#410 202 Park Avenue, ill. 35.

4. Owner: Eugene Stewart, 202 Park Avenue, Aztec, N.M.

7. Description: Ashlar stone foundation; brick walls; projecting brick sills, segmental arches; gable frieze board with shiplap and wood shingles above; chamfered and cut-out bargeboard and stickwork.

Located one-half block southwest of the proposed Main Street district in a mix residential and commercial area.

8. Significance: While most of the residences built in the original town site before the arrival of the railroad stood on Church and Mesa Verde Avenues, east of the commercial area on Main Street, a few were built to the west, on Park Avenue. While most of these have been remodeled, the house at 202 Park retains its original appearance. It is a condensed version of the one-and-a-half story simplified Anne type which accounts for half a dozen houses in the proposed residential district (ill. 12). The Park Avenue house is one room deep rather than two, and shiplap is substituted for the half timbering in the gables of the larger examples. Details such as the projecting brick sills and segmental arches and the chamfered and cut-out bargeboard and stickwork, nevertheless, make it a pleasing, if modest, house.

10. Acreage: under 1 UTM Reference: 13 232450 4079050
Boundary: NW ½ of Lots 22 and 23 of Block 20 of the original town site.
