NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION

Legion State Park is located in the northern part of Louisville, Mississippi off Highway 25 in Winston County. This park consists of 420 acres, of which approximately 120 are included in this nomination. Legion State Park was the fourth of ten state parks in Mississippi developed by the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). The CCC Camp 480 began creating the park in October of 1934, and opened the site to the public in July of 1937. All the buildings were designed in the popular Rustic style of architecture commonly found in state park structures to blend with their natural surroundings. Standardized plans were developed by the National Park Service for the layout and construction of park facilities throughout the United States.

The park is characterized by its rolling hills, thick trees and two lakes. In order to further blend the man-made landscape with the natural one, all buildings and structures from the CCC era were designed in the Rustic style of architecture. The buildings all retain their original forms, exterior materials, and sense of place.

The park retains a high degree of its overall historic and architectural integrity. There are ten buildings and one structure that contribute to the architectural and historic character of the Legion State Park Historic District. These include the Lodge, a bunkhouse, the manager's residence, several cabins, a barn and the entrance gate structure. All contributing elements are identified with the notation "C." In addition, there are five buildings and four structures within the district do not contribute since they were not constructed by the CCC and do not fit the architectural or historical character of this nomination. These elements are identified with the notation "NC." The ten non-contributing structures are picnic pavilions, latrines and a woodshed that are scattered throughout the park. The designed landscape of the park is another contributing element, counted as a contributing site, and is noted in the inventory.

26 C Landscape c.1934

This is a designed landscape that emphasizes the scenic landscape of the park's terrain. Notable man-made features include stone steps, stone culverts and wooden bridges with stone foundations. The CCC strove to create non-intrusive man-made features in the natural landscapes. Legion State Park is an excellent example of this philosophy.

Statement of Significance

The Legion State Park Historic District has local and statewide significance under Criterion A in the areas of entertainment and recreation and social history, and under Criterion C in the areas of architecture and landscape architecture. The period of significance extends from 1934, with the construction of the park, to 1948, fifty years before this nomination. The historical development of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) is discussed in detail in the MPS "State Parks in Mississippi built by the CCC between 1934-1942." Legion State Park is an example of one of the ten new parks built in Mississippi by the CCC and placed under the supervision of the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

The CCC administered a variety of programs including road, park, and defense construction, reforestation, and erosion control, as well as many other facilities. The effects of this agency on the man-made landscape were enormous. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt established the CCC as part of his New Deal program to help combat the economical hardships of the depression. (See the MPS cover document for a detailed account on pages 3-5).

The CCC used standardized approaches to park design to create regional interpretations that would blend into the natural surroundings. Legion State Park was the fourth of ten parks in Mississippi created by the CCC. CCC Camp 480 began work on October 12, 1934 and the park opened to the public on July 19, 1937. The CCC workers transformed the natural landscape with man-made roads, walking trails, cabins and other necessary park facilities thus combining national agendas with regional materials and surroundings. In 1954, Legion State Park was leased to the Pushmataha Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America for 25 years. For those 25 years, it was known as Camp Palila.

All buildings within the district are constructed in the Rustic style and blend nicely into their environment. The buildings retain their original forms, exterior materials, and sense of place.

Additional Registration Requirements

The general registration requirements for listing of CCC-related state parks in Mississippi have been discussed in the cover document. However, because of their brevity, it has been determined that in order to be eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places as a part of the "State Parks in Mississippi built by the CCC between 1934-1942" multiple property submission, a state park historic district must meet these additional registration requirements.

1. It must be or have been a Mississippi State Park developed by the CCC between 1932 and 1942.
2. It must retain, within the proposed district boundaries, a high degree of historical integrity from the period of its construction. It must retain most of its historic buildings, and they must retain a high degree of integrity of design, location, craftsmanship, and materials. It must retain its major landscape features, including lakes, woodlands, CCC-built walks, steps, and other structures, as well as the basic arrangement of roads and trails.
3. Areas of these parks not historically associated with the CCC or developed after that period will be excluded whenever possible from the boundaries of the historic district.
