DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Built in 1909, the Ada Thompson Memorial Home is one of Little Rock's most important historic structures. The house has undergone few alterations and appears much the same as when it was originally built. The architects, Frank Gibb and Theodore Sanders, designed the Ada Thompson Home in a Georgian Revival architectural style.

The two and one-half storey house with a full basement is constructed of brick. The high hipped roof is characteristic of Georgian Revival architecture. Projecting from the roof are several dormers, spaced symmetrically about the house. The cornice is marked by decorative brackets and dentils.

The facade of the house is marked by windows which feature ornate window heads with keystones. Lugsills are of cut stone. The dominant feature of the facade is the two storey portico, supported by two pairs of fluted capitol columns. The hipped roof rectangular portico is marked by ornamental brackets and dentils on the cornice. A round ornamental window is above the portico.

The main entry door is flanked by fluted Ionic capitol pilasters. Leaded glass windows flank the entry. Shutters flank the major windows. A feature of note on the south elevation is the one storey sun porch. The north elevation contains a one storey projection. The first floor porch contains steps leading to the north entry. The east elevation features a two storey porch supported by nine square brick columns. There is a half storey walk-down to the basement. Open at the first level, the porch is enclosed by screen at the second floor level.

There are approximately 18,200 square feet of living space in the two and one-half floors. The main floor has four large halls each ten feet wide running N-S and E-W. The stairway is located at the point where the wide and front halls meet. Over the landing of the stairway is a four-pane sky-light. The main floor will contain a large entry hall, library, dining room, reception room, music room and powder room.

The upstairs has N-S hall and E-W side hall off of which are ten bedrooms, two bathrooms, and a family room.

The basement houses a kitchen, breakfast room, two pantries bedroom, bath and laundry room. The electric elevator connects all three floors.

Alterations include removal of seven walls to make larger rooms.

Resting on half a block, the Ada Thompson Memorial Home is remarkably well preserved and appears practically the same as when it was first constructed. Most of the doors in the house are marked with bronze dedication plaques.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Ada Thompson Memorial Home, located in Little Rock's historic Quapaw Quarter district, was built by donations from many of Little Rock's most prominent families. Founded in 1882, this home for elderly women served a vital community service until 1976. The ladies, many without any family, lived out their remaining years in this elegant home with the privacy and comfort that would be found in their own home. The Ada Thompson Memorial home is architecturally significant in its elegance, fine detail of design, and immense size. Designed by Frank Gibb and Theodore Sanders, two of Little Rock's most prominent architects, and constructed in 1909, the house reflects the Beaux Arts tradition. The house has been remarkably well preserved.

This home for elderly was founded in 1882 and was initially named Old Ladies Home of Little Rock." On April 16, 1882, Mrs. R. L. Dodge, Mrs. P. Jordan, Mrs. R. H. Johnson and Mrs. J. W. Peidelman was elected the first Board of Lady Guardians. As Col. Logan H. Roots made the first subscription of $500. he had the privilege of naming one of the guardians, and his selection was Mrs. Logan H. Roots, who was duly elected. On April 16, 1883, by-laws for the government of the home were approved. On April 17, 1883, Mrs. G. H. Van Etten and Miss Sophia Crease were elected to the Board of Lady Guardians. At the first meeting of the Board of Lady Guardians, at the home, on April 25, 1882, Dr. R. B. Christian was elected physician of the home. Miss Lauriett Ashley was the first of the charges of the home to actually take possession of her room in the home, and she did so on March 29, 1882."

"The Home is the outgrowth of a suggestion offered by Prof. Otis Patten in a paper read before the Bible club of the Presbyterian Church, on the evening of March 14, 1882. The matter at that time was referred to a committee to investigate and make inquiry in regard to the workings of similar charities, and on the evening of March 28th., at a regular meeting of the club, a reading of the minutes showed that the committee deemed such an institution both needed and practicable, so a constitution was adopted and signed by members, and on the evening of April 17th. officers were elected and the work begun."

"This institution is intended to afford a comfortable and permanent home to white women of Little Rock of unblemished moral character and, unless in exceptional cases, over sixty years of age. It is not a poor house, but, what the name implies, a quiet comfortable home for respectable old ladies who have outlived their near relatives and their means of support. They are fairly supposed to have done their share of the world's work, and to be entitled to shelter and support in their declining years."

Miss Jane Kellogg, who sold the first home at the southwest corner of east Seventh and Scott Streets, was a dominant force in the early development of the home. "The large house and valuable lot on which it stands were donated to the "Home" by Miss J. C. Kellogg-formerly a teacher in Little Rock - reserving a life annuity of $200. The house is two stories high, and contains thirteen good-sized rooms. It was handsomely painted last fall, and recently some of the rooms have been nicely papered." Her portrait currently is displayed in the Ada Thompson home.

The name was changed to the Jane Kellogg Home for Old Ladies in 1889 following her death.

Mrs. Ada Thompson Crutchfield, wife of a wealthy New York lawyer, in her will set aside a memorial of $20,000.00 for a memorial to her father and mother. Her uncle, Mr. E. G. Thompson was one of the early organizers and officers of the Old Ladies Home and the executor of his niece's estate on her death in 1904. Mrs. Crutchfield is buried at Mount Holly Cemetery.<sup>3</sup> The board accepted the money plus interest equaling $22,850 with the consideration attached, that the name be changed to the Ada Thompson Memorial Home.

"The old home on Seventh and Scott Streets was sold for $8,000.00 and three lots on the corner of Twenty-first and Main Streets were purchased for $6,000.00. The contract was let for construction of the Ada Thompson Memorial Home of pressed brick and stone to cost $20,600, and the plumbing, heating, and lighting in addition will make the building cost about $25,000."<sup>4</sup>

The Ada Thompson Home was completed in 1909. Ladies moved in soon after its completion and it has been continuously occupied until present day.

Because of the many prominent ladies that have resided at the Ada Thompson Home, it has been a prominent social center. Poetry readings, singing sessions, and social gatherings have been frequent. Mrs. Margaret Duncan, a resident of the Ada Thompson Home, wrote a poem concerning it:

THE ADA THOMPSON HOME

There is a lovely house on the hill-top
A picture of beauty and art,
Whose stately walls and columns,
Speak praise for a generous heart,
A heart that gave to the world
Not just a monument of stone
But a place where the aged finds retreat
As they walk life's twilight alone.
Tis not a place of sadness or want,
Comfort and plenty are there,
And she who enters its portals
Should praise God for its love and care.
Her path thru' the years of youth,
May have passed thru' lovely bowers,
Or she may have stumbled o'er jagged rocks,
As she toiled thru' working hours
Helping to build a sheltered home
For those who were left to her care
Forgetting that time has a subtle way
Of catching us in its snares.
Too soon the home was empty,
Too soon the loved ones were gone,
Too soon was she left frail and weary
As the busy world rushes on.
But a hand was held out from somewhere,
A guiding hand from God's dome
And it led her to the portals
Of the Ada Thompson Home.
There in her own sequestered room
With her treasures books and flowers,
She may pass if she will
In peace and love, the last of life's fleeting hours.

By: Margaret H. Duncan

In recent years because of rising costs and declining occupancy, it became necessary to sell the Home to its present owners. The eleven remaining residents were transferred to Presbyterian Village.

The Ada Thompson Memorial Home stands as a monument to the humanitarian spirit of Little Rock's people.

Re: Ada Thompson Memorial Home
Pulaski County

Dear Dr. & Mrs. Roy:

The staff of the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program is preparing a National Register nomination for the Ada Thompson Memorial Home which will be presented to the Arkansas State Review Committee at their December meeting. If approved, the nomination will be submitted to the National Register office in Washington for final consideration.

The National Register of Historic Places is a listing of historic sites, buildings, objects and districts from all across the country that are worthy of preservation.

Entry in the National Register is an honor which places no obligation on a private owner. It does, however, provide protection through comment by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation from federally financed, assisted or licensed projects that might affect a National Register property.

If you have any questions concerning the program or your property's nomination, please contact Sandra Taylor of our staff.

Enclosed are two copies of this letter. Please complete the form below, sign and return the original to our office. The copy is for your files. We would appreciate receiving any comments you might have concerning the nomination of this property. If we do not hear from you within 30 days, your approval will be assumed.

Sincerely,

Barbara Woodard

Barbara Woodard, Deputy Director
Arkansas Historic Preservation Program

I approve of the above property being nominated to the National Register of Historic Places.
