THE BAKER HOUSE

SAMUEL AND ELIZABETH PENDER BAKER BUILT THIS "CRACKER" HOUSE IN 1882. A SPONGE HOOKER OF MARINER LINEAGE WHO OWNED LAND AT BAILLIE'S BLUFF, HE GAVE IT A NAUTICAL TOUCH AS WELL AS THE TRADITIONAL "DOG TROT" HALL THROUGH THE CENTER. VERTICAL WALL PLANKS ARE JOINED LIKE SHIPBUILDERS FASTEN TOGETHER WOODEN HULLS. RESTORED FOR USE AS A MUSEUM, THE BAKER HOUSE IS THE 'CROWN JEWEL' OF PASCO COUNTY'S CENTENNIAL PARK.

A black and white photograph showing the interior of a wooden structure, likely a boat hull or a large wooden box. The image captures the complex framework of wooden beams and planks. On the left, several diagonal and horizontal beams are visible, forming a sturdy support structure. The right side of the image shows a series of horizontal planks that form the outer wall or floor of the structure. The wood appears aged and weathered, with visible grain patterns and some dark spots. In the bottom right corner, there is a digital date stamp that reads "4.28.95".

A black and white photograph of a narrow wooden staircase. The stairs are made of wide wooden planks and lead upwards. The walls on either side are also made of wood, with a dark wooden railing on the right. Three white rectangular signs with black text are placed on the stairs. The first sign is on the second step from the top, the second is on the fourth step, and the third is on the bottom-most step. The text on the signs reads "WATCH YOUR STEP", "WATCH YOUR HEAD", and "WATCH YOUR HEAD" respectively. The lighting is dramatic, with deep shadows and bright highlights on the wood.
