Verbal Boundary Description:

The nominated property is bounded by a set of imaginary lines that intersect to form a rectangle around the building. The northern boundary line lies 20 feet north of the north wall and runs parallel to that wall. The western boundary line lies 20 feet west of the west wall and runs parallel to that wall. The southern boundary line lies 20 feet south of the south wall and runs parallel to that wall. The eastern boundary line lies 20 feet east of the east wall and runs parallel to that wall. The property is located in Tract 1, S 1/2, NE 1/4 (Except N 33' and platted part). Unplatted Lands, Section 19, T101N R49W inside the city limits of Sioux Falls, Minnehaha County, South Dakota.

/ / see continuation sheet

Boundary Justification:

The boundary lines of the nominated property are set to include only the single building and to exclude any other surrounding features, which do not have sufficient integrity or significance to be eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

Surrounded by 40-, 50-, and 60-year old residences, the Presentation Children's Home is located on the corner of 15th Street and Western Avenue in the city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. It is a two-story brick and poured concrete institutional building with simplified Collegiate Gothic features. Due to the sloping landscape, the basement serves as the walk-in level on the west rear elevation. The main body of the building is an H-floor plan with double- and single-level extensions on the west elevation. Running bond masonry walls of red pressed brick rise from the eight-course concrete foundation, with the top course serving as a continuous first floor window sill. Separate concrete sills are found on the second floor windows.

Fenestration is symmetrical consisting of mostly double hung 8 over 8-light windows along the first and second floors, and 4 over 4-light windows along the basement level. A projecting, 1-story entrance is centrally located on the east front facade. Decorating the entrance are corner buttresses, a set of recessed doors with a fanlight, and a simple inset panel, parapet, and door surround of ornamental concrete. Two unique windows are located on the southern portion of the west rear elevation. The windows are rounded arch and elongated with stained and leaded glass and serve as the former chapel. Two skylights illuminate the basement level near the west rear entrance. As with many institutional structures, the roof is flat and is constructed with tar and gravel. A tall brick stack chimney is located on the west rear elevation.

Interior spaces remain relatively unaltered since the building's construction although the room functions have changed. The main north-south portion served as classrooms, offices, and bathrooms. The east-west bays of the H-floor plan are large open rooms: the northern portion serving as a large classroom with several smaller storage areas, and the southern portion serving as the previously mentioned chapel. Other rooms included a library, laundry, a large kitchen, storerooms, and a dining area. Minor remodeling by the Southeastern Vocational Technical Institute included the subdivision of several rooms to provide additional classroom spaces. The building has retained the original oak woodwork, tile floors, many of its doors, hardware, and light fixtures.

caps border the property on the east and north. Concrete sidewalks, trees, and shrubs are the other landscape features at the site.

The Presentation Children's Home is eligible under Criterion A of the National Register Criteria and is significant in the area of Architecture and Community Planning and Development. Built in 1939, the Presentation Children's Home derives its importance from its status as one of only a handful of orphanages in the State, and for the unique collaborative effort between the City of Sioux Falls and the Presentation Order of Sisters in the building's construction. The City of Sioux Falls served as the sponsor in order to gain the assistance of the federal government through the labor of the federal Works Progress Administration (WPA). The Presentation Children's Home was designed by the notable architectural firm of Hugill & Blatherwick of Sioux Falls. Under the South Dakota Historical Preservation Plan, the property relates to the historic context labeled: VII. Great Depression.

Founded in 1851, Sioux Falls grew very slowly until the end of the Civil War. By the time South Dakota achieved statehood in 1889, Sioux Falls was well established and functioned as a transportation hub, major retail center, and tourist stop. With the population growth, needs developed for the citizens of the City, as well as the State, and its children. Schools were the most plentiful and visible of the buildings provided for the children.

Serving a much smaller group, but much more in need, were the homeless and dependent children of the region. The small community of Turton located 160 miles north-northeast of Sioux Falls provided shelter for these children. From 1907-1932, the Little Flower Home served as both an orphanage and a Roman Catholic parochial school for the area surrounding Turton and the Diocese of Sioux Falls. Unfortunately on 21 March 1932, a fire broke out and destroyed the building, leaving 65-73 orphans homeless and 33 parochial students without a school. This fire left the orphans without a permanent place to live for eight years during the Great Depression.

During this time of transition the children lived at Graham Hall, Northern Normal College, Aberdeen for a short time, then at St. Joseph's School, Woonsocket for two years. In 1934, the Columbus College building in Sioux Falls was offered to the Presentation Order of Sisters as housing for the orphans. The children arrived by train that summer and the "Columbus Children's Home" was established. Even this building was a temporary solution because of the overcrowding. The Sisters approached the City officials to locate a permanent Home for the children, however none were available, suitable, or large enough. A building was needed specifically for the homeless and dependent children of the area.

In 1938, the Presentation Sisters approached the architectural firm of Hugill & Blatherwick to design permanent housing for the orphans, with an overall cost estimate of $100,000. The firm developed plans for an institutional structure with hints of Collegiate Gothic detailing. Collegiate Gothic is typified by the use of brick and terra cotta or concrete Gothic detailing and, as its name suggests, is most commonly found on college campuses. The Presentation Children's Home borrows the subtle details of corner buttresses, concrete fenestration detailing, and attention to the central front entrance.

The Presentation Children's Home was among the 167 new construction and remodeling projects undertaken from 1921-1946 by the architectural firm. Hugill & Blatherwick designed schools, civic buildings, residences, courthouses, and specialized institutional structures. The firm worked on numerous relief projects during the Great Depression. Hugill & Blatherwick eventually became Fritzel, Kroger, Griffen and Berg, which operates currently in Sioux Falls.

Beth Boland
National Register of Historic Places
National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior
800 N. Capitol St. NW
Suite 250
Washington, D.C. 20001

Dear Ms. Boland:

In reviewing the Department of the Interior final National Register notifications, I noticed the Presentation Children's Home in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Minnehaha County was listed with a restricted address. This appeared on the listings dated February 26, 1993. The building should not have a restricted address. The address should be listed as 701 S. Western Avenue, Sioux Falls, South Dakota 57104. This was an oversight on the nomination form itself, and the "not for publication" section should not be marked.

I hope this letter is sufficient to amend this error. If you need any further documentation please let me know and I will supply it to you as quickly as possible. Thank you for your help in this matter and please let me know if further documentation is required.

Sincerely,

J.R. Fishburne
