EXIT

A black and white photograph of a dark, abandoned hallway. The walls are dark and textured. On the right side, there are several windows of varying sizes, some with multiple panes. Light streams in from the windows, creating bright highlights and deep shadows. In the foreground, there is a pile of debris, including what appears to be a chair and some papers or fabric. In the background, an open doorway is visible, and above it, a rectangular sign with the word "EXIT" is mounted on the wall. The overall atmosphere is one of desolation and neglect.
