY, FLORIDA
SIGNIFICANCE

Davie purchased about 27,000 acres of land. The construction of irrigation and drainage canals was undertaken and smaller parcels, usually 10 acres each, were sold to persons all over the country. Brochures were sent out advertising "The First Improved Town in the Everglades," and the settlers began to arrive, attracted by the cheap land, warm climate, and rich soil.⁵ A number of houses had been constructed by 1911 and a Methodist Church was organized. The first services and a Sunday school were held in a packing house near the bridge over the canal.⁶

In 1922 a new church was built on four lots given by Vince Helm of the Everglades Sugar and Land Company. By 1924, it was complete and furnished. A hurricane struck in 1926, forcing many residents to take shelter in the church.⁷ By 1928, the settlers had homes, a school, a church, a general store including a dock on the canal and an ice house. As yet few roads connecting Davie with the outside world had been constructed and supplies came in weekly by boat.⁸

In 1925, 48 residents met in the upper room of the schoolhouse to begin the proceedings for incorporation. The incorporation of Davie, however was a brief one. At the next session of the state legislature, the citizens petitioned and were granted the dissolution of the municipality. The town was not officially chartered until 1960. Though certain laws and ordinances had already been passed by the town council, the citizens felt the time had come to draw up a "Code of the Town of Davie." A committee was appointed to write and publicize such a document, and on Tuesday 15, 1926, the code was passed.⁹

The hurricane of 1947, like the one in 1926, was a turning point for the community. The water remained for weeks before leveling off, but the result was to speed the government to establish the present system of control canals by the Army Corps of Engineers at a cost of $208 million. Cattle raising grew rapidly once the flood control measures were put in place, and the citrus industry grew in importance. By 1959, there were 5,000 acres of bearing groves valued at over $5 million. Added to this was a wide variety of winter vegetables.¹⁰

The population of Broward County increased rapidly and the number of residents of Davie had grown to 2,000 by 1960, prompting the community again seek incorporation as they had done in 1926. This time, however, it was permanent. Improvement in transportation also contributed to the growth of Davie, one of the most important of which was the construction of "Alligator Alley, crossing the heart of the Everglades linking the Atlantic Ocean with the Gulf of Mexico."¹¹

Davie has always had a reputation as a "Western" town, with many earlier buildings having "Wild West" architecture. It boasts a significant horse-owning population and once was home to many herds of cattle. In recent years, commercial and residential development has discouraged such practices, but Davie still tries to maintain a "Western" feel. Pioneer City, a western theme park, was located across the street from Flamingo Gardens. It was built in the 1960s and closed a few years later.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Even before Town of Davie was first incorporated November 16, 1925, its citizens immediately undertook measures to improve the appearance and character of the community. Notable women in Davie decided to organize a woman's club to undertake activities for that purpose. The first recorded minutes of the Davie Woman's Club are from August 1922. The first meeting consisted of 18 members and the meetings were held at the Davie School (NR March 29, 1988). The Woman's Club began numerous projects around Davie. The concerned themselves with making the roads more passable for automobiles and asking for street signs and requesting that weeds be mowed along roadsides.¹²

On June 27, 1923, they appointed a committee to pick trees suitable for the school grounds, favoring palms. They checked with the Governmental Experimental Station in Miami for advice. They purchased ten royal and coconut palms for $1 each and had them planted on the school grounds. They worked with the School Board and Broward County to raise money for a school nurse, so that each child could have a free physical. They donated money and clothing to the Salvation Army and sewed clothing for the Children's Home in Miami and the orphans' home. They also knitted and sewed for the Red Cross, with the Red Cross furnishing the materials. They even held a Red Cross first aid class. In order to do all these projects, the members held fund-raisers to defray costs. They served lunches for the Chamber of Commerce and the Town of Davie. Lunches were 50 cents and dinners were $1. They held food sales in Ft. Lauderdale. One particularly good food sale netted $25.76.¹³

The Davie Woman's Club joined the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs (FFWC) in 1924. The FFWC was part of a larger national organization called the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC). Also in 1924, the club started a building fund, putting 80 percent of all monies raised into the fund. In 1927 they started a library. They had 40 books to start and supplies were purchased by the club and residents of Davie were encouraged to donate books to the library. Their first building was a house on 65th Avenue, south of Griffin Road, which was bought in May 1931 for $500. They had a library on the second floor for the community to use. In 1934 the club got electric lights. In May 1942, the Welfare Board used the club one day a week to help the needy. This saved people from having to go to Ft. Lauderdale. The building was sold in 1946 for $4,000 and held their meeting in the Methodist Church, and they purchased land on Orange Drive where the existing building is located from the Chamber of Commerce. The club was incorporated in 1946, and the new building was built in 1947 with labor and materials donated by business firms and by the members' husbands and neighbors.¹⁴

In 1947, the town was inundated by a flood. The 1947 Fort Lauderdale hurricane was an intense tropical cyclone that affected the Bahamas, southernmost Florida, and the Gulf Coast of the United States in September 1947. The fourth Atlantic tropical cyclone of the year, it formed in the eastern Atlantic Ocean on September 4, becoming a hurricane, the third of the 1947 Atlantic hurricane season. Most of the homes in Davie were flooded. Work that was started on the new clubhouse before the hurricane was resumed. Labor and materials were donated by businesses. A new roof was constructed in 1981 and ceiling fans were installed in the same year. Meetings were changed from daytime to evenings in 1982 and the clubhouse was painted inside and out in 1990.¹⁵

In January 1948, Florida Power and Light asked the Davie Woman's Club to sponsor a party for their employees, the club to furnish supper, an orchestra, and everything needed for the evening. Florida Power and Light paid $375 for expenses. The club agreed to serve supper for $2.00 a plate. The supper was held at the Chamber of Commerce building on March 5th.¹⁶

The club sponsored many organizations and event over the years. These included the Hacienda Girl's Ranch, the American Red Cross, the Tuberculosis and Health Association, Special Olympics, March of Dimes, Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation, Have-a-Heart Campaign, the Salvation Army, and Care.¹⁷

Dear Ms. Estabrook:

Thank you very much for your letter dated February 2, 2016 informing me that the Davie Woman's Club will be reviewed for the listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

I have worked with the Woman's Club for more than five years trying to make this a reality. The Woman's Club has been an integral part of Davie's history since the 1920's and when the new building was opened in the 1940's it became a center of activity for the Town of Davie.

It was the Town's first library and to this day they continue to maintain a library for use by the members.

I wholeheartedly recommend and support the application and it would be a great honor for me to announce this at a council meeting and to present them with the certification. I have spoken to a few of the women about attending the hearing in Tallahassee but most are unable to do so. So I have included letters from the members as well as 386 signatures of individuals who passed through the Woman's Club on the weekend of February 27th and 28th during our 79th Annual Orange Blossom Festival.

This gives you an idea of the impact that the Woman's Club and their wonderful hospitality has had on our visitors and residents.

Thank you very much for your consideration and I will be looking forward to the good news.

Sincerely,

Judy Paul
Mayor

To whom this may concern-

As a past Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary and member of the Davie Woman's club for 36 years I am very honored for our clubhouse to be up for a proposed nomination for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. When I was a young girl I would go to the clubhouse with my mother. After I joined the club I participated in various events to raise money for charities and money to pay for the utility bills and insurance for the club house.

The ladies would have spaghetti dinners, bunco, bingo and our biggest fund raiser the Strawberry Sales at the Orange Blossom Festival. We also held our annual Membership Tea to bring in new members. We were always involved in community improvement as well as helping others in the community. Most functions in the community were held at our clubhouse. Our club house was built in 1948 and housed the first library in Davie. Other than a few "updates", the house remains in its original state. It is located next to Town Hall, in the center of downtown. For the use of the club house, these organizations give us either donations or "in kind" services. Our house is easy to spot...we are the little gray house on Orange Drive.

Again, we are honored to have our house nominated.

Betty Hennig - Member and Past Vice President -
Davie Woman's Club

I Joined the D W C in Feb. 1983. I remember having my first child's baby shower at the woman/s club because my mother – in –law was a member. That was in 1957. After my children were older, I joined the club in 1983.

Because the town had the orange blossom festival in Feb. and the parade was around our clubhouse, it was suggested that we should sell drinks and food. Since then it has grown and it is now one of our biggest money-makers. In 1988 we processed 4 flats of berries, this year we processed 24 flats!

I was president in 1986-90, 1991-94, and 1998-99.

In those days we made money for expenses by having car washes, we sold rummage and had book sales at the club house.

The American Legion needed a place to hold their meetings, and they agreed to put air conditioning in the building, and in return, we let them use our building for their meetings. We were then able to use the club house during the summer.

We participated in the district meetings, and art shows.

We have an annual membership tea and invite all ladies of the community. Each year it has a different theme with a contest, hat parade or entertainment.

We let the girl scouts and cub scouts use the club for their yearly banquets.

We help the Town with Town of Davie functions, such as water way clean up.

This house holds many memories for our community. I am very honored that our house has been nominated.

To whom this may concern-

As the current President and member of the Davie Woman's club for 12 years it is an honor for our clubhouse to be up for a proposed nomination for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. Our ladies work very hard year round to raise monies to help various charities and provide college scholarships to deserving girls.

We support Hope Outreach, Canine Companions, Davie PAL and a local retirement home. Last year we provided (2) $1000 college scholarships. We are a member of the Davie Cooper City Chamber of Commerce, GFWC District 13, Florida Federation of Women's Clubs and General Federation is Women's Clubs.

Our club is very proud to be the owner of our house. It was built in 1948 and housed the first library in Davie. Other than a few "updates", the house remains in its original state. It is located next to Town Hall, in the center of downtown. Because of this location it is often used by various town organizations. For the use of the club house, these organizations give us either donations or "in kind" services. Our house is easy to spot...we are the little gray house on Orange Drive.

Again, we are honored to have our house nominated.
