The Jefferies House is a one and one-half story frame cottage of exceptional quality. The main house is of the center hall plan with four rooms. A kitchen wing and a bedroom wing have been added to the house, in 1927, and do not detract from its appearance. The heavy overhanging portico is supported by six square columns and is panelled with flush siding. Two small windows are centered in the gable. The cornice and verge-board are flat with shallow brackets supporting a narrow fascia. The bracket detail is continued in the gable end of the pediment. The siding, with the exception of the front elevation is clapboard. The house has flat corner boards, and simple window trim of the Greek Revival period. The entrance is a panelled door with flanking side lights and a fixed transom.

Interior detail is almost all original and Greek Revival in design, including excellent doorways, an enclosed stairway and four fireplaces with good carved mantels. Floors in the original section are of wide pine, ceilings are pine and walls are wood and plaster. The grounds and the house are in excellent condition.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Include Personages, Dates, Events, Etc.)

The Jeffries House was built for Augustine Hansell in 1852-53 by Thomas County and Thomaskille's most important architect, John Wind. Hansell was Mayor in 1859, a Judge of the Superior Court of the Southern Judicial Circuit and a lieutenant in the Thomasville Guards. He organized the Thomas Reserves and was commander of one of Thomas County's Militia Companies.

The house is now owned by Mrs.M.H.Jefferies.grand-daughter of Hansell, and the house has been in the same family since it was built.It is one of the three best 'cottages' in Thomasville. Perkerson, M.F. White Columns in Georgia, pp306
