

NO PARKING
ANY TIME

1963

A black and white photograph of a two-story wooden house with a garage. The house has a gabled roof and a prominent front-facing gable. The siding is light-colored and appears weathered. A large window with dark shutters is visible on the upper floor. Below the window is a two-car garage with dark doors. To the left of the house, a utility pole stands with a sign that reads "NO PARKING ANY TIME" with an arrow pointing left. The house is surrounded by trees and foliage. In the background, a car is visible on a road. The overall scene is captured in high contrast, with deep shadows and bright highlights.
