	DESCRIBE THE DO	DESENT AND OD	CINAL CITIES

One and one-half story clapboard frame house on brick foundation. Gable roof, two outside chimneys on each end. All windows in original section are six over six with green louvered shutters. One-story hipped roof front porch supported by six double capped square columns which have separate foundations standing free of porch. Matching details in banisters around porch and roof deck, and step railings. Extra large center dormer contains door with three-paned sidelights. Both front entrances are surrounded by an unusual "triangular architrave."

Central hallways on each floor. Enclosed stairway is entered from back of hall. Walls and ceilings are plastered. Doors and windows are crowned with the same design that is found over the exterior doors.

One-story addition two bays long of nine over nine windows with green louvered shutters.

To left of house is old brick kitchen: four bays wide of six over six windows with green louvered shutters; gable roof with pair of end chimneys on each side; two rooms with large open fireplaces, ovens, and warmers. One fireplace still has its swinging cranes and spits.

Several counties can be seen from the hilltop location of the house. The majestic panorama gave the house its name: "beautiful view" in Scottish dialect.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Significant as one of the oldest remaining ante-bellum homes in the Longtown area of Fairfield County. It is located on an old Indian path which ran along the western side of the Wateree River.

Property on which the house was erected was part of a large land grant received in 1793 by Darling Jones, a Camden banker. The house was built in 1822.

Architecture reflects life style of period. Two wide central hallways served a dual purpose: ventilation and ample space for entertaining. Interior has hand-carved mantels, wainscoting, and cornices.

After the Confederate War, plantation was sold at public auction. Later, Blink Bonnie was used as a stage house or station.

In 1943, the dilapidated mansion was purchased by the M.A. Kirklands who have since restored and furnished the house with many pieces from the Camden Kirkland home, Kamschatka, which is now the property of Mrs. William F. Buckley, Sr. The original kitchen has been modernized and was employed by the owner for eight years in the making of pickles and artichoke relishes for commercial use.

Blink Bonnie is one of ten Fairfield County buildings recommended as worthy of inclusion in the HABS Archives by John C. Poppeliers of Historic American Buildings Survey who made a review tour of the area in 1966.
