We cross the prairie as of old
The pilgrims crossed the sea,
To make the West, as they the East,
The homestead of the free.

We're flowing from our native hills
As our free rivers flow,
The blessing of our Mother-land
Is on us as we go.

We go to plant her common schools
On distant prairie swells,
And give the Sabbaths of the wild
The music of her bells.

Two large black display cases are mounted on a wall, each containing a collection of small, framed photographs and text. The cases are arranged side-by-side, with a central vertical column separating them. The photographs appear to be portraits of individuals, possibly students or faculty, arranged in rows. Below the photographs, there are several rectangular text panels, likely providing names and biographical information. The entire display is set against a wall with a decorative border at the top and a tiled pattern below.
