OPPORTUNITY FOR THE YOUTH OF OREGON

A civilization now in its beginnings will pass through youth to middle age in a lifetime and the young men and women about us will guide it to its maturity. No ruins are here. The work is one of construction. It is a responsibility to tear down errors of the past and to put in their places new ideals. It is a greater responsibility to hold fast to the truth of the past, undisturbed. In the complex, experimental, present. It is the greatest responsibility to lay foundations for the future in which no flaw may weaken the structure.

Luella Clay Carson LL.B. Litt. D. 1856.
