A representative example of lowa's Victorian Romanesque courthouse architecture.

21. Historical Significance

Theme(s) politics/government

⊠a. Key structure/individually may qualify for the National Register □ b. Contributing structure □c. Not eligible/intrusion

This courthouse is locally significant as the historical focus of county government, and of the political power and prestige derived from the community's status as the county seat. As center of county government, an lowa town was reasonably assured of economic and population growth, and a prominent role in local social and political life. The county courthouse represents a significant public investment in a structure built not simply for utilitarian purposes, but also as a monument associated with the historical importance of county organization and development.

ADAIR COUNTY

The original courthouse in Adair County was not at Greenfield but at Fontanelle. It was a small building, two stories high and 26 feet wide by 36 feet long, constructed of locally harvested woods and hardware brought by wagon from Keokuk. It was used from 1856 until 1874 when the county seat was moved to the village of Greenfield. After 1874 and until it burned down in 1910, it served a multitude of purposes including as a school, a church, for fraternal meetings, for social gatherings, and as a town hall.

The second courthouse, but the first in Greenfield, built in 1874, was doomed to the same fate as the first one in Fontanelle. It cost almost $8,000 for the two-story frame building which was situated on the East side of the town square. Luckily, in spite of the destructive fire of 1889, the county records were preserved in the vaults. Until the third courthouse was finished in 1892, the opera house became the courthouse.

The cornerstone of the present courthouse was laid on July 4, 1891. Inside the cornerstone were placed several items, including a bible, a bottle of corn, a bottle of wine, a bottle of oil, a history of Greenfield from 1856, a church history, names of Adair County officers, and lists of officers and members of some community organizations. Also included were three coins, a letter to be opened by the oldest man present when removed, a record of the 1889 fire to be opened by the oldest businessman present, and a number of other items.

This brick courthouse was completed on March 25, 1892 at a cost of $26,768 including furniture and is architecturally almost identical to the Monona County courthouse located at Onawa.
