

W. & L. E. Gurley Building
Fulton Street between Fifth & Union
Troy, New York

Photo No. 1

By: George R. Adams, AASLH

Neg. at: HSS, NPS

Date: November 1977

View: From southwest, showing west
(Fifth Avenue) and south (Fulton
Street) facades.

W. & L. E. Gurley Building
Fulton Street bet. Fifth & Union
Troy, New York

Photo No. 2

By: George R. Adams, AASLH

Neg. at: HSS, NPS

Date: November 1977

View: From southwest, showing west and south facades. Parker House is visible to left and East Building
is visible to right.

W. & L. E. Gurley Building
Fulton Street bet. Fifth & Union
Troy, New York

Photo No. 3

By: George R. Adams, AASLH

Neg. at: HSS, NPS

Date: November 1977

View: From southwest, showing west and south facades. Parker House is visible to left and East Building
is visible to right.

W. & L. E. Gurley Building
Fulton Street bet. Fifth & Union
Troy, New York

Photo No. 4

By: George R. Adams, AASLH

Neg. at: HSS, NPS

Date: November 1977

View: From southeast, showing south
(Fulton Street) and West (Union Street) facades. East Building is to right.

W. & L. E. Gurley Building
Fulton St. between Fifth & Union
Troy, New York

Photo No. 5

By: George R. Adams, AASLH

Neg. at: HSS, NPS

Date: November 1977

View: Interior, showing one of Edward Arms' early circular dividing engines.

W. & L. E. GURLEY
ENGINEERING & SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS

W. & L. E. GURLEY
ENGINEERING & SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS

1578 W. 4th St.

W. & L. E. Gurley Building
Fulton St. between Fifth & Union
Troy, New York

Photo No. 6

Courtesy: Teledyne Gurley and by Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., Public Relations.

Date: circa 1970

View: From southwest, showing west
(Fifth Avenue) and south (Fulton
Street) facades.