

THE SNOOKING SCHOOLHOUSE
This stone country school has served the National Community since being built by U.S. Troops in 1863 at a cost of $1000.
It was expanded in 1875 when the school moved here from Snooking, Oregon.

A black and white photograph of a stone gable wall. The wall is constructed from rough-hewn, rectangular stones. In the center of the gable, there is a decorative, oval-shaped plaque with a scalloped edge. The plaque contains the text "D.T.A. 27" on the top line and "AD. 1883" on the bottom line. To the left of the plaque, a satellite dish is mounted on the wall, casting a shadow. The roofline is visible at the top, with some bare vines or branches hanging down from the left side. The overall scene is captured in a high-contrast, grainy black and white style.
