Mrs Maggie L. Walker:
My Dear Sister:

It is with a sad heart that I learn of your painful accident; and sincerely trust it will not prove serious. You indeed have my deepest and true sympathy in these hours which you are compell to spend quietly in bed. Yet I know you will have patience to bear your misfortune knowing that God doth all things well. This accident will cause you to get the real rest you so much need from years of constant toil for your race. O! if we only had more courageous Quaggy J. Walkers as Leaders for our people. Don't worry about business or anything.

Simply trust in the Lord to restore you to health again. Let us hope for the best and look on the bright side of life always.
Each cloud has a silver lining. Wishing for you a speedy recovery.
