MONTANA HISTORICAL*ARCHITECTURAL INVENTORY

8 Owner & Address: F. I. Sabo 9 Public Private 8 West Harrison, Bozeman, MT 10 Year Built:1913 Factual Estimate 11 Location Original Moved 12 Architect (if known): 13 Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder 14 Exterior Materials: Stone Brick Stucco Wood Log Terra-cotta Concrete Shingle Other Materials (specify): 15 Condition: Excellent Good Fair Deteriorated In Ruins No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Wunaltered 17 Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred.	1 7 1	OIAIT (IAT TIIOTOTCIC) LE MICCITILOTOTCI IL IIATEIATOTC
3 Historic Name: Little Bear School 3a Common Name: 4 Address: Gallatin Gateway, Montana 5 Program Area: Gallatin County, MT	1	Reference # Date: Winter 1980
Address: Gallatin Gateway, Montana PHOTO	2	Photo # 4 Direction N NE E SE S SW W NW
Address: Gallatin Gateway, Montana PHOTO	3	Historic Name: Little Bear School CONTACT
5 Program Area: Callatin County, MT 6 County Code 031 State Code 030 7 Legal Description: 200'x200' lot, just off the corner from Bear Creek Road 1 County Code 031 State Code 030 8 Owner & Address: F. I. Sabo 9 Public Private & West Harrison, Bozeman, MT 10 Year Built: 1913 Factual Estimate 11 Location Original Moved 12 Architect (if known): 13 Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder 14 Exterior Materials: Stone Brick Stucco Wood Log Terra-cotta Concrete Shingle Other Materials (specify): 15 Condition: Excellent Good Fair Deteriorated In Ruins No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Wanleterd 17 Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Historical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction	3a
5 Program Area: Callatin County, MT 6 County Code 031 State Code 030 7 Legal Description: 200'x200' lot, just off the corner from Bear Creek Road 6.0. C.	4	Address: Gallatin Gateway, Montana
8 Owner & Address: F. I. Sabo 9 □ Public ☑ Private 8 West Harrison, Bozeman, MT 10 Year Built:1913 ☑ Factual □ Estimate	5
9 Public Northead 8 West Harrison, Bozeman, MT 10 Year Built: 1913 Naractual Estimate	7	Legal Description: 200'x200' lot, just off the corner from Bear Creek Road
10 Year Built:1913 Factual Estimate 11 Location Original Moved 12 Architect (if known): 13 Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder 14 Exterior Materials: Stone Brick Stucco Wood Log Terra-cotta Concrete Shingle Other Materials (specify): 15 Condition: Excellent Cood Fair Deteriorated In Ruins No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Unaltered 17 Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning hexter is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Mistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area.	8	1. 1. 0400
12 Architect (if known): 13 Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder 14 Exterior Materials: Stone Brick Stucco Wood Log Terra-cotta Concrete Shingle Other Materials (specify): 15 Condition: Excellent Good Fair Deteriorated In Ruins No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Malatered 17 Present Use: Vacant Is Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local crafts—man, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: ⊠Historical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	9	☐ Public ☐ Private 8 West Harrison, Bozeman, MT
12 Architect (if known): 13 Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder 14 Exterior Materials:
13 Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder	10	Year Built:1913 ▼ Factual ☐ Estimate
14 Exterior Materials: Stone Brick Stucco Wood Log Terra-cotta Concrete Shingle Other Materials (specify): 15 Condition: Excellent Good Fair Deteriorated In Ruins No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Minor Unaltered 17 Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Mistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	12	Architect (if known):
□ Shingle □ Other Materials (specify): 15 Condition: □ Excellent □ Good □ Fair □ Deteriorated □ In Ruins □ No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: □ Altered □ Major □ Minor □ Unaltered 17 Present Use: vacant □ 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: □ Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	13	Builder/Original Owner (if known) Martinez Colder
15 Condition: □Excellent □Cood □ Fair □ Deteriorated □ In Ruins □ No Longer Exists 16 Retention of Original Design: □ Altered □ Major □ Minor □ Unaltered 17 Present Use: vacant □ 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local crafts—man, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: □ Historical Associations □ Architectural and Engineering design and appearance □ Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	14	Exterior Materials: Stone Brick Stucco Wood Log Terra-cotta Concrete
16 Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Minor Monatered 17 Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Whistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Cclder.		☐ Shingle ☐ Other Materials (specify):
17 Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse 19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local crafts—man, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Mistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Cclder.	15	Condition: ☐ Excellent ☐ Good ☐ Fair ☐ Deteriorated ☐ In Ruins ☐ No Longer Exists
19 Please describe the present general physical appearance of the structure and site. To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Mistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	16	Retention of Original Design: Altered Major Minor Munor Unaltered
To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the property over the years, noting the approximate dates at which they occurred. The Little Bear School is a one story log building with a gable roof, built in 1913 There are two square windows on the east wall. The wood burning heater is located five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Mistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	17	Present Use: vacant 18 Original Use: schoolhouse five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local crafts—man, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good condition and presently abandoned. 20a Reason for significance: Mistorical Associations Architectural and Engineering design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	19	To the extent possible, please also describe changes that have occurred to the design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	f n c	five feet inside the front door. The log construction, rendered by a local craftsman, is similar to that of Spanish Creek school. The logs are simply squared and overlapped, the joint being covered by a vertical board. Approximately 50 feet to the south of the building is a single outdoor privy. The building is in good design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information 20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.
20b Please justify the historical significance; noting important persons, events and/or historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	20	a Reason for significance: X Historical Associations X Architectural and Engineering historical patterns associated with structure, site and surrounding area. The Little Bear School is representative of the gable ended log type (A) in the school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.		design and appearance Presence of historic or prehistoric information school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez Colder.	201
APR 15 1982	t 1 v	school house evolution. Unlike the Horseshoe Basin and Spanish Creek schools, this building was originally built as a school. It is unique in that the building utilizes a folk construction technique at a time when frame construction was predominant. The form of the building is the same as those using frame construction yet the log medium was more familiar to the local craftsman, Martinez
		APR 15 1982

RUNDEICANCE

	20c	Please justify how the location, design, details, materials, and/or workmanship contribute to the property's significance.
7
	20d	Please note if the extant structure/site may demonstrate or yield information about its historic use or construction.
	21	Neighborhood Context: ☐Unrelated ☐Compatible ☑Integral element ☐ Major component of the neighborhood
ed	21a	If the structure/site contributes to the value of a larger grouping of structures and sites, please describe the visual or historic relationships that the individual structure/site has to that grouping.
E continued
SIGNIFICANCE	22	Environmental/Economic threats to survival: Private Development Zoning Public Works Projects Vanadalism Deterioration Other (specify):
Ž,	23	Recognition in existing historical surveys:
5	24	Sources of Documentation: Annual Trustee Reports 1896-1934
, 	25	Assess December 1 December 1
) BY	25	Agency Prepared For: Name/Address Dave Minor and Paul Rishon
핖	20	Phone # Dave Minor and Paul Bishop Date:
₹	·	Organization: School of Architecture, MSU, Bozeman, MT
HEPAKEL		organization. School of Architecture, into, Bozeman, in
_ [27	Staff Evaluator: Date: Permission to Nominate X Yes No
	28	National Register Status: Listed Currently nominated Appears to meet NR Criteria A B C D Does not appear to meet NR Criteria Eligible Yes No As part of a district Yes No Individually Yes No
	29	UTM References: Zone 1 2 Easting 4 8 7 1 0 0 Northing 5 0 4 3 4 2 5
E ONLY	30	Please Return to: State Historic Preservation Office Montana Historical Society 225 N. Roberts St. Helena, Montana 59601
SIAFF USE	31	SHPO Comments: