A black and white photograph of an elevator entrance. The door is dark and features a six-panel design. A sign above the door reads "ELEVATOR". The door is set within a decorative, light-colored frame with a beaded top edge. Above the frame is a decorative cornice. To the right of the door, a light-colored wall has a small circular vent near the bottom and a large, rectangular, light-colored cabinet or utility box mounted higher up. The floor is dark with a patterned border at the bottom of the frame.
