HAZELWOOD

On this site Morgan L. Harris (1808-1887) built his home in 1837, after his marriage to Elizabeth Smith of Pittsburgh, N. Y. It is a classic of model, beauty and artistic accomplishment for nearly a century. Coming in 1857 as a young attorney, he began to lay the foundation for statehood. A member of the Wisconsin Territorial Council 1837-38, returned in 1854-55 to serve on the Wisconsin Territorial Council. From 1855-61 represented the Territory in Congress, an honor he attained in the fall of 1856 as the people of Wisconsin Territory to form a constitution and state government. The admission of each state into the Union, the constitution submitted by the Committee and the approval of the President. The work of a second Commission in 1845-46. It was accepted by vote of the people and the territory and the act of Congress on May 26, 1846.
