In 1964 the church was refurbished. The coal shed was removed and a walnut cabinet was built for the organ blower in the nave of the church. At that time the church acquired its red carpet for the center aisle and sanctuary spotlight fixture (designed by the late Stig Gusterman) in the form of a Bishop's miter. The church holds regular services at this time and is always open to the public.

Although quaint, the architecture of Grace Épiscopal Church is perhaps more typical of church architecture in Western mining towns, than unique. However, the fact that the roof is steeper than most and the bell tower is at the side of the church instead of on the steep roof does help to set it apart.
