A black and white photograph of a Radio Shack store building. The building is a single-story structure with a brick upper section and a white stucco lower section. It features three large, dark arched openings. A sign with the words "Radio Shack" in a bold, sans-serif font is mounted on a black metal pole in front of the building. The building shows signs of wear, with peeling paint and some graffiti on the white walls. To the left, another building with a covered walkway is visible. The foreground is a paved street.
