

Grand Valley Diversion Dam, Mesa County,
Colorado (site: BLM designation S ME 301).

View of facility from the west bank of the Colorado River (here the river flows virtually due south). Note the D. & R.G.W. railroad tracks in the foreground.

This particular dam design was adopted to avoid flooding the tracks. (Note: white frame bldg. on far right is just outside the designated area).

Source: U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, photographer unknown, c. 1960. Negative at upper Colorado office, Salt Lake City, Utah. (Facility is unchanged.)

Grand Valley Diversion Dam, Mesa County,
Colorado (site: BLM designation S ME 301).

View of facility from the west bank of the Colorado River (here the river flows virtually due south). Note the D. & R.G.W. railroad tracks in foreground. This particular dam design was adopted to avoid flooding of the tracks.

Source: U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Grand Valley Diversion Dam, Mesa County,
Colorado (Site: BLM designation S ME 301)

View of facility from the east bank of the Colorado River (here the river flows due south), downstream from the dam.

Source: U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, photographer unknown, c. 1960. Negative at Upper Colorado Office, Salt Lake City, Utah.
(Facility is unchanged today.)

Grand Valley Diversion Dam, Mesa County,
Colorado (Site: BLM designation S ME 301)

View of facility from the east bank of the Colorado River (here the river flows virtually due south), downstream from the dam.

Source: U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.