A black and white photograph of a small, white wooden church building. The church has a prominent steeple on the right side. The front entrance features a double door with a triangular window above it. A sign above the door reads "SWEET METHODIST CHURCH". To the right of the door, a smaller sign lists the church and Sunday school hours. A white picket fence is visible in the foreground on the right, and a metal railing is on the left. The building is surrounded by trees and a clear sky.
