DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Henry C. Kettenbach residence is a two and one-half story frame house with two abbreviated gables breaking the front of its truncated hipped roof. A balustraded porch runs the length of the facade and wraps around the left side. Tuscan columns support the porch roof which has two pediments which correspond to the roof's gables.

There are beveled glass transoms over the front door and window. Most of the original interior woodwork including the staircase and fireplace mantle is intact. The house remains unaltered even though it has been recycled as a school administration building. However, the large corner lot on which it is situated has been neglected and the one-time formal rose garden to the right of the house has become overgrown.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Henry C. Kettenbach residence has local architectural significance as a good example of a Queen Anne Colonial frame residence. The house was the first in the neighborhood and its commanding appearance, which is greatly enhanced by its spacious setting, has made it a city landmark.

The house's association with the Kettenbach family further adds to its significance. The Kettenbach's were one of the major families in Lewiston with large land holdings, a bank, the water power company, and a commercial block. Dr. Salisbury, who married Henry C. Kettenbach's daughter, resided in this house for many years after his father-in-law's demise. Lewiston high school has perpetuated the family association in naming the building Kettenbach Hall.
