A black and white photograph of a stone fireplace. The fireplace is built with large, roughly-hewn stones and has a simple arched opening. Above the arch is a thick wooden mantel. On the wall above the mantel, a wooden sign is mounted with the text "FEE USED FOR MAINTENANCE AND IMPROVEMENT OF STATE PARKS". To the right of the fireplace, there is a window with a wooden frame. The interior of the fireplace is dark, and a small wooden stool or bench is visible inside. The overall scene is rustic and historical.
