A black and white photograph of the Tukwila City Hall building. The building is a single-story structure with a gabled roof and horizontal siding. The entrance is centered and features a double door with a transom window above it. Above the door is a decorative archway. A sign above the archway reads "TUKWILA CITY HALL". To the left of the entrance is a window with a flower box, and to the right is another window. The building is surrounded by trees and shrubs. A parking lot is visible in the foreground.
