STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE:

The Mullen House, 515 North Cherry, along with its almost identical neighbors at 550 and 560 North Cherry, is a highly-articulate example of an intricately-detailed, middle-class, turn-of-the-century cottage in Magnolia. The three closely grouped residences maintain a perfect scale and relationship along North Cherry Street, and both individually and collectively, are significant for their historic streetscape, attention to Eastlake detail, and high degree of preservation. These cottages are the smallest extant residences constructed during Magnolia's turn-of-the-century building boom and show an extraordinary commitment to the decorative details expressed in Magnolia's magnificent Queen Anne residences.
