

A black and white photograph of the Federal Building in Alamogordo, New Mexico. The building is a large, single-story structure with a light-colored, possibly stucco, exterior. It features several arched entries with dark metal gates. A prominent feature is a two-story tower on the left side with a balcony and a small arched window. The building is topped with a low wall and decorative circular medallions. A tall flagpole stands in front of the building, flying a flag. In the foreground, there is a paved area with some dark, silhouetted trees and shrubs. The sky is bright and overexposed.

Federal Building - Alamogordo New Mexico

after Rain to bring Green Life out of the Earth.

Ven Pluvia bendita. Ven a acariciar la Tierra

