Description

The Dr. Frizell House is a one-and-one-half story, wood frame Craftsman residence. The corner porch disguises a virtually uninterrupted gable roof which shelters a rectangular and balanced plan. A single exterior chimney is attached to the western wall near the northern elevation. The roof material is composition shingle, the walls are clad in original stucco, and the continuous foundation is formed from cast concrete.

The northern or front elevation is composed of a cross-gable porch attached at the northeast corner of the front gable plan. The porch is supported on six tall, sloping wood columns which in turn are supported by stuccoed pedestals. The porch and patio it covers wrap around slightly to the east side. The cornices throughout are decorated with knee braces and exposed rafters.

A hipped roof rear room is completely fenestrated with four-over-four wood sash windows; otherwise, the entire house, including the doghouse dormers on both sides of the main ridge, is fenestrated with three-over-one wood sash windows.

Three other outbuildings--a doctor's office, a second residence, and a small garage--all date from the period of significance of the main house and are therefore included in this nomination.

Significance

Criterion C, local significance

The Dr. Frizell House (Part E, Historic Context #4) is the best example in Bradford of a one-and-one-half story, wood frame Craftsman residence. Constructed in 1929-30, this house is typical of the third period in the evolution of Craftsman style designs in White County. Its floor plan has become very regular and symmetrical and features only the vestiges of the irregularity of plan and elevation which was one of the hallmark features of this building style.

Reviewer's Comments

The boundaries of this property are presently located along building lines. A resource listed in the National Register should include all features of the property which contribute to its significance. In almost all cases this includes its historic setting. Page 77 of National Register Bulletin 16, Guidelines for Completing National Register of Historic Places Forms, states that "the boundaries of buildings should include the land surrounding the building, unless the lot occupied by the building contains no surrounding land as in the central business district of most cities."

Please revise the boundaries to include the property historically associated with the resource. If a portion of the original setting has lost its integrity, please explain.
