

M:12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus lun)

Montgomery Co. Md

B. Cleven

9/2002

Md SHPO

Sugarloaf Mtn from Comus lun

lot 15

H: 12-8-1

Johnson - Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery County, MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Main house, east facade

2 of 14

H: 12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery County, MD

L. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Main house, SE corner

3 of 14

M: 12 - 8 - 1

Johnson-Wolfe, Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co., MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Main house, SW corner

4 of 14

H: 12-8-1

Johnson - Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co., MD

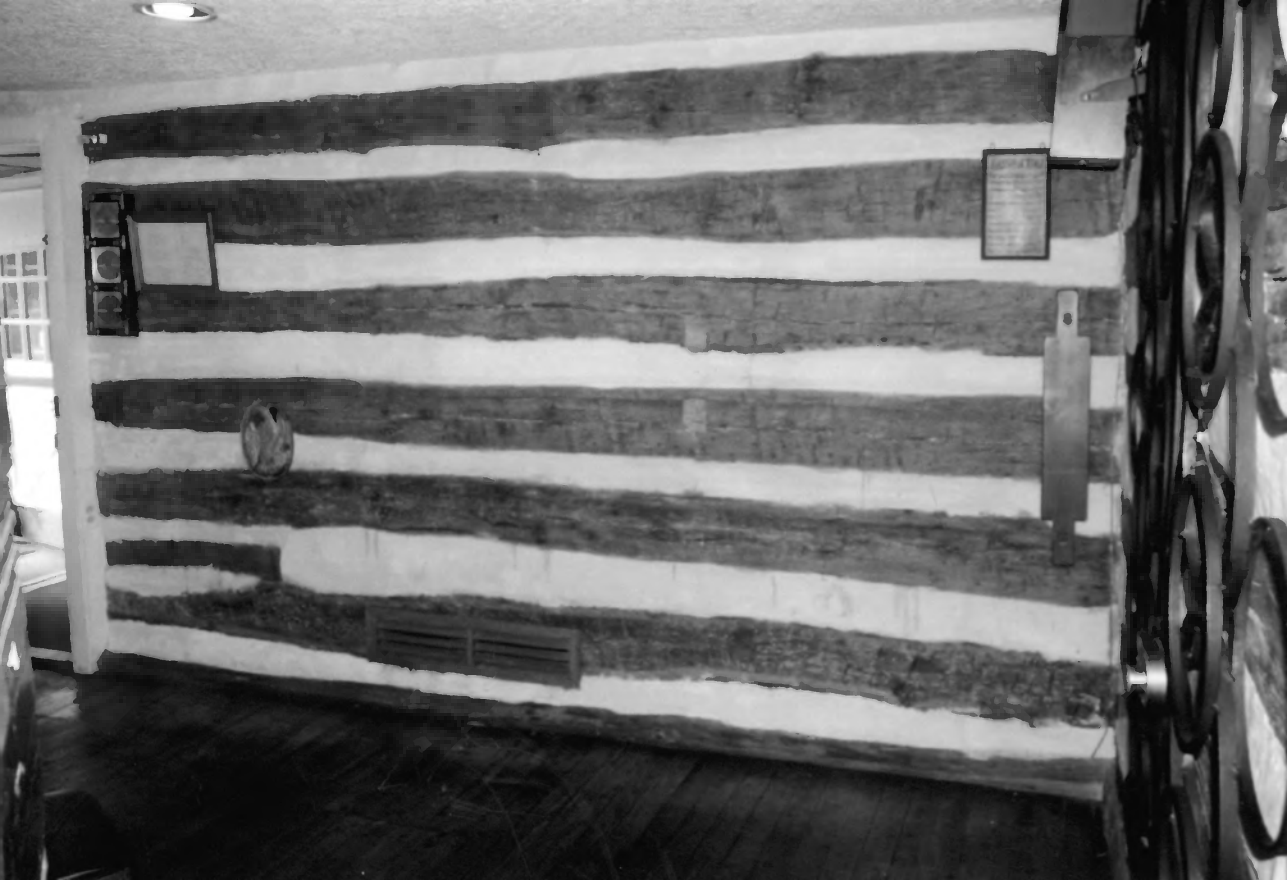

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Main house, west facade

5 of 14

M: 12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co. Md

B. Clevin

9/2002

MD SHPD

1st fl, south wall showing logs

6 of 15

M: 12-8-1

Johnson, Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co. MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

1st floor stair, view looking NW

7 of 14

M: 12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe

Montgomery Co

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

2nd floor, SE corner

8 of 14

Farm (Comus Inn)
MD

M: 12- 8 - 1
Johnson, - Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co., MD

L. Grandine

August 2022

MD SHPO

Smokehouse, east and south facades

9 of 14

M: 12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co., MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Smoke house, west and north elevations

10 of 14

M: 12-8-1
Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co. MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Barn, north and east elevations

11 of 14

COUNTRY INN

M: 12-8-1
Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Cornus Inn)

Montgomery Co, MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Barn, south and west elevations

12 of 14

M: 12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co., MD

K. Gandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Chickencoop, NE corner

13 of 14

M: 12-8-1
Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery Co., MD

K. Grandine

August 2002

MD SHPO

Chicken coop, SW corner

14 of 14

MT. EPHRAIM CROSSROADS

Sharpshooters Hold the Line

ANTIETAM CAMPAIGN 1862

You are looking at Sugarloaf Mountain, where the running cavalry fight that began in the late afternoon on September 9, 1862, in Barnesville came to a halt. By the next morning, the 7th and 9th Virginia Cavalry had been brought to bay here at the southern base of the mountain by the 8th Illinois and 3rd Indiana Cavalry. Both sides had been reinforced, and each had brought up artillery. Dismounted sharpshooters of the 2nd Virginia Cavalry looked down on the Federals from among the trees and rocks on the slopes of the mountain. The fighting continued throughout the day with much cannon fire. By evening neither side had budged, and one Union cavalryman had been killed and one wounded.

Sugarloaf Mountain

Early on the morning of September 11, the Confederates slipped away after brief exchanges of gunfire, also abandoning a signal station atop the mountain. As the Army of Northern Virginia was marching northwest out of Frederick, the action at Sugarloaf Mountain proved to be a successful rearguard action.

The Cannon Inn was the Benjamin Johnson family farm at the time of the Civil War, and the crossroads was known as Mt. Ephraim. The family's log cabin was added to in the 1840s. The name Cannon (Benjamin got of cavalry and son of Hachman) was not used until a post office was established here in 1939. In the 1930s, President Franklin D. Roosevelt wanted to acquire Sugarloaf Mountain as his presidential retreat, but the owner, Gordon Strong, refused to sell, so the president went north to Shangri-La, now Camp David.

cavalry on their way to the Potomac River.

M=12-8-1

Johnson-Wolfe Farm (Comus Inn)

Montgomery, Co. Md

B. Clevin

9/2002

Md SHPO

Civil War Marker

15 of 15