FORT PICKENS (FORT PICKENS STATE PARK) U.S. 98, 21A, west of Pensacola Beach Escambia County

Old brick Fort Pickens, built on the western tip of Santa Rosa Island to defend the important deepwater kabor of Pensacola against foreign attack, has been the scene of Santa Rosa Island to defend the important deepwater kabor of Pensacola against foreign attack, has been the scene of Santa Rosa Island to World War II.

Its major role was during the Civil War, when it remained one of three Southern forts (all in Florida) that the Confederates were unable to seize from the Federals.

Santa Rosa Island has been the location of may fortifications since the early 1700's. It was recognized by the Spanish, French, British, Confederates, and the United States Army and Navy as the key to the defense of Pensacola Harbor.

Pensacola was the capital of West Florida when the Florida territory was ceded to the United States in 1821. In anticipation of the selection of Pensacola as the principal United States naval depot of the Gulf of Mexico, the U.S. government built four forts in the area. Fort Pickens, completed in 1834, was named in honor of Brig. Gen. Andrew Pickens of the South Carolina State Troops in the American Revolution.

At the onset of the Civil War, the fort had been unoccupied for several years. The day Florida passed her ordinance of secession, Jan. 10, 1861, the fort became the Federal head-quarters. Confederates made several attempts to capture Fort Pickens, but all hostilities were stopped when they evacuated their holdings in the area in May of 1862. The Federals immediately took possession of the other deserted forts and the Navy Yard, and held Pensacola for the rest of the war.

As the war waned, Fort Pickens was used as a prison for military and political prisoners. In 1875, Congress again used Fort Pickens as a prison with the Apache, Geronimo, and some of his band being held there for two years after their capture in 1866.

Fort Pickens was an active coastal defense fortification during the Spanish-American War, and also was activated during the two World Wars.

I hereby certify that this property is included in the Fort Pickens, named in honor of Brig. Gen. Andrew Pickens, was completed in 1834. The fort was pentagonal in shape, with a bastion at each of the five corners. Each bastion was like a small independent fort, having its own guns and magazine. These bastions projected from the regular line of the fort walls so that they could set up cross fire with the facing bastion and prevent an enemy from attacking the fort walls.

The walls of Fort Pickens were 40 feet high and twelve feet thick. The fort was complete with protected passageways, a dry ditch, flanking outworks, and portholes for one tier of guns in bomb-proof casements with an additional tier of guns mounted on top of the walls (en barbette.) The armament of the fort was to consist of 252 guns of various types and calibers.

Present-day Fort Pickens looks much as it did in its early days. Recreational facilities for public use and enjoyment have been added by the Division of Recreation and Parks. A large picnic and swimming area, along with a fishing dock and boat launching ramp comprise the total park area.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Fort Pickens, built on the western tip of Santa Rosa Island to defend the important deepwater harbor of Pensacola against foreign attack, has been the scene of activities in every major conflict in which this country has been engaged, from the Civil War to World War II. This terrain was recognized by the Spanish, French, British and the United States as the key to the defense of Pensacola Harbor.

Fort Pickens was one of the few in the south from which the United States flag was never brought down during the Civil War. Although under intermittent cannon fire from its companion forts--McRee and Barrancas, both of which were in Confederate hands--Fort Pickens thwarted a Confederate land assault before the attackers ever approached the walls of the fort.

At the onset of the Civil War, the fort had been unoccupied for several years. The day Florida passed her ordinance of secession, January 10, 1861, the fort became the Federal headquarters. Confederates attempted several times to capture Fort Pickens, but all hostilities were stopped when they evacuated their holdings in this area in May, 1862. The Federals immediately took possession of the Navy Yard and other deserted forts, and held Pensacola for the rest of the war.

As the Civil War waned, Fort Pickens was used as a prison for military and political prisoners. Notable among prisoners held at the fort, is the Apache, Geronimo, who along with some of his band was held for two years after being captured in 1866.
