A black and white photograph of a small, dark-colored building with a prominent gable roof and a small square tower on top. The tower has a shingled roof. The building's facade is dark, and the words "LIBERTY COUNTY MUSEUM" are painted in large, white, block letters across the front. Below the text is a white double door with a transom window above it. A set of steps leads up to the door, flanked by white railings. The building is set against a light sky, and bare trees are visible in the background. The bottom of the building has a white base.
