A black and white photograph of a three-story building facade. The building features a prominent central window arrangement with two rows of four windows each, separated by decorative moldings. The ground floor has a central entrance with double doors and two side windows. A sign above the entrance reads "SHAW DRY GOODS CO." The building is flanked by other structures, including a brick building to the right and a building with a striped awning to the left. The image is high-contrast, with deep shadows and bright highlights.
